BUSINESS MEN OF PORTLAND

GREETED WITH HEARTY WELCOME IN HEPPNER.

Pleasant and Profitable Meeting in Getting More Intimately Acquainted.

The Portland business men were greeted with a hearty welcome in Heppner last Friday evening.

The special train bearing the 75 visitors arrived in the city at 6:10 o'clock. The committee of Heppner business men as well as a large number of citizens were at the depot to meet them.

It was a meeting of business men, in fact a business proposition all the way through, consequently there was no flare of trumpets, not even a brass band, however there was not a lack of enthusiasm on the part of Heppner business men and citizens.

Owing to the fact that the train arrived at the dinner hour a number of the visitors were engaged in refreshing the inner man when the train pulled in. They came leisurely up town from the depot in different squads.

The visitors spent the early part of the evening in groups in looking over the town and were entertained by the different business men.

At a little before nine o'clock the visitors with a large number of citizens assembled at the athletic room of the Commercial Club house. Prior to the main meeting, the center of attraction at the club rooms was the display of coal from the Willow creek coal mines which had been placed on exhibition by Geo. Conser.

There was only one thing to mar the pleasure of the meeting and that was the scarcity of seats. Many people were forced to stand up during the meeting owing to the large number of people present.

E. L. Freeland acted as chairman, and after stating the objects of the meeting introduced F. E. Beech, of Portland.

Mr. Beech delivered a short address which had the ring of business all the way through.

"We want the interior cities to realize what is in store for them, and we want to see every locality united and pulling in the same direction," said Mr. Beech.

The speaker impressed the audience with the fact that while the business interests of Portland were well represented, the business men making up the excursion were not here to take orders, but were here for the purpose of stirring up a feeling of encouragement, and if we had any special questions of interest in Heppner that they were here to help us along in every way possible.

As an illustration Mr. Beech took Baker City. He said that the citizens of that town wanted a better railroad station building, and now that Portland business men understand the situation, Baker City can safely rely upon the hearty co-operation of Portland in gaining the desired end.

And it was the same way with Heppner, continued Mr. Beech. If there was anything to make Heppner more prosperous, Portland was ready and wanted to take hold of the matter and help. He said that Heppner had the reputation of being a large distributor of merchandise and Portland business men wanted to get better ac-

HORSMAN KILLS McBROOM

INSTANTLY KILLED BY BULLET IN THE BRAIN.

Affray Occurred at Stockmen's Meeting at the Gurdane Schoolhouse.

George Horsman shot and instantly killed Clarence McBroom, at about half past eleven o'clock last Saturday forenoon at the Gurdane schoolhouse.

The tragedy occurred at a stockmen's meeting called for the purpose of discussing forest reserve matters concerning the cattlemen of the Gurdane district.

Dillard French, a resident of Gurdane, who was an eye witness to the affair, was in Heppner, Monday and to the Gazette gave out the following:

Horsman and McBroom had had previous trouble. Horsman arrived at the schoolhouse first. McBroom came soon after and as soon as the two men met, McBroom struck Horsman with his fist and a fight ensued in which Horsman was worsted. In the encounter Horsman was down when the men were parted.

Horsman went to a nearby spring and washed the blood from his face and McBroom entered the schoolhouse, coming out again when the trouble was again renewed when Horsman drew a revolver and fired. The ball entered the right eye and came out at the back of the head, death being instantaneous.

Horsman then telephoned to the sheriff of Umatilla county and gave himself up.

Horsman owns a big cattle ranch in the Gurdane country, part of his land being in Morrow county.

McBroom is a young man, unmarried and also owned a small ranch in the Gurdane country.

WANT LOWER FREIGHT RATES

Petition Sent to Oregon Railroad Commission Asking for Reduction.

Morrow county farmers feel that they are compelled to pay a freight rate that is excessive from Heppner and way points to Portland, on wheat.

A petition was circulated this week which will be sent to the Oregon Railroad Commission asking for a readjustment or reduction of rates.

The rates now are: Heppner to Portland, 198 miles. 18c per hundred; Pendleton to Portland, 231 miles, 15c per hundred; Wallula, 214 miles and Irrigon 180 miles, the rate is 15c.

Prior to the year 1905, the rate was 15c.
