The Buckeyes have it

It's the fifth week of the season, and the Ohio State Buckeyes find themselves in a situation they're not familiar with: They're in danger of losing.

To the Hoosiers, no less. Ezekiel Elliott, running back for the scarlet and gray, has the answer. He runs for 274 yards on 23 carries, including touch-down runs of 55, 65 and 75 yards, before watching from the sideline as Indiana tries in vain to answer back.

Moments later, the Buckeyes run off the field, fingers pointing to the sky. They came onto the field ranked No. 1 in the nation and they ran off the field in the same position.

It's nothing new to the Buckeyes. In fact, they've run off the field No. 1 as often as any team in the nation, and by the time you read this, more times than any other program in history.

There were more than 250 participants in last Sunday's third annual Dive for the Cure, a fundraiser for Oregon Health Science University's Knight Cancer Institute that took place at the Lake Woahink Day Use Area. Held in conjunction with Breast Cancer Awareness Month, divers from around the region participated in events such as the underwater poker run and flipper race, as well as listened to speakers — all while raising money for the cancer institute. Local contributions as of Monday totaled more than $44,000, with an additional $75,000 being donated by corporate sponsor Burger King. "This makes Dive for the Cure the largest grassroots fundraiser for the OHSU Knight Cancer Institute, with more than $500,000 being raised in the last eight years," said Diana Hollingshead of Dive for the Cure. The Vikings had their hands full last Tuesday night on the road at Marshfield, taking on the league's only unbeaten team (7-0) which, with two more Far West wins, could wrap up its third-straight league title.

"We knew it would be our biggest challenge and a win would be big for us," said Siuslaw coach Angie Herring, whose team had sole possession of second place coming into the game.

After losing the first set 25-14, the Viks came back strong in game two, leveraging a 19-11 lead on power hitting from junior Elyssa Rose and senior Taylor Dotson.

But the Pirates, who are now 17-0 overall, don't sink easily and battled back to narrowly take the second set, 25-23. That momentum carried into the third set for a three-game sweep, 25-13.

Rose had eight kills and three blocks for Siuslaw, with Dotson scoring seven kills and one block. Freshman Makenzie York had four kills and three blocks.

The loss meant the Vikings (4-3) no longer had sole possession of second place, sharing it with South Umpqua as they headed back home to Glenn Butler Court to host Brookings-Harbor on

A WEEKLY FISHING REPORT FOR THE LOCAL REGION

www.dfw.state.or.us/RR

MID COAST LAKES:

Fishing for the various warm water fish species is fair to good during the summer months. There are numerous lakes in the Florence area that can provide good opportunity and have boat and bank access.

SIUSLAW RIVER:
Chinook, coho, cutthroat trout

Fall Chinook fishing is producing fair to good results from the lower bay up to Cushman with fair numbers of fish starting to push up to the Mapleton area. Trolling herring, spinners or bobber fishing can all be productive.

The wild coho fishery is open through Oct. 15 with a daily bag limit of 1 adult coho and seasonal limit of 2 adult coho (in aggregate with other areas with the same bag limit). The lower bay up to the North Fork confluence typically produces the best results early in the season. Lake Creek will not open for wild coho in 2015.

The cutthroat trout fishery is fair for sea runs in the lower reaches of the river and in upper tide water. Fishing during the early mornings or near the larger tributaries is the most productive.

ALSEA RIVER: Chinook, coho, cutthroat trout
