LATEST EASTERN NEWS.
Dates to May 3.

Cairo, May 2.—It is reported that Paducah is again threatened. Measures are being taken to prevent the Government property from falling into the hands of the enemy should they again advance on that place. It is said that over 1000 people from the country above Paducah, and contrabands are encamped within a radius of ten miles on the opposite side of the river from that city.

Washington, May 2.—The affidavits taken by the sub-committee on the conduct of the War at Fort Pillow, show conclusively that some of the negroes were buried alive. The deposition of one was taken, who was dug out of his own grave. There is no doubt of the fact that one or more prisoners were nailed through the flesh to pieces of wood and then buried alive. Not only on the day of surrender, were such heinous acts perpetrated, but next day in cold blood. The victims seen by the committee were pierced and cut in the face with bayonets and swords, while other parts of their bodies were disfigured either by steel or lead.

Harrisburg, May 2.—Gov. Curtin received positive assurance from the War Department, that the Pennsylvania reserves will be mustered out of the service at the end of the first year from the time they enlisted in the State service. They did not enter the Federal service till two months after they were sworn into the service. They come home to recruit and re-enlist. Their return, however, will be a loss to Grant of five thousand of his most effective men for the greater portion of the summer campaign.

New York, May 3.—The Herald's special says that Gen. Lee does not design falling back on Richmond, but is concentrating all his forces at Orange Court House. A special to the Times says Congress is now ready to adjourn as soon as the tariff and internal revenue bills have been acted on or passed in the committee. Several members of the House were in the Senate yesterday, to urge the Senators to adopt the House resolution fixing the last day of May as the time for the adjournment. The Naval and Civil appropriation bills with the Senate amendments, were considered by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday. It is believed that they will be reported to the House to-morrow.

BOISE STAGE LINE.—Messrs. Thomas & Co.'s line of Stages running between this city and the Boise mines are making their regular trips, and always "come to time." Pickers and teamsters complain that the old emigrant road is in an almost impassible condition, but we hear no grumbling from the stage men. The stages go and come loaded down with passengers, making remarkably quick time, and although the roads may be in a bad condition for some, we feel assured that the Stage Company find no serious impediment to travel, for "nothing stops them." Too much praise cannot be awarded to the proprietors of the line for the promptness and energy they have displayed in putting this line in successful operation. Many persons thought the enterprise would result in a failure, because it was asserted that the roads were impracticable and that stock could not stand traveling over such rough country; but these predictions are now proved to have been groundless. The line was put in operation at a season of the year when the roads were in the worst condition, yet the trips were made with great regularity and with comparatively little impediment to travel. The road across the Blue Mountains, too, was new, and consequently heavy and rough in places, but considerable work has been done on that section of the route recently. Bridges have been built, and the steep banks and rough places graded down, so that the whole line is now in very good traveling condition. In a short time the roads will be dry the whole length of the route and in splendid order, and passengers will find the journey much pleasanter than in early spring. So far, we have heard of no accidents, no common mountain roads, such as "upsets," smashed stages, broken arms, bruised heads, etc., and we hope the road is too good to admit of such occurrences.—Walla Walla Statesman.

The Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco appear to be determined to get up a grand fair in that city in August next. Agents have been appointed to solicit contributions in the Sandwich Islands, Vancouver's and Oregon.

SALUTARIS!
SALUTARIS!
SALUTARIS!

"Non est vivere sed valere vita."
Man is mortal, because no human being is physically perfect. Could a man with a frame perfectly complete, and free from the germs of organic disease be found, that man might live forever. To prolong life two things are requisite: First, that the physical organization be sound; second, that the laws of Nature be observed and the tone of the vital functions maintained. A constitution originally unsound and affected by organic disease, cannot be restored to pristine strength and perfect health, by any medicine. But where no organic disease exists, a genuine Tonic, which repairs the waste of the vital functions, is of inestimable worth. The SALUTARIS BITTERS is such a Tonic. It is a Tonic—not a mere stimulant. The difference is momentous, almost inappreciable. A stimulant supplies temporary strength followed by speedy reaction, which leaves the unfortunate subject in a worse state than that in which it found him. By the use of ordinary stimulants, the sick man may be excited for an hour or a day, to a delusive strength and evanescent exhilaration. All consciousness of weakness, depression and pain, vanishes for the moment, but only to be succeeded by a more complete and hopeless prostration. The use of stimulants, begets the absolute necessity of their continued use, until the wretched victim is reduced to a condition so forlorn that stimulants cease to stimulate! Then all is over, and death is inevitable. But with a Tonic, the case is far otherwise. A Tonic produces not a temporary exhilaration, but a permanent increase of strength and vitality. A genuine Tonic, strengthens the vital functions, and is followed by no reaction. It is confidently claimed for the SALUTARIS BITTERS, that it is a genuine Tonic, and not a stimulant, and that in all cases of nervous debility, of torpor, or weakness of the Digestion, of incipient Dyspepsia or sluggishness of the Circulation, of depression of the Vital Functions, it is the best remedy ever discovered. SALUTARIS will not raise the dead; it will not remove organic disease; it will not cure the incurable; it is no panacea; but in all cases where a Tonic is required, it is the BEST TONIC now known. SALUTARIS has no powerful regulative effect on the bowels; if properly used, it is a certain cure for all curable cases of constiveness. Where a clearly defined tendency to constiveness is developed, its regular use is an unfailing remedy. SALUTARIS is an invaluable medicine for female complaints. It has all the beneficial effects of the best Holland gin, without being liable to the objections against that beverage. When taken by females for this specific purpose, it should be mixed with water in equal quantities. SALUTARIS is an almost instantaneous remedy for heart-burn, and the disagreeable symptoms that sometimes follow an excessive meal. When employed in such cases it should be taken pure. For ages, the great problem proposed by medical men has been to discover a Tonic which should be free from the reactionary properties of those stimulants which are in everyday use. In the SALUTARIS BITTERS this desideratum has at length been found. It furnishes a healthy, and not a morbid stimulus. The happy effects which it produces are permanent, not temporary; real, not apparent. Its tendency is to assist Nature, not outrange her. Where it can effect no cure, it can assuredly do no harm. Its regular and continued use will cure all diseases of the Liver, where they are curable, and alleviate them where they cannot be cured. As an appetizer, SALUTARIS is unequalled. Directions for use accompany every bottle.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATE:
Messrs. IRVINE & CANTRELL—We have carefully examined the recipe by which your SALUTARIS BITTERS is prepared, and take pleasure in stating that it is a healthy, agreeable Tonic and Aperient—a promoter of appetite and digestion, invaluable to those afflicted with dyspepsia, it contains nothing but those agents which time and experience have proved to act beneficially upon the human system, when a genuine Tonic is required.
