

Social and Personal

The home of Mrs. Charles Norris will be the scene Saturday of a meeting of the Research club. Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Raymond Match being hostesses for the affair.

The United Artists have chosen the smaller Eagle-Woodmen hall for their meeting place and last evening a delightful session was enjoyed there. Election of officers was followed by a social hour and the serving of a light, informally enjoyed supper. The following members were chosen to head the lodge during the coming year: George Edmunds, master; Mrs. Minnie Kissenner, superintendent; Charles DuPuis, inspector; Mrs. Louise F. Lampkin, secretary; Joseph P. Walker, treasurer; Henry Thompson, senior conductor; W. H. Rahe, master of ceremonies; Felix Duke, junior conductor; J. M. McElroy and Mrs. Winnie, field commanders.

Miss Annie Rowen, of Co. Iowa, arrived on delayed No. 17 last evening to be a guest at the home of her cousin, Mrs. F. M. Elmer. Miss Rowen will remain in Pendleton for several days en route to California for a more extended stay. She plans to visit also Portland and way points.

Guests sufficient to make up seven tables of Bridge enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman G. Rice when they were hosts to members of the Fortnightly Bridge club and a few additional friends. Crispin candles burned in the attractive rooms and bright appointments suggestive of the holiday season marked a supper which followed the play, guests finding their partners by uniquely arranged cards bearing the names of states and their capitals.

High score honors fell to Miss Laura Gerard and Roscoe L. Keator, both guests of the club for the evening. Others, besides members who were asked to share the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Rice were Mrs. Keator, Mr. and Mrs. W. Swartzberg, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Green, Dr. and Mrs. Gay L. Boyden, Miss Tess Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Warner and James Bowler.

There will be no meeting of the Catholic Ladies Guild this evening as scheduled.

A meeting of the Want-to-Come club scheduled for tomorrow at the home of Mrs. C. O. Bybee on Bush street, has been postponed because of illness in the Bybee family. The date of the meeting has not yet been set.

Miss Minnabell Jones left on Sunday for Spokane where she will spend a few days with friends in that city. She will go from Spokane to Seattle, where she will be joined by Miss Pauline Jones and Mrs. D. W. Bailey. They expect to spend the holiday season there, visiting relatives and friends.

In conformance with the spirit of the mayor's proclamation asking conservation of fuel, the Blue Lodge of Masons have cancelled their dancing party scheduled for tomorrow evening in Eagle-Woodman hall.

Miss Eleanor Hunt of Portland today became the bride of Emil Beck, well known young Pendleton business man, the ceremony taking place in the Willamette valley city. After a short wedding trip the couple will return to Pendleton to make their home. They are expected to arrive Monday.

Miss Irma Rutherford of Helix returned yesterday from Red Wing, Minnesota. She plans to spend part of the holiday season here and part in Helix, returning early in the new year.

A pre-Christmas bazaar scheduled for Friday evening at Moose hall by the Busy Bee club of the Maccabees has been indefinitely postponed. A date for the event will be chosen after the fuel crisis has passed.

LANE COUNTY HOPMEN STILL SET OUT LARGE CROPS, SEEING PROFIT

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 10.—Lane county hopmen have set out large acreages of hops this fall, according to Frank Meyer, pioneer buyer of this city. Mr. Meyer says growers throughout the valley, assured by present prices, are convinced that there is enormous profit in the crop.

Several hundred acres of hops in Lane county were dug up within the past few years, only a few of the growers in this locality remaining in the business. Seay Bros. and J. W. Thornbury are among the larger growers around Eugene who have stayed with the business and they have prospered. Mr. Meyer this year paid 50 to 75 cents a pound for hops.

"At these prices the larger growers have become almost independently rich," said Mr. Meyer yesterday. "Of course, the cost of growing the crop is far greater than it was a number of years ago, but prices have advanced more than the cost of production."

Mrs. Kenneth McKee dispensed charming hospitality yesterday when a group of friends were asked in with their needlework for a few informal hours, followed by a light luncheon. The guests finding their places at a pretty table by unique favors. Miss Esther Jenkins and Miss Vashita Hoskins assisted the hostess in serving and her guests included: Mrs. L. L. Rogers, Mrs. Elmer Baer, Mrs. H. E. Inlow, Mrs. Brownlow, Mrs. Theodore Remboldt, Mrs. Joe Cox, Mrs. S. A. Newberry, Mrs. Floyd Croup, Mrs. W. Schwartzberg, Mrs. Ida Fowler, Mrs. Elmer McCormack, Mrs. Fred Lieutell and Mrs. James Dunham.

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N. Y.—"When my first child was born I did not know about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspaper about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and childbirth was a hundred times easier. Ever since then I have used it and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound and it keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so."—Mrs. C. WESTMORELAND, Harrison, N. Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, aches, backache, headaches and nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous tonic and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, and for special advice

May Condemn Houses
LEWISTON, Ida., Dec. 10.—All schools, motion picture houses and non-essential industries may be closed here to save fuel. The city council is today considering such action.

Business houses may be required to shorten their day to six hours. Condemnation of various wooden shacks, and half burned houses in many sections of the city is seriously considered by the council. It is proposed to wreck the buildings and turn over the lumber to poor families.

CHIN CHIN PRESENTS BRILLIANT SPECTACLE

In Charles Dillingham's tuneful comedy "Chin Chin" made familiar in New York by the several successful seasons of Montgomery and Stone, the scenes are laid in China, giving opportunity for a display of silks, satins and velvet, dear to the feminine eye. The scenic effects are as beautiful as the costumes, making up a spectacle of great brilliancy and kaleidoscopic charm.

The book is written about the old Arabian nights tale of Aladdin and his famous lamp, with variations suited to the Chinese setting. The two leading comedians, Walter Mills and Roy Binder, take the parts made famous by Montgomery and Stone, and do their work so well that they keep their audience in a roar of laughter. Joseph Robinson as Aladdin was in the original cast and so was Daisy Violet Tree who takes the part of Pan-Pan so well. The specialties introduced between the acts were of a high order of excellence.

Miss Monahan, who is the leading singer, has the part of the Goddess of the Lamp. She is a young woman of attractive personality, handsomely gowned, and with a clear and sweet soprano voice admirably fitted to the requirements of this role. Her two solos, "Violets" and "The Gray Dove," are rendered with much feeling and with the enthusiastic applause of her hearers.

The chorus is large and well trained. "Chin Chin" is especially strong in its musical features, one being a Saxophone sextette.
