Prepare for Launch

CGSentinel.com will be an entirely new experience on Monday, April 10. Get your access today.

In April, the Cottage Grove Sentinel launches its new website. The new site will be much more extensive, useful and powerful than the one it replaces.

Local news and information on the new site will triple. Opportunities for local businesses, organizations and individuals to post their commentary will be available. There will be more tools for local videos, audio and photos. A powerful search engine explores the sites current and previous articles and photos. All content on the site will be customized for smartphones and tablets.

The site will no longer be behind a hard paywall. Casual readers will be able to access 10 stories a month for free before being prompted to subscribe. The new subscription plan will give both our print readers and our digital users a variety of payment options. If you are a print subscriber to the Cottage Grove Sentinel, you will have full access to the entire website and the e-edition at no additional cost.

Thank you for being a Cottage Grove Sentinel reader and a cgsentinel.com user. We think you'll enjoy the upgrade. Call or email us with any questions.
