

Catarrh

It is a constitutional disease. Its origin and dependence on that condition. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach. It is always radically and permanently cured by blood-purifying, alternative and tonic action of

Good's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

Good's Pills are the best cathartic.

X-Ray Not in It

"As I understand it, an X-ray will go right through a man's head. There is nothing else quite so penetrating, is there?"

"Oh, I don't know. Did you ever hear my daughter sing?"—Tit Bits.

It Cures While You Walk

Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight and new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and swollen, tired, aching feet. Try it today. At all drug stores. Trial package mailed FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Lenoir, N. Y.

Often the Case

"They say his wife drove him to drink."

"Perhaps she did but from what I know of him I think he would have been awfully disappointed if she hadn't."—Chicago Post.

How to Get a Sample

If you are particular about the spices you use and want to try the brand which is par excellence, send us two 2-cent stamps with the name of your grocer, and we will send you by mail a 10-cent tin of Monopole White Pepper or Cayenne or Ginger or other variety you may select. We only want you to try them, for that will make you know their strength and pungency and purity better than anything else. Address Wadhams & Kerr Bros., Portland, Oregon.

Her Position

Mrs. Parke—What kind of servants do you prefer—white or black, Irish or German?

Mrs. Lane—I've gotten beyond that. I'm looking for servants that prefer me.—Puck.

Better than gold—like it in color—Hamlin's Wizard Oil, which cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia and every pain. 50c.

A Hard One

The eminent Boston professor who declares that there can be no more languages invented has probably not heard of the Georgetown man with a hare lip who is teaching a parrot to talk.—Washington Post.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

An Unfavorable Symptom

"You have what I call a quinine cough," said the doctor, proceeding to mix a dose of medicine for his caller. "And a quinine cough, I suppose," wheezed the patient, "is a sort of a Peruvian bark."—Youth's Companion.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal medicine. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, price 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

An Estimate of Art

"Have you ever written anything that you were ashamed of," inquired the severe relative.

"No," answered the author. "But I hope to some day. I need the money."—Washington Star.

FITS

Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first trial. Send for FREE S. S. S. 50c trial bottle and treatise. Dr. R. H. Kane, Ltd., 101 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Good Guess

"He is a terrible human hater."

"Yes; I suspect that at some time he must have been a floor walker in a department store."—Puck.

The Cabbage Cure

Cabbage is an old cure for drunkenness. The Egyptians ate it boiled before their other food if they intended to drink wine after dinner, and some of the remedies sold as a preventative of intoxication on the continent are said to contain cabbage seed.

The Oldest and Best.

S. S. S. is a combination of roots and herbs of great curative powers, and when taken into the circulation searches out and removes all manner of poisons from the blood, without the least shock or harm to the system. On the contrary, the general health begins to improve from the first dose, for S. S. S. is not only a blood purifier, but an excellent tonic, and strengthens and builds up the constitution while purging the blood of impurities. S. S. S. cures all diseases of a blood poison origin, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Herpes and similar troubles, and is an infallible cure and the only antidote for that most horrible disease, Contagious Blood Poison.

A record of nearly fifty years of successful cures is a record to be proud of. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever. It numbers its friends by the thousands. Our medical correspondence is larger than ever in the history of the medicine. Many write to thank us for the great good S. S. S. has done them, while others are seeking advice about their cases. All letters receive prompt and careful attention. Our physicians have made a life-long study of Blood and Skin Diseases, and better understand such cases than the ordinary practitioner who makes a specialty of no one disease.

We are doing great good to suffering humanity through our consulting department, and invite you to write us if you have any blood or skin trouble. We make no charge whatever for this service.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

PEST OF THE SUMMER

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE MOSQUITO.

Hatches in Stagnant Water, Passes Through Three Stages of Life and Becomes a Busy Seeker After Blood—Disseminator of Disease.

