POLITICAL.

Iowa is for Blaine.

All the district attorneys in Mississippi are Democrats but one. Fourteen negroes will occupy seats in the Mississippi legislature.

all state officers and a legislature every year.

run. -N. Y. Graphic.

Boston women to the number of 700 have registered to vote for members of the school board; last year the number was 200. The Democrats of Iowa are confident they can carry that state if the pass a prohibitory law. The declaration of the Ohio wool-the Fort Scott, Texas Record advo-cates, reads: "For President, Jeffer-son Davis; for Vice-President, Fitz-hugh Lee." That paper seriously urges the Democrats to nominate this ticket, which, it says, "would sweep the South."

George Alfred Townsend telegraphs to the Cincinnati Enquirer: "I think I have discovered that James G. Blaine and his friends are working for Judge Miller of the supreme court, to be the Republican candidate for President.

An enumeration of the voters of Indiana, just completed, shows an Indiana, just completed, shows an increase in six years of 41,674 whites tried the wonderful remedy. St Jaand 987 colored, an annual increase of cob's Oil, on a mare of mine, badly

Democrat (Republican) is commended | plications of the great pain-cure com to those uneasy men who are starting booms., etc. It reads as follows: "For president, the best Republican that can be named; for vice-presi-dent, the next best one."

Several Iowa Republican newspa-pers declare that recent estimates of the weakness of the new state legis-lature on the prohibition question are inaccurats. They say the Prohibitionists will be strong enough in the legislature to enact the necessary measures to carry through a constitutional amendment. The total vote of Virginia for legislative members at the late election was 271,836, against 196,627 for Congress at large in 1882. The Democratic majority now is 17,934, and the Read-justers' majority last year was 5,857. The total Readjuster increase this year is 25,719, and the Democratic, 49,490.

Terrible Sufferings of Political Prisoners

A Paris correspondent has forwarded a second letter written in blood by a Nihilist in a fort at St. Petersburg. It describes the harrow-ing treatment of prisoners. Prisoners rot away, and exhale odors as from dead bodies before life is extinct. The number of those who go mad in consequence of their sufferings are daily increasing. Madmen are strapped down and whipped with knouts by the keepers, and their fierce yells resound throughout the night. Many prisoners commit sui-cide. It is said that one woman was eriminally assaulted and then poisoned. Inquiries into the affair have been instituted. Rats are the worst enemies of the prisoners; a woman with a babe was obliged to be constantly on the watch, and fight night and day to prevent their ravages upon her child. The use of combs and soap is forbidden. The prisoners, especially the women, whose hair is allowed to grow, are literally devoured by lice. Prisoners who refuse to reply to questions are tortured, and criminal assaults upon women are frequent. The writer especially appeals to the civilized world in behalf of women in the prison, whose situation, he says, is far worse than the

France and China.

Admiral Peyron, minister of marine, has received a dispatch from Saigon, stating that the French forces reconnoitered within two and a half miles of Bacninh. Admiral Courbet has reconnoitered the approaches to Sontag on the Red river. On November 23 the French captured a junk near Hai-Phong, laden with combustibles, and with seven men on board. The sub-governor of Hai-Phong, having been suspected of collusion with the enemy, has been sent to Saigon for trial. Admiral Courbet, in a private letter to the governor of Cochin China, states that operations will shortly begin. He says, "We are eager to march. other dispatch says that a Chinese night attack on Hai-Phong has been frustrated by the French. The Chin-ese advanced close to Hai-Phong and burned a village. French gunboats and troops were dispatched to the scene and the enemy routed.
