were arrested yesterday, charged with killing elk out of season; they gave bonds in the sum of $200 each for their appearance Monday. Walla Walla and Tacoma have been notified from Spokane Falls that the city that gets the location of the next northwestern firemen's association tournament must put up $1,500.

Regarding those "open cesspools in the rear of the school house in dis-trict No. One," THE ASTORIAN is requested to state that they were "filled tion" three weeks ago.

Geo. Munsell, employed on the gov ernment works at Fort Stevens, fell between two cars while in motion yesterday, and broke his left leg and dislocated the hip joint. He was re-moved to the hospital and competent of sonthwestern Washing-one, without exception, receives vast sargical aid summoned.

And now it is demonstrated that Clatsop county can grow grapes, Hen-ry Powell having some Catawbas of delicate flavor. Job Ross has raised figs, and probably if some one was to try raising lemons and olives, they could be produced, too.

The illustrated papers, or those of them that reach here are very weak in their cartoons and comic take-offs regarding the presidential election this year. Puck, especially, which was so full of vim in '84, is nothing but a feeble little ki-yi at Blaine's

John M. Osborne, of Salem, was arrested last Friday on a charge of opening mail matter addressed to his wife, and was taken before U.S. commissioner Walton and bound over in $300 to await the action of the United States grand jury. John will know better next time.

If some one will bring some hams to this city that are not covered with paper, paint, mold, canvas, and other things too numerous to mention, he will hear of something to his advantage from numerous people who want to eat a slice of broiled ham these cool September mornings.

Word was received from Deep river yesterday of the death of Axel Victor Anderson, of consumption, aged 36 years. The remains will be brought from Deep river to-day to his residence in upper town. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and the Finnish Brotherhood. The A. O. U. W. pays the widow of the deceased $2,000. Interment at Clatsop to-morrow.

At a meeting of those interested in the proposed deep sea fishing enterprise at Barth's yesterday evening, at which Messrs. Henderson, Mortensen, McCann, Christiansen, Strom and others were present, it was decided to incorporate the Deep Sea fishing company to-morrow, and immediately open stock books for the building and equipment of a suitabuilding and equipiment of a suita-ble vessel to engage in the business.

in advertising for it says: "It wasn't branded or wattled, and wasn't shod, and didn't have saddle marks, but it was about one year old—just in the springtime of a useful life, as it were and if the person it followed off will kindly and quietly put it back where he got it, and leave his address, we will see that the fact is prominently mentioned when he dies."

The Geo. W. Elder's passengers are as follows: J. A. Ridgley, J. D. Thompson, J. Watson, J. Hass, N. W. Philbrook, Miss M. Lissak, Mrs. C. A. Cook, Miss M. Strahan, Miss T. F. Jones, Miss L. Mason, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Revey, Mrs. C. A. Fisher, Mrs. C. F. Lowry, J. P. Watson, R. F. Davis, J. R. Winder, L. Belle Knapp, Miss L. Clarkson, J. H. McDonald and wife, C. Lawson, C. Lane, Dr. H. Williams, J. M. D. Warefield.

There is such a word as "addresse." It was manufactured in the postoffice department. The postoffice clerks have constantly to refer to persons to whom letters, papers, etc., are addressed, and it being altogether too tedious to keep writing: "The person to whom the paper is addressed," and so on, they comed the word "addresse." It is such a convenient word that it is some a convenient word that it is coming into general use, and the dictionary makers will be obliged to recognize it and insert it in future editions of their works.

M. Jovis, a French æronaut, is building an air ship in which he proposes to attempt to cross the Atlantic from New York this fall. It is to be called the "Atlantic," and will be 200 feet high, with a cubic measurement of nearly 100,000 feet high. It will weigh 4,500 pounds, and will carry the same weight of passengers and freight. M. Jovis thinks he can make seventy miles an hour in it, and ex-pects to land in Norway or Sweden, or else in Ireland, in three and a half days after starting. The cost of the enterprise is fixed at about $40,000.

Our usually level headed friend the Albany Democrat got righteously vexed last week, and says: "every once in a while some fool of a stranger comes into the city and looks around a little, and then with his superior intelligence immediately sees how things are being run in the wrong way, gets his pencil and writes a long thesis to some local paper about how it ought to be done." Heigho; so it goes: knowledge increaseth sorrow; yea, verily: but strength comes through suffering. Gird up thy loins, Democrat man, and take advice. It is worth just what it costs.

The ingenuity exhibited in the different modes of spelling quite a com-mon name is curiously illustrated in the following incident: A lumber dealer in Minnesota, whose given name was Isaac, had quite an exten-sive correspondence. His bookkeeper made a memorandum of every time his name was misspelled in letters di-rected to him, and the list reads as Charles Starr and Herman Ahlers follows: Isiac, Iisac, Icaack, Iscac follows: Isaac, Isaac, Icaack, Iscac, Ysac, Isaag, Izic, Isiace, Icac, Isaach, Isic, Isiaace, Icaas, Icks, Iaasic, Aisec, Isaac, Iaasac, Iceic, Isaas, Isica, Iaac, Iassac, Izk, I Sic, Issach, Isac, Isick, Issace, Issace, Iseke, Issick, Isaak, Iisace, Isak, Isaack, Icaac, I Sick, Isich, Issac, Isace, Isoac, Isice, Isaic. NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Theodore Thomas has finally and fully decided not to make any further effort toward maintaining his great orchestra. Hereafter he will merely act as leader of the philharmonic society.

REFUSED TO RECORD IT.