There are a few facts which may in the future be incorporated in the biography of the mosquito, facts which have been collected partly by the inquiry of scientists, and partly by the observations of laymen who live in sections where the pestiferous insect thrives in great numbers. The mosquito is observed in three different forms, as an egg, in larvae, as a wiggle-tail, and as a mosquito with wings. Eggs are hatched by the warmth of the sun. One mosquito may lay 1,000,000 eggs. Often many of these eggs are destroyed. Mosquitoes cannot propagate without the aid of water. The eggs are deposited on the surface of the water. Eggs hatch within a few weeks after they are deposited by the female. They develop wiggle-tails, the curious forms of life often found in the rain barrels, cisterns, in gutters filled with stagnant water and in stagnant pools. In this wiggle-tail stage of its development the mosquito breathes through his tail. He spends this part of his life in rushing to and from the surface of the water. When he reaches the surface, with head down, he shoves two delicate syphons through the water level, supplies his lungs with the needed air and dives under the water again, where he sucks in the vegetable juices necessary to his sustenance. He remains a wiggle-tail for a week or ten days, when his wings develop and he becomes a navigator of the air and sails forth to torment members of the human family and other animals. He is fond of animal blood. He needs it in his business. He cannot propagate without it. He also likes sugar. Blood, sugar and vegetable juices are his principal diet. A mosquito's food capacity is roughly estimated at one drop of blood. His dimensions are uncertain.

The gray mosquito, the day tormentor, is probably the smallest variety. He is of a very light weight, not tipping the beam at more than one-fourth of a grain, and often not weighing quite so much. Some of them are so light that when unfed that they will not disturb the balance of the most delicately poised scales. The small mosquito is the treacherous kind. He always lights on the under side of the hand or arm, apparently knowing that he is beyond the reach of the eye. He is the same fellow who will crawl under the edges of the bar or slip under the sheet. There is another and larger variety, a kind that will drop on you like a flake of snow. They land with their labium, or lance, unfolded and with point down, and they begin operations at once. While the mosquito of this brand weighs about one-half of a grain, he seems to have the tonnage and potentiality of a pile driver when he punctures the skin.

There are about 250 known varieties of mosquitoes in this section of the world. The mosquito's labium, the thing he stings with, is of uncertain length. It is as sharp as a needle, hollow like a hair, and it is through this that he sucks blood into his system. The mosquito cannot stand a strong wind. He seeks a low place when the wind is high. He never gets more than 100 yards from the place of his birth. The eggs are deposited on still, stagnant water. Otherwise they will be destroyed. The life of the mosquito covers a span of sixty days. As a disseminator of diseases, scientific men have agreed that his responsibility is very heavy.—New Orleans Democrat.

KEEP KISSES FOR ROYALTY.

Many comments were made because the German Emperor kissed Prince Henry when the latter returned from his recent visit to this country. As a matter of fact, although Emperor William is the greater kisser of men among the sovereigns of the world, he is also a hearty handshaker and the freest of all monarchs in this particular. Indeed, he and the King of Italy are the only supreme rulers who shake hands at all with other than brother sovereigns.

The Kaiser reserves his kisses for royalty exclusively. When he visits a monarch or receives a visit from one he salutes him with six kisses—three on either cheek. This sometimes before a crowd of thousands of onlookers, not to mention a regiment or so of soldiers.

BEARS THE SIGNATURE OF

Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAU COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS BOUGHT

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

SUMMER COLDS

Produce Chronic Catarrh.

scrawled on the rest of the surface. The fashion spread rapidly and the pillar boxes became full of these missives, which, from their shape, gave the unfortunate postmen and post-office officials an enormous amount of trouble. At last the authorities were forced to intervene, and it is now contrary to the regulations to use the little globes of celluloid for postal purposes.

Writing paper, or, indeed, paper of any kind, is usually at a premium among soldiers on active service. Many very curious substitutes have arrived from our army in South Africa. One of the commonest has been meale leaves. "Meales" is the South African name for maize. Round the maize cob grows a number of strong enveloping sheaths which, when dry, turn to a pale yellow color and can then be written upon.

