Through the efforts of R. F. Hynd, the enterprising manager of the Morrow County Land & Trust Company, 500 sacks of Sand Hollow wool will come to Heppner this season that went to Echo last year. Owing to Heppner's advantages as a wool market, quite a lot of outside wool will come here this year that formerly went to other places.

SURE THING GAME.

Prize Shooting Gallery Men Left on Short Notice.

The proprietors of the Prize shooting gallery who have been in Heppner, left between two moons this week for parts unknown.

Not for lack of business at the gallery or a change of climate for their health did they leave so suddenly, but because people got tired of their sure thing game that they were fleeing the unwary with.

They operated with a very simple and easy looking little merry-go-round or wheel of fortune, with an arrow or needle like that of a compass, and the needle was supposed to stop, once in awhile on a big fat prize, but whether it was perpetual motion or a needle trained to not stop on the big prizes the fleeced ones can say not, for it was a case of continual dig up. The operators were several hundred dollars to the good when they suddenly took a notion to leave.

Top Price for Sheep.

Judge W. P. Dutton this week sold 2300 head of mixed yearlings to a local buyer for $2.00 per head straight. There was no discount for culls, and as the sheep were not shipped government inspection was not required. This is the top price paid for sheep in this vicinity this season.

Wm. Barrett sold 1000 head of yearling wethers for $1.75 per head.

Hynd Bros. sold 900 head of yearling wethers for $1.75 per head.

John Ayers sold 900 yearling wethers for $1.75.

John and Frank Kilkeny also sold a lot of one and 2 year olds this week.

The market still remains quiet and owners are showing a tendency to hold at present offerings.

W. L. Saling was a passenger this morning for Arlington.

F. W. Vaille, U. S. postal inspector for the city yesterday.

For Sale—First class set of single buggy harness at Gordon's stable.

B. G. Sigsbee, a brother of Mrs. R. F. Hynd, arrived this week from Florida. He expects to locate here.

Heppner is holding her own with the interior freight business this season. A large car of vehicles came to the Wool-growers' warehouse this week for the John Day country.

An interesting wedding was solemnized in the Christian church on Sunday evening last, in the marriage of Mrs. Katherine Paul to Mr. Wm. Dutton. As the strains of the wedding march arose from the piano, the bride, on the arm of her sister, Mrs. Maud Morris, entered the church and passed up the aisle. At the altar the bride was met by the groom and the impressive marriage service was performed by Rev. J. V. Crawford, pastor of the church. Mrs. Maud Morris, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Forrest Vaughan, groomsman.

Few Sales of Sheep are Made.

Buyers and sheep raisers have not gotten together very well this spring, in Umatilla county, says a correspondent from Pendleton to the Spokesman Review, and sales have not been numerous. Buyers from all quarters insist that sheepmen are holding too high. The claim is backed by arguments on demand, quality and chances of profit, and as a result of the failure of growers to come down, outside buyers have been simply lying back and doing nothing.

Buyers complain that $2 is asked for yearlings by owners of poor grades. Last year most of the sales were made at $1.75. A common statement is that if a sheepraiser with a good class of wethers is paid $2, every owner of scrub stock in the community hears of it and wants the same price. Both railroad men and buyers urge breeding to a better grade of sheep in the range counties of Eastern Oregon. Umatilla is probably better off in this respect than any of her neighbors.

There will be a lively movement to Montana this spring, not of bands brought here by Montana men, but of bands shipped by Eastern Oregon sheepmen into Montana with the end in view of ranging in that state until fall, and then shipping into Chicago. In years past these same men have sold to the Montanans, who took the bands into range already secured. Realizing the restricted conditions in Eastern Oregon range, several large owners will deport bodily themselves this season, hoping to "get in" on Montana range. Montana sheepmen, it is reported, are not much elated over this unexpected invasion. A Montana buyer in Pendleton said yesterday:

"It will be found a more difficult matter than anticipated to get free range in our state. The good watering places are mostly fenced up now, and the man who thinks he can break in and settle right down is much mistaken."

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spells would come at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by Slocum Drug Co.

Patterson & Goit at The Dalles, Ore., have a lot of fine timber claims. Good location and marketable.
