Railroads Face Labor Famine.

Chicago, March 16 .- Western rail al the e is a swamp area in the eastern roads are tac ng a labor famine. Twenty-five thousand men are needed in the northwestern and southwestern states to build the roads that are already under way, and it is estimated that before June 1 more than twice that number If the S enterson bill demonstrates will be required. There never has been so much activity in railroad building in the west as at present, and the visible supply of labor in that part of the country has been exhausted. Railroad contractors have been abl o resume work earlier this year than usual on account of the open winter, and they are making strennous offorts to get men from the east to go out west for this work. Ten thousand men are needed by the Western Pacific, the new Gould line to southern California, and they are offering from $2 to $2 25 a day for unskilled labor, with the chance of steady work nutil cold weather sets in

It must online a comprehensive drainage system for each irrigation project, since there is as much danger from too much irrigation as too little, and to do this the Service has its own farm and soil experts. Some of the irrigation projects have distinctively drainage features, in het are almost as much drainage a: they are irrigation projects. In the Klamath project 136,000 acres, or more shan half of the area of the total project. is righ tule land covered by eight or ten he t of water, and is to be drained and converted into over a thou-and farms. The fund provided by the bill would he sma'l as compared with the irrigation hand-it' would approximate ha'f a million dollars a year and would start off with about $1,000,000, the receipts from the sales for the fiscal year 1905 being included-but on the other hand the cost of drainage would not be so great as that of irrigation.

The importance of this work of wholesale drainage, in order to provide homes for increased population, is scarcely second in ruportance to the irrigation work. It means that tens of millions of acres of the most fertile land imagin-