After Colenso there was found grasped in the stiffened hands of a dead soldier a piece of leather with a dying message scrawled upon it with a stump of pencil. It was a layer of the sole of the dead man's boot, which had probably been loosened with much marching, and which he had contrived to rip off. It safely reached the poor fellow's family in England.

From the Philippines, too, some curious letters have been received by the friends of American soldiers, says London Tit-Bits. One of the most ingenious was a piece of native bamboo, about a foot long, on which an address had been carved with a penknife. The letter was inside this hollow tube, and held there by wooden pins at each end. The writer explained that he had found it impossible to get an envelope or to find any gum to make one, so he had recourse to this expedient.

"DOWN EAST" NAMES.

Odd Designations of Various Persons in the State of Maine.

There is in the northern part of Piscataquis County a most estimable family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ossian Calligan and their seven children. Three of the children are girls, and the remaining four, naturally enough, are boys. The boys were christened Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. While the daughters rejoice in the names of Faith, Hope and Charity. They are said to be among the most attractive young women in that section of the State. There is another Maine family which also deserves mention in this connection. They originally came from Virginia, and settled in the northwestern part of Hancock County soon after the war. Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Black are negroes of the darkest possible shade, and their five children are named as follows: Abraham Lincoln Black, Harriet Beecher Stowe Black, Hannibal Hamlin Black, Julia Ward Howe Black, and Ulysses Grant Black. All of the family are still living, but the father and mother and Harriet are the only ones who now reside in Maine.

Native Pride

"The greatest race across the Atlantic that I ever heard tell of," began the old racing skipper.

"Is the Oirish, of course," interrupted Hooligan.—Catholic Standard Times.

An Experienced Angler

Ethel—Would you consider Percy Mockton a good catch?

Madge—Certainly; if all the others got a ray!—Puck.

Keeps Kisses for Royalty.

Many comments were made because the German Emperor kissed Prince Henry when the latter returned from his recent visit to this country. As a matter of fact, although Emperor William is the greater kisser of men among the sovereigns of the world, he is also a hearty handshaker and the freest of all monarchs in this particular. Indeed, he and the King of Italy are the only supreme rulers who shake hands at all with other than brother sovereigns.

The Kaiser reserves his kisses for royalty exclusively. When he visits a monarch or receives a visit from one he salutes him with six kisses—three on either cheek. This sometimes before a crowd of thousands of onlookers, not to mention a regiment or so of soldiers.

But the war lord will shake hands with almost anyone. He has a grip that is famous among his subjects, too, and the favor of his hand grasp is not assiduously sought by those who have had some experience with it. His Majesty has a big, strong hand, with muscles like iron. They have been cultivated by many years of sword exercise. His handshaker is one that is not soon forgotten, and when he greets a visitor with a handshake they say at court, "His Majesty has made another lasting impression."

This grip, it is only fair to say, he reserves for strong men. For the opposite sex he has a hand that is as soft as velvet and a courtesy that is elegant.

Vagaries of Memory

What is remembered depends, of course, much on individual temperament or intellectual tendency, but the incidents are always in the nature of milestones. Thousands of competent persons can never recollect a date, even when the day was of importance to themselves or when, as, for instance, when preparing for examination, they had specially tried to remember accurately.

An enormous number of people are embarrassed through life by a difficulty in recollecting faces, yet kings, policemen and artists rarely or never forget one. The present writer has reached the age when the difficulty of recalling names quickly becomes annoying, yet he never forgets the number of a house or shop if he has once heard or seen it. The broad truth is, says the London Spectator, that memory is almost as individual a possession as character and that the historian when quoting personal testimony must make up his own mind whether he is listening to Herodotus or to Mr. Every reader can fill in the blank.

Common sense extracts more solid comfort from life than genius does.

SUMMER COLDS

Produce Chronic Catarrh.

scrawled on the rest of the surface. The fashion spread rapidly and the pillar boxes became full of these missives, which, from their shape, gave the unfortunate postmen and post-office officials an enormous amount of trouble. At last the authorities were forced to intervene, and it is now contrary to the regulations to use the little globes of celluloid for postal purposes.

