The tongue of the buggy broke, but Mr. Menefee managed to keep the horses in the road until they reached a hill where he succeeded in stopping them. The team was considerably damaged, but Mr. Menefee and family escaped without injury.

Mrs. Woolford and Miss Grace Graham, two of the Hood River ladies who were entertained by the Degree of Honor lodge last night, failed to reach the boat this morning in time to take passage for Hood River, hence were detained until the afternoon train.

Miss Graham is a teacher in the Hood River schools, and in all probability her students had a holiday today.

The Fossil Journal says that work on the road to the Dalles is being vigorously pushed under the superintendence of Chas. McKenzie. During the past week he has had over a dozen men at work, and at the present rate it will not be many weeks ere the road will be open to the river, which is the county line. This week a substantial bridge was built over Butte Creek at the Hearnard place. Again we would remind the people of The Dalles that it will be their interest to have the road beyond the river completed before the hauling of wool commences.

We all know that any tired muscle can be restored by rest. Your stomach is a muscle. Dyspepsia is its manner of saying "I am tired. Give me rest."

To rest the stomach you must do its work outside of the body.

This is the Shaker's method of curing indigestion, and its success is best attested by the fact that those people are practically free from what is without doubt the most prevalent of all diseases. The Shaker Digestive Cordial not only contains digested food which is promptly absorbed without taxing the tired digestive organs, but it is likewise an aid to the digestion of other foods in the stomach. A 10 cent trial bottle will convince you of its merit, and these you can obtain through all druggists.

Two car loads of hogs belonging to Frank McCully, of Elgin, were unloaded at the stock yards this morning, and will be shipped to Portland.

The present weather is exceptionally favorable for fruit, just warm enough to start the buds, though not hot enough to scald the tender leaves.

Miss M. J. Brookhouse, one of the operators in the Astoria telephone office, arrived on the boat from Astoria yesterday and is visiting friends in the city.

The East End had the appearance of old times this morning, a number of big teams and prairie schooners being there loading with freight for Prineville and Dayville.

Fruit prospects throughout this immediate vicinity are unusually good. Apples and almond trees are loaded with blossoms, and cherries and peaches are beginning to bud, and show indications of an abundant yield.

Dr. Adams and Mr. Hinkle returned today from a visit to Camas prairie in Washington. They report a foot of snow on the north hillsides in that section, and the snow having just left the valley.

The Commercial Association of Pendleton has abolished the membership fee and hereafter only monthly dues will be charged. The association has appropriated $100 to be used by the committee on roads in improving the highways into Pendleton.

The directors of the Grande Ronde Valley Agricultural Society have appointed October 11, 1907, as the date for the commencement of the next annual fair, to be held on the society's grounds between La Grande and Ij-dan City. The fair will continue six days as usual.

William E. Curtis, who was shot in the foot in Spokane last February and slightly wounded, is now dying, from the effects, it is thought, of the wound. Thomas McAvoy, who did the shooting, has been arrested, and a charge of assault with intent to commit murder has been entered against him.

Chinese laborers in the canneries at Astoria have got above working with white men and have served notices on canners that they will not work in canneries where white labor is employed. These Chinamen have got entirely too lightened for this country, and ought to be shipped back to their native country.

After reading the accounts of starvation in the East, the floods along the Mississippi and the blizzards and cyclones in the Middle West and along the Rockies, the people of Oregon ought to be pretty well content with their surroundings, and acknowledged that they are indeed in a favored spot.

Yesterday Conductor Bennett and Engineer Evans made a phenomenal run with No. 8 between Cascade Locks and The Dalles, for the accommodation of Miss Nellie Butler, who was hastening to this place to see her dying sister. At the Locks the train was half an hour late, but it was given a clear track and reached here on time.

A. B. McMillan's grocery store, in Auburn, Wash., was started some time Wednesday night, and goods to the amount of $45 carried away. This makes six times during the past five years that he has suffered visitations of this character. Pantzko's barber shop and an entered and posted carry away valued at $23.

Portland's city council has passed an ordinance licensing the little, innocent gambling devices known as nickel-in-the-slot machines. It will now be in order for the God-and-morality journals of that city that have been denouncing Nevada for legalizing gambling, and Astoria for licensing all manner of gambling, to crawl out of sight.

William Harder, general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, must be an imaginative genius. After visiting this city, he returned to Portland and died here from two to four inches deep, and said it was so uncommon to see the dust so thick as to obscure a horse and wagon passing along the streets.

Today the building committee of St. Peter's Catholic church opened the bids for constructing the new church on Second and Lincoln streets, and will award the contract in a short time. The building will be 40x104 feet, will face on Lincoln street, and will when completed be one of the handsomest church edifices in the state. It will cost in the neighborhood of $18,000.