BISMARCE, Dak., Sept. 22.—Geo. W. Sweet, a lawyer of Indianapolis, has offered for record a quit claim deed from Oscar Swanson of Livingston, M. T., to Sweet for a quarter section of the townsite of Bismarck, or what might be called the east half of the town. The consideration is only

The instrument purports to be a reconfirmation of sale made by Swanson, March 13, 1872. The register of deeds refuses to record the deed on the ground that it is but an inexcusable attempt to cloud the title of five or six hundred thousand dollars worth of property including half of the court house.

ANOTHER STRAW ON THE CAMEL'S BACK. New York, Sept. 22.—A special from Ottawa, Ontario, states that a matter which may strongly tend to weaken the already strained relations between the dominion and the United States has presented itself in connection with the limits of jurisdiction at points adjacent to the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia. The result of the recent investibia. The result of the recent investigations reported to government here show that the valuable gold fields which have been discovered and which are now being worked on the Yukon river are in British, not in United States territory, as has all along been supposed. These gold fields are represented to be of great

YELLOW FEVER REFUGEES. New York, Sept. 22.—Two refugees from the quarantine camp in Florida were arrested to-day by the health officers of the city and taken to North Brothers island, where they are kept close prisoners. The refugees came from an infected city, said to be Jacksonville. They had agreed voluntarily to undergo ten days quarantine before continuing their journey. before continuing their journey. They broke their parole and came through by rail. The health authorities here are in close telegraphic communication with the infected districts and will arrest all who are found violating their parole.

A BEPUBLICAN CAUCUS. Washington, Sept. 22.—The Republican senators held a caucus from 10 A. M. to 2:30 P. M., to-day, about which they are more than ordinarily reticent. It is given out the the territorial bills will be restored to the head of the calendar for immediate consideration after the appropriation bills are disposed of, and senator Sherman's trust bill is to follow. It is also said on authority that the tariff adjustment question and every-thing else in the range of immediate legislation will probably be discussed and no decision will be reached.

THANKS FOR AID. New York, Sept. 22.—Acting man-ager Gerow, of Jacksonville, Florida, writes to the charity committee of the produce exchange, expressing thanks for its generous aid. He says Jack-sonville has enough to last thirty days but it will have to be divided with McClenny and Gainesville, and that the fever cannot be expected to end before December, so that much more help will be required.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from dissystem and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to con tain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrap. It will give you immediate relief.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pils, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Jno. C. Dement Druggist.

FIRE IN THE CALIFORNIA WOODS

You are in the redwoods and the hour is about 10 o'clock at night. The heat has been intense all day and the air has been full of smoke. The forest is on fire, either on your own place or on that of one of your neigh-bors; for every one turns out to fight bors; for every one turns out to fight the common enemy, and your house or his, or both, may be threatened. All day your men have been busy with ax and shovel making a trail through the woods or clearing out an old one. A trail for this purpose is merely a narrow pathway through the woods, from which the brush is cut and the fallen leaves cleared away, so that the fire will not be able to run across it. fire will not be able to run across it. This trail has been cut in a semicircle round the fire, but at some considerable distance from it, Now you pro-ceed to kindle the brush all along the edge of the trail on the side toward the burning forest.

Already you hear in the distance the roar of the fire as it advances, the crackling and crashing of the branch-es as they fall from some rotten tree, the cracking, hissing and rushing of the flames as they leap up some bank thickly covered with brush; and every moment it is drawing nearer and moment it is drawing nearer and nearer, sometimes with leaps and bounds where it finds plenty to prey upon, sometimes creeping along the ground by means of the fallen leaves with which the forest is carpeted. Meanwhile the fires which you have lighted, so small at first, are growing as they advance and will soon rival the fire they were made to combat. On they go. and will soon rival the fire they were made to combat. On they go, seizing everything they meet on their way. Fallen trees, piles of slabs, branches and tree-tops left by the woodman, with great masses of brush and bramble, provide food enough. On it goes, for your different fires have now joined, and one great wall of flame goes racing forward, leaving behind it piles of burning timber, while here and there some unsound tree takes fire and stands out a huge flaming torch, burning often for days tree takes fire and stands out a huge flaming torch, burning often for days after the rest of the fire has passed away or left only a few smouldering logs behind. The forest, which a few moments before was sunk in the deep-est gloom, is now lighted up to its ut-most recesses by a deep lurid glow, making the great trees look weird and ghastly as it plays on their huge trunks and massive limbs. The noise hecomes terrific the maring crashing comes terrific, the roaring, crashing erackling, groaning and hissing in-creases as the two fires approach each other. Nearer and nearer they each other. Nearer and nearer they come, two great waves of flame, licking up everything as they pass; nearer still and nearer—then, with a roar like thunder at one bound they leap the intervening space, hurl themselves into each other's arms, and coiling twisting and shrieking in one wild embrace, send great tongues of fire shooting high into the heavens, lighting up the most distant mountain ing up the most distant mountain tops with a bright red glow. All danger is now passed, only care is still required. The men gather from their different parts along the line—a ragged, smoky, grimy looking crew you think them, and are probably a good deal surprised when you get ome the next morning to find that the raggedest, grimiest, smokiest of the lot was yourself A huge demi-john is now produced, and Califor-man though it be, without even the usual addition of a French label, no wine ever tasted as well as that wine does after the heat and toil of the fight.

Nothing much now remains to be done. Most of the men go home to bed, a few only remaining to patrol the trail and watch that the fire does not break out beyond it. There are dangerous spots on every trail, where, for instance, great masses of fallen timber keep smouldering on, occasionally blazing up and throwing out sparks for some days, or a standing tree, having caught fire, may threat-en to fall across the trail and kindle the dry brush beyond. — William Maitland in Nineteenth Century.
