

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1889.

A THOUSAND dollars is the quoted price of timber claims at present; with the supply fully equal to the demand.

The present tendency is in selling realty in the city, to discard the old fashion of selling lots 50x100 feet and make the lots 25x100. The system has its advantages.

A COLUMBIA river salmon-canner says he is going to pack his salmon in glass next year: great scheme: none genuine unless the trade mark is blown in the bottle.

Don Pedro is out of business in Brazil. He is pretty well fixed financially: he is credited with being worth $300,000. He might come to this country, and try for the United States senate. He has all the qualifications.

To make your Thanksgiving dinner taste better to-morrow, look around for some one who would enjoy one as much as you, yourself, and see that he or she is not denied the opportunity. Your own will be all the sweeter.

All the motor lines, electric street railways, cable car systems, and other proposed devices of that nature deserve encouragement, and hearty cooperation. Astoria needs rapid transportation, and adequate means in that direction will build the city up very fast.

Ham from Chicago, hard from Kansas City, corn beef from Omaha, eggs from Iowa, butter from Illinois, bacon from San Francisco, job printing from St. Louis, - protection to American industries is a great thing, in theory: it is still greater and even more commendable in practice.

A DEPUTATION of British Columbia fishermen have arrived at Astoria. They will ask for the removal of the entry tax on Chinese. They represent that Chinese labor is essential to the salmon packing industry, and that without it the industry would collapse. The visitors will also ask the government to remove the duty of 33 per cent. on mining machinery.

THE ASTORIAN is in receipt of an official communication from the governor of North Dakota, and the governor of South Dakota, denying all published reports of suffering or starvation in those twin commonwealths. Their excellencies admit that things are a little rocky in some parts of those infant states, but assert their ability to pull through the winter all right. We are glad to hear it, and shall eat our Thanksgiving turkey with a lighter heart, in the happy consciousness that no one in the fair land of the Dakotas is destitute.

THE Victoria custom house has received positive orders from Ottawa to strictly enforce the recent order in the council, prohibiting American shipping from carrying Canadian bonded freight. This knocks out the O. R. & N. from all this trade which comes over American railroads. The Victoria board of trade is vigorously protesting against the order, as it is very detrimental to that city. An endeavor will be made to have the order rescinded. It will hurt not only Victoria, but the whole province, as it will give the Canadian Pacific railway a monopoly of Canadian trade. The Union Pacific people last Monday, secured a British steamer to carry Canadian freight in bond from Puget sound ports to Victoria in the event of the recent custom order prohibiting the landing by American bottoms not being suspended.

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER of New York, announces his intention to introduce measures in the next congress to enable the people to elect in their respective sections, postmasters, collectors of internal revenue, custom house officials and other federal officers.

Fowler says that under the present system the wishes of the majority are defeated in a great many cases. Politics are now everything in federal appointments, when politics should not be at all considered. The government should be only a business machine. Local self government is the strongest bulwark of the constitution. He thinks under his scheme the best available men would be selected for postmasters, without regard to party. According to the bill, or constitutional amendment, which he proposes to introduce, the president would have the power to remove an officer who failed to attend to his duty or who proved to be corrupt. After the removal the people should have the power to select a successor, just as they do in case of elective offices now. At present the postoffice department is the greatest of the government. Sixty thousand postmasters are all dependent for appointment on the will of one man or two men. The power of the postoffice is well nigh almighty throughout the country. It is a sort of secret confessional and the party in power is the confessor. The President has a kingly prerogative. He is more of a king than many who bear the name. The people should not be dictated to by the President. Elections such as described are the only methods of making a government of, for and by the people. The change would have the effect of giving the President more time to consider questions of state, and relieve him from office-vending business.

Specials to The Astorian.

A Train Held Up and Robbed of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars.

A British Steamship Burned at Sea.

PORTLAND, Nov. 26.—This morning in the criminal court, district attorney McGinn moved for dismissal of the indictments against L. G. English, a young Sacramento charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by means of drafts drawn upon fictitious firms. Mr. McGinn's course in this case was not prompted by a mother's tears or pleadings, but he was guided in the matter by a sense of justice and humane sentiment, based upon affidavits and certificates from men in high position in California, testifying to English's irresponsibility.

DARING TRAIN ROBBERY.

St. Louis, Nov. 26.—About 12 o'clock last night fifteen masked and armed men boarded the south bound Tropic and Santa Fe passenger train at Berwyn station in the Indian territory and cut the engine, mail and express car loose from the coaches. They then ran the train south two miles, and threw the fireman off the locomotive. Two miles farther the engineer was thrown off, and after running four miles farther steam was turned off and the locomotive "killed." Then the robbers began an attack on the express car. The guard and messenger fired some twenty shots, but finally gave in after the robbers had literally riddled the car. The money stolen is between $20,000 and $30,000 and came principally from Chicago.

SHIP BURNED.—ALL SAVED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The steamer Energie, which arrived here to-day, reports that at noon on the 15th inst., off Nantucket, she spoke the ship A. J. Fuller from Liverpool for New York, which signalled, "Have on board crew and passengers of steamer Santiago." All saved. Ship destroyed by fire.

