OBITUARY

THOMPSON—Timothy Edmond Thompson, 69, of Florence, passed away April 13, 2017.

Born June 15, 1947, Tim was a dear and gentle man who loved animals and had a keen knowledge of geography, climate and rain patterns, physics, plants, rocks and shells. With a quirky sense of humor and a boyish smile, Tim was a joy and a privilege to know.

Timothy Thompson

He enjoyed walking to the library, rides to the beach and old town, his chairs exercise class, documenting his thoughts on physics, chemistry, and science, his weekly shopping trips and attending church.

As a boy, his pets included an angora goat, an armadillo, two Dachshunds, cats, turtles, tortoises and a boa constrictor.

Lately, his joy of animals revolved around his five goldfish.

Tim is survived by his sister, Liz, in Berkeley, Calif.; and by the friends here who loved him.

When faced with his impending death, and asked if he was worried or afraid, his simple answer was “not much” and “I’m ready for the next great adventure.”

Lane County offers Recycler’s Handbook

Lane County is ready to help spread the recycle word this Earth Day, April 22. There are 5,000 free copies of the Recycler’s Handbook available to schools, teachers, events, churches and groups of any kind. Recycling and reducing waste is something easy that can be practiced each day to take care of the planet and protect its future. It can be hard to remember all the details, so keep a copy of the Recycler’s Handbook to look up what to do with items such as old paint, Styrofoam, tires and more. To order a copy of the booklet, contact Waste Reduction Specialist Sarah Grimm at 541-682-4339 or Master Recycler Coordinator Kelly Bell at 541-682-2059. Up to three copies can be mailed. Larger quantities will need to be picked up during business hours.

Correction

In the front-page article, “Waving Flags,” in the April. 15, 2017, issue of the Siuslaw News, the article said Kim Stokes was a second-grade teacher. Stokes teaches fifth-grade. Siuslaw News regrets the error.
