mother, if undisturbed, end-lead her flock to the shore. This march to the sea is to the duckings what teething is to the human infants, the most "trying" time of their lives, for they are exposed to the at-tacks of birds of prey and other memies. Usually the islanders interfere again at this point, but now their interference benefits the ducks as well as themselves. They gather the down and carry the ducklings in baskets to the shore, the old ducks following them very contentedly. When the shore is reached the baskets