Writing paper, or, indeed, paper of any kind, is usually at a premium among soldiers on active service. Many very curious substitutes have arrived from our army in South Africa. One of the commonest has been meale leaves. "Meales" is the South African name for maize. Round the maize cob grows a number of strong enveloping sheaths which, when dry, turn to a pale yellow color and can then be written upon.

After Colenso there was found grasped in the stiffened hands of a dead soldier a piece of leather with a dying message scrawled upon it with a stump of pencil. It was a layer of the sole of the dead man's boot, which had probably been loosened with much marching, and which he had contrived to rip off. It safely reached the poor fellow's family in England.

From the Philippines, too, some curious letters have been received by the friends of American soldiers, says London Tit-Bits. One of the most ingenious was a piece of native bamboo, about a foot long, on which an address had been carved with a penknife. The letter was inside this hollow tube, and held there by wooden pins at each end. The writer explained that he had found it impossible to get an envelope or to find any gum to make one, so he had recourse to this expedient.

"DOWN EAST" NAMES.

Odd Designations of Various Persons in the State of Maine.

There is in the northern part of Piscataquis County a most estimable family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ossian Calligan and their seven children. Three of the children are girls, and the remaining four, naturally enough, are boys. The boys were christened Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. While the daughters rejoice in the names of Faith, Hope and Charity. They are said to be among the most attractive young women in that section of the State. There is another Maine family which also deserves mention in this connection. They originally came from Virginia, and settled in the northwestern part of Hancock County soon after the war. Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Black are negroes of the darkest possible shade, and their five children are named as follows: Abraham Lincoln Black, Harriet Beecher Stowe Black, Hannibal Hamlin Black, Julia Ward Howe Black, and Ulysses Grant Black. All of the family are still living, but the father and mother and Harriet are the only ones who now reside in Maine.

Native Pride

"The greatest race across the Atlantic that I ever heard tell of," began the old racing skipper.

"Is the Oirish, of course," interrupted Hooligan.—Catholic Standard Times.

An Experienced Angler

Ethel—Would you consider Percy Mockton a good catch?

Madge—Certainly; if all the others got a ray!—Puck.

Keeps Kisses for Royalty.

Many comments were made because the German Emperor kissed Prince Henry when the latter returned from his recent visit to this country. As a matter of fact, although Emperor William is the greater kisser of men among the sovereigns of the world, he is also a hearty handshaker and the freest of all monarchs in this particular. Indeed, he and the King of Italy are the only supreme rulers who shake hands at all with other than brother sovereigns.

The Kaiser reserves his kisses for royalty exclusively. When he visits a monarch or receives a visit from one he salutes him with six kisses—three on either cheek. This sometimes before a crowd of thousands of onlookers, not to mention a regiment or so of soldiers.

But the war lord will shake hands with almost anyone. He has a grip that is famous among his subjects, too, and the favor of his hand grasp is not assiduously sought by those who have had some experience with it. His Majesty has a big, strong hand, with muscles like iron. They have been cultivated by many years of sword exercise. His handshaker is one that is not soon forgotten, and when he greets a visitor with a handshake they say at court, "His Majesty has made another lasting impression."

This grip, it is only fair to say, he reserves for strong men. For the opposite sex he has a hand that is as soft as velvet and a courtesy that is elegant.

Vagaries of Memory

What is remembered depends, of course, much on individual temperament or intellectual tendency, but the incidents are always in the nature of milestones. Thousands of competent persons can never recollect a date, even when the day was of importance to themselves or when, as, for instance, when preparing for examination, they had specially tried to remember accurately.

An enormous number of people are embarrassed through life by a difficulty in recollecting faces, yet kings, policemen and artists rarely or never forget one. The present writer has reached the age when the difficulty of recalling names quickly becomes annoying, yet he never forgets the number of a house or shop if he has once heard or seen it. The broad truth is, says the London Spectator, that memory is almost as individual a possession as character and that the historian when quoting personal testimony must make up his own mind whether he is listening to Herodotus or to Mr. Every reader can fill in the blank.

