WILL CALL SPECIAL ELECTION

Matters of General Interest Pertaining to This City and Vicinity.

Mr. Francis McHenry and Mr. C. A. Partlow, Oregon boosters, who are out gathering pictures and data of the Oregon country from which to have slides made, will address the Commercial clut on next Monday evening, showing some benutiful views and illustrating the work which they intend doing on a month's trip throughout the middle west, all members are requested to attend. The Bonville Western Monthly Magaine take this original way of advertising Oregon in the east. Mr. Mc-Henry is a noted impersonator and tecturer, and is well known on the coast. A free entrtainment will be given throughout the week. This goes along with the advertising proposition offered by the Commercial Club, by the Bonville Western Monthly Magazine for a certain number of subscriptions

Mr. Talkington is also interested in the Silver Slipper group with Mr. Goudy of this city. On this prope ty considerable work has been done, there being over 2000 feet of tunnels.

Curious Habits of Spiders.

The water spider carries air down with it when it dives. Dr. McCook law one remain forty-five minutes unler the water. One water spider builds a nest under the water attached to the stem of some plant and in the shape of a diving bell, with the opening downward. It fills this bell with air by taking down a bubble at a time. Coming to the surface, it incloses an air bubble under its body and instantly descends. Getting under the nest, the bubble is allowed to escape into it, nest is full of air. The spider then lays its eggs there, inclosed in a cocoon, and leaves them to grow in this underwater palace, safe from all flying foes. When these water spiders but, as only the less eminent singers A petition to the council asking are seen under water they look like that a special election be called to little balls of shining silver. Little is ever deceived. The management bubbles of air seem to cling among the hairs of their bodies. As spiders, like is meeting with the approval of a insects, breathe the air at little holes along the whole length of the body, they can easily make use of these bub-

Curzon and Davitt.

Once in the house of commons, when George Curzon was making some defense as to alieged harsh treatment by Turks of Cretan prisoners, he was interrupted by a query from Mr. Davitt, 'Were these prisoners handcuffed?" Quick as lightning came the reply, "Yes, and some honorable gentlemen ought to be no strangers to handcuffs.' This was of course the signal for a violent parliamentary tempest. A day or two after Mr. Curzon went up to Swift J. H. Akers, an aged citizen, died MacNeill and expressed his sorrow at Globe.

Making Men's Hats.

Men's hats, stiff or soft alike, are made from the fur of the rabbit. A copper cone, whose very top is more or less the shape of the crown of a derby hat and whose sides are covered with minute holes, is revolved very swiftly over a suction fan. The comes a finished hat by sizing, shrinking, shaping and trimming. Individual skill of a very high order counts for everything.-Argonaut.

> But hist! Be not too lavish with your sympathy, friend. Up to now Gwendolyn has pulled off only fourteen pounds of puffs, three miles of interlocking switches and a few detachable curls. She has some distance to go yet before she touches the real, cross your heart hair. Gwendolyn is merely distracted because her maid cannot get her floating hirsute equipment on in becoming array. She is simply getting ready for a fresh start.

Etiquette at Covent Garden.

Etiquette at Covent Garden is alcost as strict as that which prevails in the servants' hall of a great mansion, says London M. A. P. No prima donna must be addressed by an inferior, and the presentation of bouquets is a delicate matter, regulated with due regard for the feelings of the ladies. The claque still prevails; employ these "aids to success," nobody knows nothing of these men, who are hired by the singers to go into the gallery and applaud their employers vociferously. The custom is very common on the continent, where it also takes the more objectionable form of hiring men to hiss rivals off the stage. Happily that sort of thing would not be tolerated in England, and so the claque is confined to the minor members of the company, who bring over with them an insatiable desire for applause and are so determined to get i claquers receive a fee of 2 shillings, in addition to the payment for their Meal Monday.

The students in the Scotch universities annually enjoy their "Meal Monremember how the holiday was instiof January their "meal kists" had run journey halfway home, meeting at this point his parent or brother, who brought with him a second load of the simple diet. The holiday was fixed on a Monday so as to allow the undergraduate the benefit of the preceding Saturday. In times past the journeys would often extend to fifty or sixty miles. The modern student goes home for "Meal Monday," but he travels with a week end ticket and has no thought of the painful journeys of his ancestors.-Dundee Advertiser.

