

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1888.

The dismissal of Mr. Denny, the American adviser of the king of Corea, has been demanded by the viceroy, Li Hung Chang.

Four hundred men are required to take the great City of New York across the Atlantic and attend to the wants of her passengers.

To-morrow Dutchmen will celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the liberation of the Netherlands from French domination, and the re-establishment of national independence.

Miss STERLING, an English captain in the salvation army, has been condemned to 100 days' imprisonment for converting children under age at Orbe, in the Swiss Canton of Vaud.

The marriage of Hon. Chas. S. Voorhees, the present delegate to Congress from Washington territory, to Miss Fannie Belle Vajean, took place last Wednesday in Indianapolis, Ind. He is more successful in love than in politics.

The London Economist says: After the death of Gladstone, home rule will have to stand on its own merits. Gladstone's present colleagues being inferior, nobody is able to predict who is to succeed him. His equals have all abandoned him.

A public slave market is in full activity in Cabul every three months, bringing their human wares by hundreds from Kafiristan. Girls fetch the highest price, and are sold by measurement of the hand, the cost being from about £1 18s to £2 17s per hand.

From Lloyd's return for the quarter ending September 30, 1888, it appears there is a remarkable increase in the amount of work in progress in the ship building yards of the United Kingdom. The number of vessels in the course of construction is 400, as against 249 in the corresponding quarter of last year.

A raft of piles destined for Boston has been built at Norfolk, Va. It is in six sections, strongly bound together, and the piles in each section are securely fastened with wires. The whole raft will be 600 feet long with 25 feet beam, and a draught of 7 feet, so that it may go through the canals from Norfolk, whence it will be towed to Boston by sea.

The silk manufactory of Northampton, Mass., has the deepest well in this country—that is, it is 3,700 feet deep and eight inches in diameter, but at the depth of 150 feet from the surface a sedimentary sandstone was struck, which continued the whole depth, and water was never obtained. At St. Louis there is a well 3,108 feet deep, which yields an abundance of sulphur water.

Bishop Foss, of the Methodist church, was tackled a few days ago by a prominent prohibitionist who wished to convert him to his theories. Finally, in desperation the prohibitionist said: "Well, Bishop, answer me this question honestly and fairly, and if we don't agree on that I'll let you alone: Now, if you saw a mad dog in the street, snapping at every body in his path and dooming them to a horrible death, what would you do? Would you try to restrain him and capture him alive, or would you not rather shoot him dead?" "Well," said Dr. Foss, meditatively, but with conclusive firmness, "if I had been blazing away at him for thirty years without hitting him, I don't know but what I would try the other plan!"

The act of incorporation of the Nicaragua Canal company passed the legislature last Tuesday. It is the same act which was introduced in the U. S. senate last session by Edmunds. Acting on the advice of Edmunds who drew the bill, the parties interested in the enterprise decided to ask the Vermont legislature for a charter. Several of the incorporators named in the act are Vermonters, including Frederick Billings and Col. Franklin Fairbank. The gentlemen named appeared before a joint legislative committee last week to testify concerning the proposed measure. The promoters of the enterprise stated that they were all ready to begin actual work on the canal as soon as the charter is obtained.

The dominant question in the political contest just ended was the preservation of the protective system which has so successfully established the manufactures of this country by protecting them against foreign competition. President Cleveland made that the issue in his December message, and after a vigorous discussion, he suffered a decisive defeat by losing all but one of the four northern states which in 1884 helped to elect the Democratic candidate. When the system upon which the prosperity of the northern states was founded was assailed, an irresistible tide of public opinion arose which overwhelmed all opposition. The result is one which justifies the expressions of joy which are heard from infant manufactures in all parts of the country, not alone in the northern states, but in some portions of the south also. To be sure those portions of the south in favor of a protective policy are not at present large enough to enforce attention to their needs, but they are growing in importance and the industrial changes that are taking place in the south will before many years greatly change the political situation in that section, and eradicate, to a great extent, the sectional feeling which is so much responsible for that undesirable combination known as the solid south. When the manufacturing interests in the south are properly developed the line between the north and south will disappear and the whole country will be united in a community of commercial and manufacturing interests. There will be little more tariff discussion in congress except as to details of tariff revision, which may be to the advantage of the country. Facts which have been established by an experience of twenty-five years will not give place to theories.

How to Cook Husbands.

Miss Corson said in the Baltimore cooking school that a Baltimore lady had written a receipt for "cooking husbands, so as to make them tender and good." It is as follows: "Make a clear, steady fire out of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Set him as near this as seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzes do not be anxious; some husbands do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently; watch the while, lest he lie too flat and close to the kettle and become useless. You cannot fail to know when he is done. If thus treated, you will find him digestible, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want, unless you become careless and set him in too cold a place."

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store.
