New bench memorial for former WLAD manager

Members of Western Lane Ambulance District (WLAD) recently thanked the supporters who donated towards the purchase of a special memorial bench in remembrance and honor of former WLAD district manager Henry Hanf.

The memorial bench was the idea of Hanf, according to senior paramedic and supervisor David Rossi.

"Two weeks before he died, Henry said the only thing he wanted was a concrete bench in memory of him," Rossi said.

The bench was a combination of concrete and recyclable items and constructed by Hayneedle Inc., a company located on the East Coast.

"I think it was a great idea because it's where he sat a lot, and we would gather around and talk to him there," Rossi said.

The new Henry Hanf Memorial Bench was recently installed to honor the former Western Lane Ambulance district manager.

It was also a place where Hanf would allow for some stress relief and conduct some district business.

"The bench became a recognizable part of his management and dedication to Western Lane Ambulance District," said current district manager Brian Burright. "It was a place where he would contemplate decisions for the betterment of the district."

After Hanf passed away, numerous members of the community asked what they could do, and were informed of Hanf's wishes regarding the bench. The community worked in conjunction with the ambulance district and the International Association of Firefighters Local 851, which is the union representing the WLAD EMTs and paramedics.

"A lot of people wanted to do something for Henry and they were able to contribute financially to make this happen," Burright added.

On the bench are memorial plaques that illustrate Hanf's professional life and his dedication to public service.

The plaques include his service in the 1st U.S. Marine Corps Division, as chief of Harrisburg Fire Department, his work at the Oregon State Fire Marshal's Office, and his time as Western Lane Ambulance's district manager.

Members of the community who wish to come visit the bench and reflect on its meaning and memories, are welcome to do so.
