THE BANNER WHEAT YEAR

Morrow County's Yield Estimated at 1,300,000 Bushels.

LARGE AMOUNT FOR EXPORT

Increased Yields the Result of Better Cultivation--Harvesting Has Commenced.

This will be Morrow county's banner wheat year. The crops are now far enough advanced as to be considered safe, and a reliable and fairly accurate estimate of the yield can be made.

For the coming crop which will be the greatest in the history of this county there can be assigned many good reasons. In the first place, climatic conditions have been favorable. Good prices last fall was an incentive for farmers to increase their acreage, but above all and which will be an object lesson of great value, is the fact that farmers have been doing better farming. The soil has been placed in a better state of cultivation, and the result is, an increased yield.

The interest in better farming is due to no small extent to Moore Bros. of Sherman county who were practical farmers and since they have been in Morrow have been advocating the necessity of better cultivation in order to place this county up to its proper standard as an agricultural district. Moore Bros at once realized the fact that the lands here were rich in wheat producing qualities. This year their wheat looks as well as any in Eastern Oregon simply because they cultivated the land properly.

The agitation for better cultivation and more careful farming has borne fruit, and Morrow county will have a great crop of wheat.

The wheat crop of this county is now estimated at 1,300,000 bushels.

This estimate is considered very conservative. The estimates are based on the acreage and also from the number of sacks contracted for by farmers at the different warehouses. All sack contracts this year have a clause in which no empty sacks will be taken back after taken out, by warehousemen. As farmers do not want to pay for unused sacks they are figuring closely.

The average yield for fall grain is placed at 18 bushels to the acre, while spring grain is put down at 12 bushels to the acre.

The recent rains have been of great benefit to crops in general. The heads are large and well filled and the berry will be plump and large. Everything ought to go in this year as first class. In some localities heading has already commenced. In a week or 10 days harvest will be general. As there are less than 5,000 people in Morrow county, the greater portion of this crop will be for export, the main portion of the home demand being for seed.

The amount of this year's crop for export is estimated at 1,200,000 bushels and will be distributed from the following shipping points on the Heppner branch of the O. R. & N:

- Heppner, 65,000 bushels.
- Lexington, 200,000 bushels.
- Ione, 500,000 bushels.
- Jordan Siding, 150,000 bushels.
- Douglas, 225,000 bushels.
- Cecil, 60,000 bushels.

Morrow county's largest previous crop was in 1902, when there was 900,000 bushels exported.

Making Good Exhibits.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, Mo., July 7.—Several Oregon counties have sent excellent advertising matter to be placed on display in the state exhibits at St. Louis, and the results they will obtain will be good. Too much cannot be said of the judicious publicity of county resources, for it will do more to secure new people for the state than any other form of advertisement.

Lane county and Eugene in particular have sent some fine pictures to the Oregon building which will accomplish wonders for that particular section of the state. Baker county has a good pamphlet on distribution, while Yamhill has also sent some excellent reading matter that will doubtless be the means of increasing her population materially.

The pictures from Eugene are mounted on large mats and are hung in conspicuous places in the state building. They represent buildings, both business and residence, factories, farming and fruit growing scenes and in fact nearly every line of industry. A visitor can see at a glance just what he will be located with should he move to Lane county, much more than he can find out from reading matter.

How many people will move to Oregon on account of the state display here in St. Louis is of course beyond estimation, but there will be great numbers. Many pass through the building every day with the announcement that they are coming to Oregon in 1905 and coming to stay.

Fairbanks Will Not Resign.

Washington, June 30.—Word was received in Washington today to the effect that Senator Fairbanks will not resign his seat in the Senate until after the election in November. He wants to be sure of the Vice-Presidency before relinquishing the office he now holds.

As yet, Fairbanks has made no plans for the Fall campaign, but it is expected he will go on the stump during September and October, particularly in doubtful states.

Company drills are being held by the militia at Eugene preparatory to the encampment at American Lake.

A fountain will be placed on Cottage street, Salem, by the Park board. It is a statue of a pioneer, made in bronze.
