(East Oregonian Special.) DUNCAN, Feb. 7.—Wendell Brown, the second trick operator at Duncan has been suffering with la grippe but is convalescing slowly and able to tend to his duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Botcher, the forest rangers, made a visit to Pendleton Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Hazel Foster, daughter of Mrs. Woods, an agent at Duncan, is visiting her mother.

Frank Bryant, the section foreman has been very busy with his crew to permit passage to trains which have been hindered by snow storms.

Eugene McCann, the third trick operator, made a brief visit in town. Martin McLaughlin is very anxious for spring to arrive after a long siege of feeding his stock on hay.

The hills at Duncan are getting bare and we sure hope for spring.

Jack Swartz has been visiting in Washington, but is soon expected to return to Duncan where his family resides.

The deer are seen very close to the bottom of the creek in bands of 30 and 40 from the station, wandering on the hillsides.

THE STRUGGLE

Life is a struggle for peace. A longing for rest. A hope for the battles to cease. A dream for the best; And he is not living who stays Contented with things Unconcerned with the work of the days And all that it brings.

He is dead who sees nothing to change.

No wrong to make right; Who travels no new way or strange In search of the light; Who never set out for a goal That he sees from afar; For content is his indifferent soul With things as they are.

Life isn't rest, it is toil. It is building a dream. It is filling a parcel of soil Or leading a stream; It is pursuing the light of a star That but dimly we see. And in wrestling from things as they are The joy that should be.

LIVE NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 7.—Federal commissioners investigating proposed sites for naval bases are in Portland today, having arrived from Astoria, where they inspected the Astoria location. The visit here was unexpected. Boosters for a base at the mouth of the Columbia believe that the commissioners are giving it favorable consideration, and ascribe this as the motive for the investigating body's second visit.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 7.—Oregon entered the much dryer than dust class today. At 4 p. m. the five days of grace allowed for obtaining booze shipments after Governor Withycombe signed the prohibition law expired. On the stroke of four Old Man Deacon Rum shook the dust of Oregon from his feet and his cloven hoof and hopped the Brimstone Special for Hades.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 7.—Erin go brought green flags will be popular at a boxing exhibition to be staged here tonight. The Sons of the Old Sod have certainly taken possession of the local prize ring with a vengeance.

The gentlemen who will engage in the sport of fistcuffs bore the following names: Jimmy Maloney, Harry Casey, Earl Conner, Eddie Quinn, Jack Shaughnessy, Martin Foley and Frankie Sullivan. Hurray for Ireland!

SALEM, Or., Feb. 7.—Cigarettes may be under the law's ban in Oregon before the legislature adjourns. The anti-cigarette bill is before the houses this week. It is designed primarily to protect boys from getting the habit, but in order to do that many believe that it will be necessary to prohibit the manufacture and sale of the "pills" in Oregon altogether.

However, the lawmakers will have to figure out a way of stopping the "roll their own" brigade. "Tailor made" cigarettes will probably be ordered in large quantities from California if the law is passed with a provision for such shipments.

BROKERS NOW BLAMING LEAK ON EACH OTHER

F. A. CONNOLLY E. F. HUTTON

Edward F. Hutton, of E. F. Hutton & Company, Wall Street broker, told the "leak" committee that his first information about the contents of the president's message to the powers had come to him from the Washington brokerage house of F. A. Connolly & Company. And on that information he wired to forty-five correspondents throughout the country. But Mr. Connolly, of whose firm R. W. Bolling, brother of Mrs. Wilson, is a member, said the first information he had was from Hutton & Company of New York.

"LILAC DOMINO" IS FINE ATTRACTION

There is no deep purple about the "Lilac Domino," it is just a dash of delicate lavender, frilled about with tulle and topped off with lots of real fun. It is pleasant to take and the audience at the Oregon last night could repeatedly for more. The leading roles are well handled and the comedians are clever without being vulgar. The dancers are graceful and appear happy in their work. The voices, though not wonderful, are trouper these days. The capacity audience last night found no disappointments in the colorful creation or any part thereof.