The steamer referred to is possibly the British steamer Santiago, which sailed hence Nov. 17 for Hull.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.

PORTLAND, Nov. 26.—Capt. E. W. Spencer, owner of the steamer City of Salem, says he has a force of eighteen men at work rebuilding that steamer which is lying in the dry dock at Oregon City. She will have a new cylinder, timbers, deck guards, new bow and repairs and alterations to her house. The old set of machinery will be completely overhauled and she will be out and ready for business in about two weeks. Captain Spencer says his Alma route between here and Maxwell's landing is flourishing.

This morning, the little steamer brought up from there sixty-eight passengers.

SANDY OLD'S CONDITION.

A deputy sheriff who has occasion to spend considerable time in the gloomy precincts of the county jail says "Sandy Olds, the murderer of Emil Webber is not a stout-hearted as he appears on the surface. There are moments when locked up in his cage, and believing himself to be unobserved, he sheds tears and quietly bemoans his fate. He has great hopes of a reversal of judgment sentencing him to death and thinks that the punishment for the cold blooded crime will not exceed a few years in the penitentiary. His friends still stick closely, and so far he has not been compelled to subsist on prison fare. He usually pale face is paler than ever, and his eyes are somewhat sunken, but he has grown heavier since being confined."

A SERIOUS BLUNDER.

A lady nearly prostrated by a Patent Medicine. A lady well-known in the Western Addition has been a great sufferer for years with indigestion and dyspepsia. Struck with the testimonial of Joy's Vegetable Sanaparilla, she sent for a bottle. The druggist, not having it, talked them into taking another medicine. As the leading sanaparilla use mineral blood purifiers, the effect of the emptying of iodine of potash into a stomach already distressingly delicate was disastrous, almost prostrating her before the mistake was rectified. She then called upon Mrs. Fowler, of 227 Ellis street, whose name was among those cured by Joy's Vegetable Sanaparilla. Mrs. Fowler said it was true that it had cured her. She renewed the vegetable compound was sent for and gotten. The gentle action of the vegetable stimulants upon the liver, kidneys and digestive organs, and its warm stomach tonic, were the very things needed, and she began improving and was like old self within a fortnight. This sounds like old fiction, but the names can be given if necessary.—San Francisco Examiner.

The Old Wonder and Novender.

Captain Turner, of the late steamer Wonder, has his new boat that is to take the old route of the old steamer mentioned, nearly finished and will be launched to-morrow. As she now sits upon the ways, on the other side of the river, just above the landing of the Jefferson street ferry, she is one of the prettiest shaped craft that one ever had the pleasure to see. The old steamer Wonder is still on the way, between the new boat and the water. She will be relaunched this morning, and her repulsive-looking hull will probably be sold to some man who is looking for cheap firewood, provided any one can be found that will buy her. The name of the new boat will be the "Novender," and the Captain has sent to San Francisco for the flags and other "paraphanalia," with the new name embroidered thereon. It has been said, possibly by malicious persons, that when the old steamer was being built every one was "wondering" where he got the money, and now that the new boat is built Captain Turner is being credited with the original christening of the boat for obvious reasons.—Portland Journal, 25.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. J. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Herrick & Co. of Shelbyville, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at J. W. Conn's Drug Store.

THE "FEARLESS" DISASTER.

And Inspectors Edwards and McDermott.

Inspectors Edwards and McDermott, being questioned by an Oregonian reporter as to having allowed the tag Fearless to go to sea after having first forbidden it.

"The statement is entirely without foundation," said Mr. Edwards. The Fearless had never been forbidden to go to sea. She was inspected last September and found to be all O. K. She has a Pacific ocean license to go to sea. That is what she is for. She is a bar tug. Parties who saw her say that she had her white lights up, and the green and red ones also.

"She had on board," said Mr. McDermott, "a full equipment of sail, and could keep outside if she wanted to. Captain Hill was not obliged to take the chances of coming inside if there was anything wrong with the tug. The fact that the boat was furnished with life preservers, and that the life boat, when it drifted ashore, was just as it had hung on the davits, with the oars lashed to the bottom of the boat, shows that there had been no warning of any trouble, and that when the end came it was begun and all over with in the time you would take to speak your name."

"Captain Hill had, I suppose, no peer on the Pacific coast to-day," resumed Mr. Edwards, "as a bar pilot or tug man. We suppose that he was going in to take a ship out, as it was his turn. How it happened can never be known."

"One thing I will say, however, and that is that range lights should be established at the place. The bar there is constantly shifting, and lights should certainly be established."

Both of the inspectors agreed that the accident demonstrates the shortsightedness of the policy which has withheld bar or range lights from that dangerous bar. Captain Hill was in and out of the bay frequently, and knew as much about the bar as anyone could in the dark.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Salt, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 19 years' standing. Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: 'The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Stomach. Only a half dollar a bottle at J. W. Conn's Drug Store.'

Winkelhard's Bree.

And Free Lunch at the Telephone Saloon, 5 cents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winstown's SOUTHERN SWEET should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, soothes the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

All the patent medicines advertised in this paper, together with the choicest perfumery, and toilet articles, etc., can be bought at the lowest prices, at J. W. Conn's drug store, opposite Occident hotel, Astoria.
