OSTEOPATHIC PEBBLES.

Get right with nature. Osteopathy aims to help nature. Osteopathy is the reaction against drugs.

"Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."
Health means perfect physical adjustment of the body. Adjustment is the keynote.

Often a small anatomical defect

remedied will cure a most stubborn disease.

Pain is nature's warning that a pinched nerve or blood vessel is struggling for freedom.

Whatever interferes with blood or nerve supply is a prime cause of disease.

Osteopathy is an appeal to rational living and the common sense treatment of disease.

"Osteopathy, rubbing." When a vertebra of your spine is being forced into line or a twisted rib righted, you will hardly call it rubbing.

The "How" and "Why" of the treatment in any form of disease, acute or chronic, is explainable to your understanding by Osteopathy. If the Osteopath is educated.—Osteopathic Herald.

NOTICE OF SALE OF IMPOUNDED STOCK.

To Whom It May Concern: Notice is hereby given that pursuant to an ordinance passed by the city council of the City of Enterprise, Oregon, which said ordinance was approved on the 6th day of August, 1907, providing for the taking up, impounding and selling of live animals running at large within the corporate limits of said city of Enterprise, the following described animals, all of which were taken up and impounded in the city pound in said City of Enterprise, on the 28th day of September, 1909, will be sold at public auction in said City of Enterprise, Oregon, on the 10th day of November, 1909; that said animals are described as follows, to-wit:

One red brindle cow and calf branded on left hip with double S, is near as can be described, and silt in both ears.

One white-faced red yearling similarly branded on left hip and silt in both ears.

That said sale of said animals will be by public auction, and will be held on the said 4th day of November, 1909, between the hours of two (2) o'clock and four (4) o'clock in the afternoon of said day, and said sale will be held at the city pound of said City of Enterprise, Oregon, and 1/4 of said above described animals will be sold for cash to the highest bidder at said sale.

That at any time prior to the time set for the sale of said animals, the owner thereof shall have the right to take any and all of said animals by paying said city marshal or the care, charges and expenses of impounding, advertising and disposing of said animals.

Dated at Enterprise, Oregon, this 12th day of October, 1909.

CHAS. HUG,
City Marshal of the City of Enterprise, Oregon. 48w4 located at Oswego, a short distance north of the city. It is thought that he field for a cement factory here is unexcelled, because of the raw materials and the big market for the manufactured product.

Astoria is in the limelight because of a splendid building record during the first nine months of the year. Improvements carried on by the municipality and business interests there during 1909 total over $1,000,000. This is a splendid showing and with such a spirit being shown, Astoria's outlook is very bright.

COURT CONSIDERS BRIDGE NEAR TROY

tion the cost, not only of the bridge, but of making good roads up from it.

The two sites under consideration are first just above the ferry—be-### between the ferry and the mouth of the Salmon—and second, at the whirlpool, about one-half mile above Troy.

At the latter site the river is narrow and there is a natural rock abutment on one side. If the bridge is placed there it would mean in course of time a county road up Courtney and Shanrock canyons to Red Fir, giving not to exceed a 5 per cent grade at an estimated cost for the 17 miles of $8500.

The site near the ferry would mean, probably, the regrading of Troy hill. The grade of the hill can be reduced to 10 per cent according to the survey of County Surveyor Merryman.

The county court returned from the North Country, Monday.

SURGERY BLOODLESS AND OTHERWISE

Osteopathy believes in surgery. The Osteopath in fact is a surgeon in the best sense of the word. His work of correcting abnormalities, great and small, by manipulation is essentially surgical. And he believes in the use of the knife under many circumstances, as for the removal of abdominal growths, malformations and dead parts. But he believes in the use of the knife only when it has been found that there are no other means available. He is able in many kinds of cases to provide effective and successful treatment by his bloodless surgery where any doctor but an Osteopath would resort to cutting.—Right Way.
