MILLINERY PARLORS

Mrs. H. E. Wetherla, Prop. NEXT TO POSTOFFICE

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The elegant new 9 room 2 story residence of Mrs. Ann Smith is rapidly nearing completion.

A new two story residence is being built on 13th and Adams' street by Mr. Gray, the expressman.

Mrs. L. Stannus, of Colville, Washington, is visiting with her mother, Mrs. A. J. Woodcock and other relatives.

G. W. Allen is finishing two very neat little residences on 12th and Tyler streets; one of six rooms, the other four.

Bert Woods will soon have a nice new 9 room house ready for occupancy on the corner of 11th and Washington streets.

Robert Clark, of the Benton County lumber company, is erecting a six-room house on the corner of 12th and Harrison Sts.

The Village Improvement Society will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the court room. By order of Miss Kline, secretary.

The Presbyterian ladies will hold their annual Christmas sale on the afternoon of Dec. 2nd, time and place to be given later.

Mr. F. A. King, an old soldier, is very sick at his home near the S. P. depot. He is being tenderly by many warm personal friends.

A. J. Johnson went to Eugene Saturday, by auto, to take in the big game played Saturday afternoon between U. of O. and Seattle.

Norton Adams has remodeled his residence on North 13th street and painted with good taste. He now has a cosy little home.

Plute Lewis will have a neat little house of four rooms, when completed, on 12th and Harrison streets. The size of the frame is 22x28.

Mrs. F. B. Lacey is packing household goods and will move to Portland. The husband has been there for some two or three weeks.

Cal Thrasher came home Saturday from an extended trip on the road working insurance. He reports the roads all over the valley in fine shape.

The neat new residence of Mrs. Hubert on North 12th street has been plastered and is now ready for the finishing touches by carpenters and painters.

It looks a little suspicious to see Mark Rickard taking so much pains with that new five-room bungalow on 13th and Adams streets. Almost any nice young lady would feel proud of such a neat little home. Here's success to you, Mark. Norton Adams is doing the work.

The students of OAC were dismissed Friday afternoon, in order that all might attend the funeral services of the late Prof. George Coote at the armory that afternoon.

Mark Rickard went overland to Eugene, in his automobile, Saturday, to see the big game. A. J. Johnson and the Deputy Sheriff were holding down the back seat when they left Corvallis.

Editor Smith is having a nice 2 story residence built on his lot on 13th and Adams' street. Where in the mischief did a newspaper man ever find enough money to build a nice house like that?

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and family of Fayette, Iowa, are recent arrivals in Oregon and will make their home in this city. They are pleasant people and will receive a warm welcome in Corvallis circles.

Hathaway Bros. succeeded in convincing the council that the ordinance in regard to fire limits is elastic when properly manipulated and the corrugated building is now being extended clear back to the alley.

All members of the O. A. C. alumni association who intend going to Portland on Saturday are requested to send their names to F. C. Ewing before 5 o'clock Wednesday to room 306, Agricultural Hall or phone 501.

H. B. Carter, of the Times, seems quite happy over the arrival of a baby boy at the home. The lady in the care is getting along nicely and the boy will soon be able to take care of himself. Congratulations Bro. Carter.

Tommy Jones and family have packed their household effects and will ship them to Astoria, to which place they started Saturday to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are estimable people and have many friends in Corvallis who regret their departure, but wish them all success.

Charles L. Springer, of the Gazette, left last Thursday evening for Montesano, Wash., to visit his wife. While away he will arrange for the shipment of his household goods to Corvallis. Upon his return next week he will be accompanied by Mrs. Springer and they will reside on eighth street, near Madison.

M. Tillery will move into his new quarters in the Whitehorn building on December 1st. He will have a beautiful room when everything is straightened up to suit his taste, and being a nice fellow, as well as a good business man, there is no reason why he should not run a successful business. Take a look at him in his new business home and see what you think about it.

D. A. Heater is building an elegant residence on north 12th and Harrison streets which will be a valuable acquisition to that part of town. It will contain 9 rooms and have all the latest modern improvements. This is the second house built by Mr. Heater the first being so neat and nice that he found a ready sale for it at a good profit.

The man who opened the little lunch counter on north 2d street now languishes in the little cage at the city hall, due to overindulgence in liquid refreshments. He seems to have been a free hearted soul, placing the bottle on the counter without any restraining influences, hence several old soaks were supremely happy. Judge Denman placed the trimmings at $20 and costs.

Much interest was taken in the big football game at Eugene Saturday between U. of O. and Seattle. The following gentlemen were passengers on the C. & E. train, Saturday, to see the contest: Horace Kerr, F. S. Norcross, E. B. Angell, Mc Phillips, Carl Wolfe, C. L. Moore, L. Anderson, C. M. McKellips, C. V. Johnson, Bob Johnson, P. H. McAlexander, El J. Rhea, and J. C. McCausland.

Six hundred and ninety-six are now enrolled at the public schools of Corvallis and still the number grows in the acquisition of new families coming to make their homes here. The estimate of the directors is that the second semester will show an enrollment of nearly 800 pupils. The school work is progressing nicely in every department to the satisfaction of both parent and pupil.

The farmers are exceedingly busy with fall plowing, seeding, etc., making good use of this delightful weather. The early planting now shows up in fine shape. From present indications there will be a larger acreage seeded than is usual at this season of the year. It will prove of great advantage to the farmer by relieving him of lots of work that is usually left until spring, thus crowding him for time in the care of ripening grain.

Married at the Presbyterian manse in this city yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Forrest W. Smith, of Linn county, and Miss Adelaide Armstrong, of Northern Benton, Rev. J. R. N. Bell officiating. The bride is one of Benton's sweetest and most popular young ladies and she is well known in Corvallis where she has a host of warm friends. The groom is an employe of the Southern Pacific. The young couple will probably make their home in this county and have the best wishes of all.

Rev. and Mrs. Evan P. Hughes entertained Saturday afternoon, their guests being the girls at OAC who have homes elsewhere and have expressed a preference for the Congregational church. A goodly number of bright and happy young ladies were present and spent the afternoon in a most pleasant manner. Since coming to Corvallis about six months ago, this energetic pastor and his wife have won the love and good-will of every member of their congregation and the community as well, and there is no doubt of their sincerity and great ability for their work.

Jim Mackenzie, a former clerk at E. B. Horning's grocery store and an old OAC student, has been holding down a claim over at Rose Lodge in Lincoln county and in order to avoid all possibility of being superceded by squatters, he called Miss Etta Carter, a graduate of OAC, to look after the cabin and cook the bacon and beans. So quietly did they arrange this little matter that their most intimate friends did not know they were married until a few days ago. Rev. Messenger performed the ceremony and Ed Horning painted the picture of wedded life in the tall timbers in glowing colors. They are most estimable young people and have many friends in Corvallis who will be pleased to extend congratulations.

This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate. California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

Will be glad to supply some very attractive literature, describing in detail the many delights of winter in California. Very low round trip excursion tickets are on sale to California. The rate from Albany to Los Angeles and return is $55.00

Limit six months, allowing stopovers in either direction. Similar excursion rates are in effect to all California points.