Ancient Concrete.

That the Romans were very familiar with concrete and gave consideration to its use examination of the concrete work in the forum clearly shows. Their concrete contained generally only two kinds of stone, travertine and selcie, in equal parts. Selcie is a hard, closely knit rock, very similar to our bluestone or trap rock in color as well as quality. Travertine is a volcanic rock not so hard as selcie, considerably lighter in color, and was desirable on account of its porosity, which insured a good bond with the cement. In all the Roman work the combination of the travertine and the selcie is clearly distinguishable.-Cement Age.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

The plastered effect is well presented in the above photograph. The first story is covered with narrow cedar shingles, and all above this, including gables, is finished in plaster on metal lath. Verge boards and the brackets of the gables in heavy rough stuff and roof of cedar shingles. The novel and attractive exterior details are paralleled in the interior. A large arched column opening connects the living room and dining room, and the living room is set off from the hall by sliding doors. The living room has a large mantel with high leaded glass windows on either side; also beam ceiling and a bay window. The interior finish throughout is native fir, stained. Width of structure, 24 by 34 feet; height of first story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet 6 inches. Basement under the whole house with concrete walls and cement floor. Laundry in the basement. Heated by furnace. With was and electric lighting and porcelain plumbing this house can be built for about $2,500, making an inexpensive six room house at once complete THOMAS L. PRESIDENT TAFT ON PARKS. W. T. KAYSER

Believer In Generous Provision of Beauty Spots and Breathing Spaces.

President Taft in his notable speech at a dinner given in his honor by the Can sell anything, from a leather citizens of Washington touched upon Rock Creek park as follows: "Now I want to talk about the future, and the future of Washington! What an enormous development is before us! Why, I am not an imaginative man, but I would like to come back here a hundred years hence and see the beauties of which this city is capable. Right here under our noses for a time, under our very eyes, are those beautiful Potomac flats that are going to make as fine parks and parkways as there are in the world. Those parks ought to be connected with the Rock Creek park by means of the mouth of Rock creek or otherwise, and then through them all there ought to be carried a park clear around, including the Soldiers' home and completing circuit with Rock creek at the other end." President Taft is a believer in parks, an earnest advocate of an extension of the parking system of the capital, and it needs not the saying that he wants these parks to be beauty spots and breathing spaces accessible to and for the enjoyment of the general public. That is what parks are for.

Clean City Campaign. The Clean City club of Tuscumbia, Ala., which numbers among its members many of the leading women of Tuscumbia, is making a determined fight to improve the health and the appearance of the city. A notice was recently issued through the local papers that members of the club will inspect the premises, and where they are not in sanitary condition will report the fact to the authorities. This step was taken because sickness was very prevalent.

No Suffering.

It was at a breach of promise case, and the rustle defendant was under cross examination.

"Now tell me, please," said the counsel sternly, "one the evening of the 16th when you bade her goodby did she suffer you to kiss her?"

"Well," said the witness slowly, "I reckon now I did give her a kiss or two, but there wern't much sufferin' about it as I could see."

And even the learned judge condescended to smile.-Exchange.

ECZEMA LODGES IN THE SKIN

Not a Blood Dis-ase-Cured by Oil of Wintergreen Compound

For many years eczema was supsed to be a blood disease and was roncously treated as such, but now e best authorities agree that eczema only a skin disease and must be and through the skin. The eminent in specialist Dr. D. D. Dennis, first scovered the eczema germ and his covery was quickly taken up in A. H. KING smany and France.

To kill the eczema germ and at the me time heal the skin, Dr. Dennis appounded oil of wintergreen, thymol, ycerine, etc. The remedy is a liquid, a mere salve, hence it sinks right to the pores of the skin. Washing ith this oil of wintergreen compound ecms to take away the itch at once; oon the scales drop away and the dislow been used so long as to have proven its absolute merit and we do not besitate to express our confidence in D. D. D. Prescription as used with D. D. D. Soap.
