

PERSHING TELLS OF LAST BATTLE OF WAR BEFORE COMMITTEE

Washington, Nov. 6.—The first official report of the last battle of the war was made public late yesterday when General John J. Pershing detailed before the joint senate and house military affairs committee the activities of the American armies in France on the day of the armistice.

The statement was made in response to a question as to why there was some fighting on the American fronts after eleven o'clock on November 11.

"I was notified late on the night of the tenth," said General Pershing, "by courier from General Foch's headquarters, that the Germans would sign the next morning at 11 o'clock. The agreement was to fight right up to the minute they signed. The purpose of this was two fold: first to encourage their signatures and second because we did not trust them or their motives."

"At six o'clock on the morning of the eleventh I was in touch with General Foch's headquarters by special communication and informed that instructions were that the Germans would sign as agreed."

"Instructions were issued to cease firing at 10:59 on the morning of the eleventh."

"From the moment the instructions went out until 11 o'clock every shell that was possible to send over into the German trenches was fired."

Pershing hesitated, lost in meditation and arousing himself, continued in a low voice:

"At 11 o'clock firing ceased. The war was over, and I was glad, I hope it is the last."

Pershing explained the reason for a few stray shots being fired by the Americans after 11 o'clock.

"Some of the advance troops had gone so far into the enemy's territory that it was impossible for word to reach them by that hour," he said.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Plans of the radicals in Hammond's East Chicago, Indiana Harbor and Gary to hold a monster celebration in East Chicago November 7 and 8, in honor of the second anniversary of the birth of bolshevism in Russia, have gone awry.

FEVERISH ACTIVITY IN BUILDING PLANES EXPLAINED BY BOARD

Washington, Nov. 6.—The present reported feverish activity for development of commercial aeronautics of certain nations is nothing more than a race for supremacy in armaments, declared a report submitted by a special board which Secretary Baker appointed to investigate creation of a separate executive department of military aeronautics.

The board, composed of Major General Menoher, Coe, Haan and Snow, said that in future war aeronautics will play an increasingly important role but because of the short life of aircraft and the great cost of production and maintenance, no nation can maintain in peace time air fleets even approximating war time requirements.

Federal aid and control of aeronautics was recommended along the following lines:

- 1—Furnishing weather reports to air fleets.
- 2—National and international regulation of air traffic.
- 3—Licensing of pilots.
- 4—Inspection and licensing of aircraft.
- 5—Standardization of signals and maps.
- 6—Enactment of accident and insurance laws.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO ROBBERY 15 PLACES

Portland, Nov. 5.—Arrested early this morning while wandering around the "North End" in a suspicious manner, Ralph Stephan, 19, is said by the police to have confessed to 15 robberies in Portland recently.

Stephan, according to the officials, admitted robbing one church, here three times, receiving $120 in war savings stamps on one occasion.

The youth told the police he gathered considerable loot in a local high school building one night and wandering into the anatomy class room, flashed his light on a skeleton, which so frightened him that he dropped all his loot and fled.

Since Tuesday, November 11, is "Armistice day," the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club announced for that day will be postponed until Thursday, November 13, at 7:30 p. m., in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. A cordial invitation is extended to all business and professional women to attend this meeting, and those wishing to enroll as charter members of the club at that time will be permitted to do so. Many questions of interest will be discussed, and a large attendance is hoped for.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid argon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid argon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work. (Adv)

Rheumatism Prevented Him Using Arms To Feed Himself. Recommends 40

Augusta, Ga., May 20, 1919. "I suffered with rheumatism and indigestion and at times could not use my arms to feed myself. I tried every remedy I heard of with only temporary relief. I was advised to try Number 40 for the Blood which I did with splendid results. While I am not entirely well I feel like a different man and expect to continue. Number 40, believing it will cure me. I have told several of my friends of 40, which they are taking with great results. I cheerfully recommend No. 40 to any one suffering from any blood or stomach trouble." Criticism and Citizenship

It is the plain, public duty of every citizen to criticize proposed government measures believed to be harmful.

Swift & Company is in a better position perhaps, than others, to understand the meat packing business in all its relations to public and private interests, even though the others may have been giving the subject a great deal of sincere attention.

Swift & Company is convinced that interference with its legitimate business function by governmental agencies, however well intentioned, would be an injury to every man, woman and child who wants meat to eat, as well as to the men who raise the meat and to those who dress and distribute it.

Maximum service that cannot monopolize because of keen competition and lack of control over sources of supply is furnished at a minimum of profit—a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources.

Therefore Swift & Company is taking every legitimate step of citizenship to prevent such interference.

These advertisements are intended to help you, and to help Congress decide what is best to be done. Mistakes are costly and apt to be harmful in these trying times.
