MURDERED FOR MONEY

E. F. Zaspell Shot in Back of the Head.

George Webb Suspected of Crime and Makes Quick Get Away — Officers in Pursuit.

The body of E. F. Zaspell was found in this city last Sunday evening, near Geo. Aikin's residence, with a bullet hole in his head, and there is every evidence that the affair was a cold blooded murder, and that a stranger by the name of Geo. Webb was the perpetrator of the horrible crime.

Webb came here about a year and a half ago and worked for Geo. Curran, herding sheep. He was known only by a few people, having made but few acquaintances. About all that is known of him is that when drinking he is quarrelsome and often flashed a gun.

Zaspell has been around Heppner for some time, having at one time been in the butcher business in this city. He was an eccentric character and made but few friends. Less than a year ago he got into trouble and quit the butcher business. He went out herding sheep for Hynd Bros. where he worked for several months, returning to Heppner last week.

The latter part of last week he was employed by the Myers threshing outfit. He came to town on Saturday and running onto Webb, hired him to go out to the Myers outfit to work in threshing.

Zaspell and Webb had supper here Sunday evening, when Zaspell took his team and light wagon, with a saddle in the rig and a saddle horse hitched behind and in company with Webb started out for the threshing machine in the vicinity of Lexington. This was about 7 o'clock in the evening.

At a little after eight o'clock, the little daughter of Wm. Straight, hearing somebody drive up near their residence, and thinking that it was her father, went out and found a team mixed up in a barbed wire fence and the rig overturned. Running to the house the alarm was given and the team was found to be Zaspell's. Further investigation resulted in the finding of Zaspell's body where it had been thrown out of the wagon when the vehicle was turned over.

Marshal Gardane was the first officer notified at about 9 o'clock on the evening of the murder. The marshal immediately called up Sheriff Shutt and the two officers took lanterns and commenced to investigate. The wagon tracks of Zaspell's rig were followed back from where the body was found to about a mile below Heppner where it was found that the rig had been turned around and Zaspell's two dogs were waiting at the turn of the wagon tracks.

Coming back to where the body was found, the officers followed the track of a single running horse from the rig up Hinton creek until two o'clock in the morning.

Coming to the conclusion that Webb was making for Echo on the saddle horse, Marshal Gardane returned to Heppner and Sheriff Shutt accompanied by W. T. McRoberts, made a hard ride reaching Echo in a little more than four hours.

At Echo, no trace of the missing man could be found and the sheriff returned to this city.

Early Monday morning the missing saddle horse was found near Echo with the saddle and bridle off. Later the saddle and bridle were found where they had been

WANT A BETTER ROAD TO HEPPNER

Wants of Potts People Taken up by Commercial Club.

E. L. Freeland who was recently in the Potts country and who talked with a number of prominent people in the prosperous Potts district was impressed and surprised with the number of people from that district who wanted to trade in Heppner. The only barrier is the question of building a road.

The matter has been taken up by the Commercial Club and a meeting was held by this body at the Commercial Club's rooms yesterday evening.

There was a good attendance of business men and the different questions of interest were discussed in a thorough manner.

Mr. Freeland stated that the desire of the people in the Potts country to come to Heppner was only natural for the reason that they are now going a distance of 45 miles to Pendleton, where if there were a road to Heppner which could be made at no great expense, the distance would be only 25 miles.

Newt Jones who is well acquainted in the neighborhood where the new road would go, said that to go up Willow creek to White's saw mill, it would be only necessary to build six miles of new road, making the distance about 24 miles with only one hill to speak of.

E. L. Freeland, R. F. Hynd, S. P. Garrigue, W. O. Minor and Newt Jones were appointed as a committee to look into the cost and feasibility of the new road.

John Flemming, the well known stock buyer, was an incoming passenger Tuesday evening.