Common sense extracts more solid comfort from life than genius does.

Common sense extracts more solid comfort from life than genius does.

Strange Misapprehensions.

Borus—How do you like that last poem of mine?

Nagus—First rate. It's so restful, so soothing, don't you know.

Borus—Restful! Great Scott, man! It's an epic!

Nagus—Good Heavens! I thought it was a lullaby.

His Good Wife.

Dr. Price—Your husband's trouble is melancholia. Now, you'd help him materially if you'd only arrange some pleasant surprise for him.

Mrs. Sharpe—I know! I know! I'll tell him you said he needn't bother about paying your bill till he feels like it.

A Real Bargain.

Mr. Youngthing—How in the world did you come to deposit that money in the bank instead of buying that automobile coat you wanted?

Mrs. (triumphantly)—Why, I read in this morning's paper that the interest had been reduced from four per cent to three!—Puck.

Gutta Percha Pens.

Pens of hardened gutta percha have been repeatedly tried in this country and England, but have not met with success.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas, Life Governor Grand Lodge of Free Masons of England, in a letter from Hotel Saratoga, Chicago, Ill., says:

"This summer while traveling I contracted a most persistent and annoying cold. My head ached, my eyes and nose seemed constantly running, my lungs were sore and I lost my appetite, health and good spirits. Doctors prescribed for me all manner of pills and powders, but all to no purpose.

"I advised with a druggist and he spoke so highly of a medicine called Peruna, that he induced me to try my first bottle of patent medicine. However, it proved such a help to me that I soon purchased another bottle and kept on until I was entirely well."

Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. In a large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and oft repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book entitled "Summer Catarrh," which treats of the catarrhal diseases peculiar to summer.

Native Pride

"The greatest race across the Atlantic that I ever heard tell of," began the old racing skipper.

"Is the Oirish, of course," interrupted Hooligan.—Catholic Standard Times.

An Experienced Angler

Ethel—Would you consider Percy Mockton a good catch?

Madge—Certainly; if all the others got a ray!—Puck.

Keeps Kisses for Royalty.

Many comments were made because the German Emperor kissed Prince Henry when the latter returned from his recent visit to this country. As a matter of fact, although Emperor William is the greater kisser of men among the sovereigns of the world, he is also a hearty handshaker and the freest of all monarchs in this particular. Indeed, he and the King of Italy are the only supreme rulers who shake hands at all with other than brother sovereigns.

The Kaiser reserves his kisses for royalty exclusively. When he visits a monarch or receives a visit from one he salutes him with six kisses—three on either cheek. This sometimes before a crowd of thousands of onlookers, not to mention a regiment or so of soldiers.

But the war lord will shake hands with almost anyone. He has a grip that is famous among his subjects, too, and the favor of his hand grasp is not assiduously sought by those who have had some experience with it. His Majesty has a big, strong hand, with muscles like iron. They have been cultivated by many years of sword exercise. His handshaker is one that is not soon forgotten, and when he greets a visitor with a handshake they say at court, "His Majesty has made another lasting impression."

This grip, it is only fair to say, he reserves for strong men. For the opposite sex he has a hand that is as soft as velvet and a courtesy that is elegant.

Vagaries of Memory

What is remembered depends, of course, much on individual temperament or intellectual tendency, but the incidents are always in the nature of milestones. Thousands of competent persons can never recollect a date, even when the day was of importance to themselves or when, as, for instance, when preparing for examination, they had specially tried to remember accurately.

An enormous number of people are embarrassed through life by a difficulty in recollecting faces, yet kings, policemen and artists rarely or never forget one. The present writer has reached the age when the difficulty of recalling names quickly becomes annoying, yet he never forgets the number of a house or shop if he has once heard or seen it. The broad truth is, says the London Spectator, that memory is almost as individual a possession as character and that the historian when quoting personal testimony must make up his own mind whether he is listening to Herodotus or to Mr. Every reader can fill in the blank.

Common sense extracts more solid comfort from life than genius does.