A young man was in town two or three days this week working the gold ring swindle, says the Huntington Herald. Although the scheme is an old one and ought to be known by this time by everybody, he said there were more "suckers" in this place than one would imagine. Each is out 50 cents and is holding the gold ring "one one his mother gave him just before she died," waiting for him to redem it inside of five days.

The barbers in Albany are compelled to draw the color line. A Chinese went into an Albany barber shop last Tuesday, but the barber told the Chinaman that he didn't shave Chinamen. The Chinaman went out mad and banged the door so hard that a pane of glass was shattered. Under threats of arrest he paid the cost of a new pane, and is now in the city, and this was an innovation. A darkey who tried to get shaved was more philosophical and departed without a sign of anger.

Death of Lattimer Booth.

Lattimer Booth died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hobart in this city at 12:30 Thursday from hemorrhage of the lungs. For some time Mr. Booth had been threatened with consumption, and was preparing to remove to Southern Oregon, but was taken seriously ill last Monday, and never recovered.

Lattimer Booth was born in The Dalles in March, 1861, and has made this city his home all of his life. Ten years ago he was married to Miss Nettie Hobart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hobart. The result of this marriage is two children, Hobart and Lesia, aged 10 and 5 years respectively. Besides his wife and two children, Mr. Booth leaves a mother and brother, John Booth, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Wilson, of Jersey town, Pa., Mrs. Jennie Sharp and Miss Caddie Booth, of this city. Deceased was highly respected by the community. He was an honored member of Wasco Lodge, No. 15, A. O. U. W., Temple Lodge, No. 3, A. O. U. W., and Mt. Hood Camp, No. 59, W. of W. The funeral will be conducted from the Congregational church at 2 P. M. Sunday, and the burial will be under the auspices of the Masonic lodge.

This Means Business.

In the town of Rossland, B. C., they tolerate none of the out of the road syndicates that is so marked a feature in many new mining camps. As soon as a rough or hobo strikes town he is invited out again in a manner that means business. The result is that Rossland is a quiet and business-like town where one can live in peace and as much safety as anywhere. Quiet and comfort are also a marked feature of the excellent dining car service of the Wisconsin Central Lines between St. Paul and Chicago. Besides this feature, passengers are afforded the advantages of the general ease of travel by this line and the courteous treatment by all the officials.

For particulars address Geo. S. Batty, General Agent, 246 Stark St., Portland, Or., or Jas. C. Pond, General Passenger Agent, Milwaukee, Wis., or apply to your nearest ticket agent.

Measles.

At this time, while measles in varied forms is epidemic in and around The Dalles, it might be well to call the attention of parents to the ill effects that are almost certain to follow in the wake of this ailment should not due care be observed in the treatment of the sickness and care of the child afflicted. The same is true whether it be German measles, ox measles, red measles, black measles or measles of any kind—it is measles just the same. The greatest care should be observed that those afflicted do not take cold. Don't let them go out of doors, and don't confine them in a poorly heated room. Give them an even temperature and a moist atmosphere. Heavy colds taken in connection with measles may deprive the sufferers of sight or hearing, or bring about throat disease.

Do Not Neglect Your Eyes.

Many suffer from poor eyesight who could be relieved, but neglect to have their vision corrected in time to save or improve the sight, and as eye disease or they are afflicted with blindness or blurred vision instead of having strong bright eyes. Do not deceive yourself. If you have defective sight, do not procrastinate, but have your eyes attended to at once, and thus save yourself great pain and suffering in old age. Good vision is a boon to be cherished. Dr. Lannenberg, office in Vogt block, will examine your eyes free of charge.

This Is Different.

In your valuable paper of last evening appeared an article entitled "A Reply to White Stars." We must say that the author of that masterly piece should never follow the profession of baseball but should at once leave for Hawaii to be Queen Lili's chief ad-

A REPLY TO WHITE STARS.

The Champions Claim the Best and Will Make All Counters.

In the Chronicle of April 6 appeared a communication from one of the members of the White Star base ball club. He seems to have a little score at the terrible defeat that his club suffered last Sunday, and being unable to retain his pent-up wrath, is blowing it out through the columns of a newspaper.

He says that in the first game between the two clubs his club came out victorious, but we say they attained the highest score. It is a well-known fact by all who saw the game that the Champions purposely let them gain the highest score to give them encouragement and to make them think they really could play ball, for the purpose of getting another game with them the result of which is now seen. Since this White Star claims it as a victory, it conclusively shows that he has not "caught on" to the idea that the Champions purposely let them win. For their complete defeat last Sunday, he gives us an excuse that three of their best players were unable to be there, and says if it had not been for their absence they would have won.

