

The Oregon election was a great surprise. Under the administration of Mr. Chamberlain we have had for some time democratic rule not only in local state affairs but in national affairs as well. Just why republicans should vote for a perpetuation of this system when they have voted the ticket for the other offices is something that is hard to explain, however, Mr. Chamberlain is Oregon's governor and he will continue to hold the office for another four years. But there is no use to croak about it any longer. The fact must remain apparent that to win out against such great odds is a remarkable occurrence and stands out as a monument to the ability of George W. Chamberlain.

Trade With China Grows.

Washington, June 3.—The trade of the United States with China, says a bulletin issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor, shows a very rapid growth during the past decade, especially in exports to that country, though the imports from China also show an increase. Total exports to China in the calendar year 1895 were $2,333,922, and in 1905, $58,574,793. The total imports from China were in 1895 $21,842,869, and in 1905, $28,113,814.

In addition to the exports direct, the bulletin says, there should be considered those to Hongkong, a British colony on the coast of China, which is in fact a star through which large quantities of merchandise enter that country. To Hongkong the exports of the United States grew from $4,494,856 in 1895 to $9,930,926 in 1905, and the imports from Hongkong grew from $1,333,920 in 1895 to $2,485,063 in 1905. In 1905 the exports to China were $27,921,033, and in 1904, $14,970,138.

The phenomenal growth in 1905, the bulletin attributes, in part, to the large increase for the American cotton cloth in the latter part of 1904 in the expectation that Manchuria and other sections of Northern China would be open to commerce in 1905.

The bulletin says the United States seems to have supplied about 50 per cent of the imports into China in 1905, including Hongkong, against 6 per cent in 1895, 3 per cent in 1896 and about 13 per cent in 1904. Raw silk imports from China into the United States in the calendar year 1905 were $9,500,589; tea, $5,155,84; carpet wool, $3,204,613. In the fiscal year 1905 opium imports from China amounted to $1,469,943.

HUMOR

NEVER TOUCHED THEM.

"Fashion Notes For Men" Failed to Produce Anything Startling.

After Mrs. Ponsonby had talked about dressmakers and dressmaking until Mr. Ponsonby was weary, and when Mrs. Dallington had for more than two solid hours discussed gowns, hats, wraps, corsets and feminine apparel in general, Arthur Ponsonby flicked the ashes from his cigar and, turning to Dallington, asked:

"By the way, Fred, where do you buy your shirts?"

"I always get them at Creighley's."

"Do you like his style? I think Mudders makes the sweetest shirts I ever wore. They fit just lovely over the hips, and he seems to have a way of putting in sleeves that is so cunning."

"Oh, I shall have to go to him when I need shirts again. Where do you get your trousers?"

"Mansell always makes mine. I wouldn't think of going to any one else. How much did you pay for that vest? It's just as sweet as it can be."

"Yes, isn't it pretty? Do you know, I bought it ready made. I very seldom do such a thing, but it happened to just fit me, and I couldn't resist it. Did Mansell make that coat you're wearing?"

"Yes. How do you like it? Do you think it fits me just right across the shoulders?"

"It's perfect. I never saw anything sweeter. You ought to wear gray all the time. It's really very becoming to you. What a cunning tie you have. Where do you get your ties?"

"Oh, I wouldn't think of getting a tie anywhere but at Murgenthal's. Do you like these socks I'm wearing?"

"Dear me! They're awfully cute. I bought some new ones last week, but I like yours better than any of mine. I'm going to have a new pair of trousers cut out just as soon as I can get around to it. What do you think would be a good style for me to get? Would you have them shirred at the knees?"

"No, I don't like them that way. I think I should have them tucked at the ends and cut full at the sides, with decked edge seams. Still, if you like them gathered at the top, I—"

"Arthur," exclaimed Mrs. Ponsonby, "have you suddenly gone crazy?"

"Fred Dallington," that gentleman's wife demanded, "what in the world is the matter with you?"

The men shook their heads and denied that they had lost their wits. Being reassured, Mrs. Ponsonby asked Mrs. Dallington how she intended to have her Indian head skirt made up.

"I think," said Mrs. Dallington, "I will have it plaited both in front and behind. Do you remember that denim of mine?"

"Do you mean the pinkish one that Mrs. Blytheleigh made for you?"

Defeated and shamed the two men lit fresh cigars and sat back and were silent.—S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.

Not to Be Disturbed. "Sody crackers? Yes'm," said the country store keeper. "I got 'em. I'll send 'em up to you."

"Well," replied Mrs. Medders, "I did 'low to take 'em with me."

Live Stock Protected.

The leading citizens of Crook, Harney and Lake counties, in Oregon, and Modoc county, in California, have organized a Livestock Protective Association, with headquarters at Lakeview, for the purpose of preventing the killing of cattle and the stealing of horses, cattle and mules, says the Lakeview Examiner.

It has been ascertained that there is a well organized band of horse and cattle thieves operating in Lake, Crook and Harney counties, in Oregon, and Modoc county, in California, who have been stealing stock in wholesale numbers during the last year. It is known that these thieves have parties stationed in California and Nevada to receive and dispose of the stock stolen from the Oregon ranges. So incensed are the stock owners of these counties that every one is willing not only to become a member of the Live Stock Protective Association, but have indicated their willingness to do everything possible to enforce the law against these robbers.

It is to be hoped that in the interest of not only the livestock industry that this gang of law-breakers be put out of business, but for the sake of law and order and civic righteousness every one of those engaged in this nefarious business should be landed in the penitentiary.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