Every defeated party has an excuse of some kind, and if they had had their full team they would still have found some excuse for their defeat. But the truth of the matter is, they were fairly defeated and have no valid excuse to make, also that the Champions intended to do it and not delude them as they did in the first game.

They say they "dispute the championship of Eastern Oregon" that we have so fully won, and "hope we will not retire without our laurels, etc." We do not intend to retire, but are ready to defend our title of "Champions of Eastern Oregon" against all comers who can show any pretense of playing ball or who have a record. They want to play next Sunday, but we have fairly and completely defeated them and won all honors that can be gained by defeating them again. If they say they "dispute the championship of Eastern Oregon," let them first make a record by winning a game off of some one. Then we will recognize them. Deeming this a sufficient answer to their article of the 6th, we sign ourselves "The Champions of Eastern Oregon and the champions of all the champions of Eastern Oregon."

PROF. LANDERS ELECTED.

He Is Advanced to Principal of The Dalles School.

For some time past the resignation of Prof. John Gavin, principal of The Dalles public schools, to take effect at the close of the present school year, has been in the hands of the board of directors, and at a meeting of the board held Tuesday afternoon, Prof. J. S. Landers, who has held the position of first assistant the past year, was elected principal for the ensuing year.

During the four years Prof. Gavin has been principal of the schools of this city, his work has been most satisfactory, and it is a source of regret that the district is to lose his valuable services. However, he will be succeeded by an able successor, since during the year the Prof. Landers has been connected with the schools he has shown himself in every respect capable of assuming the duties that will be required of him as principal.

The action of the board in this early selection of Prof. Landers as principal is indeed commendable, since Prof. Landers will be afforded an opportunity during the remainder of the term to more thoroughly familiarize himself with the workings of every department, and will be enabled to continue them in the most efficient manner.

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

Obligations of Members Who Join the Association.

The Labor Exchange is wrongly supposed by some to be a secret political organization whose purposes are to do something dreadful. On this account, the members of the Exchange have requested the publication of the obligations required of those who join the association. After setting up the age, residence, occupation, etc., of the member, the obligation reads as follows:

"In consideration of the rights, privileges, benefits and protection conferred upon me as a member of the 'Labor Exchange Association' and to the end that the property of the association, upon which the safety of said benefits is based, may not be sacrificed at reduced value by liquidation in legal tender money, I hereby promise and agree that for any article or articles of merchandise and moneys that I may deposit in the keeping of, labor or services, I may perform for, or for any article of merit that I may hold on said Labor Exchange, I will accept as sufficient compensation thereof merchandise, property, labor or services of equal value."

This obligation has been held to be binding by the courts, and as a bar against actions brought for the payment of debts of the Exchange in money.

Another Young Life Ended.

At 11:55 Thursday, after an illness of 49 days with typhoid fever, Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Butler, aged 19 years, sank quietly to rest and to join her sister Jessie, who preceded her only a few weeks to the land of the angels.

Sad indeed are the circumstances connected with the death of this most estimable girl. Her life, like a morning in spring, dawned bright and cheerful and gave promise of much usefulness, but like the sun which sinks below the horizon, it will shine to brighten another world. During her long illness she bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude, and when apprised of the fact that her life was slowly, but surely ebbing away, was perfectly resigned to her fate, making only one request, that her life should be prolonged until her sister Nellie, who was in Portland, should arrive, that she might take a last farewell. This wish was granted the dying girl, the absent sister arriving just two minutes before the end of the sad journey. She was possessed of all her mental faculties to the last moment, and arranged every detail for her funeral. In compliance with her wishes the funeral will be unostentatious and will be conducted at the residence at 10 o'clock today (Saturday) Hereafter, H. Wood and W. C. Curtis officiating.

Notice.

There will be a regular meeting of Mt. Hood Hose Co. No. 4 at the hose house this Friday evening at 7:30. A motion to change sec. 2 of the by-laws (notice given last meeting) will be considered and a full attendance requested.

J. W. LEWIS, Sec.

S. L. BROOKS, Observer.

The Oregon Asked to Come.

As yet no definite time has been set for presentation to the battle-ship Oregon of the magnificent silver service secured by the citizens of the state. On Wednesday, Secretary Motter, of the presentation committee, was at Salem conferring with Governor Lord as to the time to be fixed when the service will be formally presented to the officers of the great battle-ship. Yesterday Mr. Motter addressed letters to United States Senator McBride and others of the Oregon delegation in congress, requesting them to urge on the navy department that the battle-ship be allowed to come to Portland during this spring, probably in June, so that the presentation can be made in this city, and at the same time the officers of the vessel can be properly entertained.—Oregonian.
