

HIAWATHA M. AND M. CO.—

On the 7th inst Alfred Johnson, John E. Russell and F. G. Eby of Cottage Grove, Oregon, filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State incorporating the Hiawatha Mining and Milling Company, with a capital stock of $100,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares at a par value of 10 cents per share. On Monday, the 9th inst., the incorporators completed organization and elected the following board of directors: Alfred Johnson, C. J. Howard, John E. Russell, F. G. Eby and J. C. Johnson. The board of directors elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: President, Alfred Johnson; Vice President, C. J. Howard; Secretary and Treasurer, J. C. Johnson, and John E. Russell as general mining manager. This company starts out under most bright conditions, having a group of mines that today are looking up fine and give promise of developing into property that in the near future will be second to none in that great camp. Titles to this property are clear and perfect of record. Wood, water, millsite and timber for use in the mine is in abundance, besides this property has had several thousand dollars worth of work done upon it and valuable ore can be taken out from the start. The stockholders are all well-known mining and business men. The principal place of business is to be Cottage Grove and stock of the company can be had at the head office here in the large brick building on the corner of Main and Fourth streets. Work will be commenced in a few days on the property and continued indefinitely.

SPLENDID CURIO CABINET.—

Bob Veatch, the forest ranger, during his travels over the hills has found and gotten together a most unique collection of ores, reptiles, birds, beasts and curios, and has them installed in a spacious cabinet in the parlor of his home on Wall street. He is an experienced taxidermist and has mounted, stuffed and preserved many specimens of the creatures that dwell in the forest. He has several deer heads, four vicious and venomous rattlers, a porcupine, a magnificent specimen of the swan, any number of creeping and crawling insects and bugs, and a large number of beautiful and valuable specimens of the richest and choicest ore that was ever uncovered in Bohemia district, and many fine stactalites and crystallizations taken from the chambers opened up by the tunnels in the various mines in that district. He also has many rare specimens that have come from other states and from Alaska. To the lover of curios and natural wonders it should be a real treat to spend an hour in viewing the many rare specimens Bob has in his handsome cabinet.

A SOFT FALL.—

On Sunday last Mrs. Woods of the Commercial Hotel started on a horseback trip east of town, but met with a wet accident at the depot. Her horse caught his foot between the rail and planking at the crossing, stumbled and fell, throwing her in the opposite direction and finding a landing for her in a big mud puddle. Bystanders ran to her assistance and when recovered she was found to have sustained no further injury than that of being generously soaked with the softest mud in the puddle. Had the ground been dry and hard it would have been a wonder if the lady had not been killed outright. All is well that ends well, and the lady after drying herself at a neighboring house, proceeded on her journey.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION MADE.—

J. H. Perkins, one of the telephone line contractors, was in town Wednesday. He had a force of men doing the work from the other end this way. The line has made connection, but in several places brush and limbs have fallen on the wire and a general overhauling is now being had. It will be several days yet before the line will be open to the public.

UNCLE SAM AND JOHN BULL.—

A. D. Whittier in the past week has brought into form four busts made from native talc to represent the passage in national life of Uncle Sam and John Bull for the last 100 years. These busts speak more plainly than words can tell the change in positions of the two nations. When 100 years ago John Bull controlled the commerce of the world and "Britannia ruled the wave," he was sleek and well groomed, proud, haughty and pompous, while Uncle Sam was lean, careworn and clad in homespun. Today the tables are fast turning and John Bull is presented as bloated and flabby and wearing a most dejected look, while Uncle Sam is fat and dignified and carries the earmarks of prosperity in his tailor-made clothes, laundered shirt and up-to-date necktie. These four busts are now on exhibition in the show windows of the Benson drugstore, and besides being an instructive national lesson they are really works of art, and all should see them before they are sent away to Portland.

THE LE ROY COMPANY.—

The directors of the Le Roy Mining Company have considered favorably a proposition from the owners of the Laura group of mining claims to absorb that famous group, and have called a meeting of the stockholders to be held in the company's office December 16, 1901, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of increasing the capital stock in order to purchase these valuable claims. The Laura group consists of the Long Tom, Laura, Laura Extension, Oro and Mend G mining claims, and cover all of the rich ore lead from the east end of the Le Roy mine to the west end of the Helena No. 2 property. If this deal is consummated the Le Roy Company will, no doubt, have in size and richness as good, if not the best, property in Bohemia District. Reports from the mine, as brought out by workers in the mine, are that every round of shots put in uncover a wider ledge of ore with increased values. Several fine specimens have been brought out, which can be seen at the company's office.

TUNNEL CONTRACT LET.—

Through Superintendent Behne on Saturday last a contract was let to Hughes & Hartley for a 500-foot tunnel on the Star Consolidated mines on the Martin creek. This tunnel will tap the ledge some 900 feet below the apex of the mountain. The contractors are now engaged in putting up the necessary quarters and getting things in shape for immediate and continuous work. When this tunnel is completed it is expected to open up a large body of valuable ore.

COAST FORK RAGING.—

On Monday after the storm the attention of many of our people was drawn to the rushing waters of the Coast Fork as they swept along bearing on their turbulent bosom wreckage of many kinds that had been in place on the banks farther up the stream. Chicken coops, boxes, lumber, logs and a dead cow passed through and went rapidly down the stream. The stream has dropped some five feet since Monday and is now in a peaceful mood.

CONCERT COMING.—

The Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette will be seen here the last of the month. These talented artists have received the warm commendation of the press and public wherever they have appeared, and will, no doubt, make their advent here an event long to be remembered. All who wish to enjoy an evening of choice entertainment should look forward to their coming and be prepared to see and hear them.

K. OF P. SMOKER AND BANQUET.—

On Wednesday evening the members of Juventus Lodge, K. of P. entertained their friends and provided an evening of pleasure that will long be remembered by all who had the good fortune to be present. The start off was a round of whist and cribbage, then a speech of welcome, followed by recitations and vocal selections. The good things of the larder were then brought forth, the tables laid and piled to repletion with substantial and dainties, and the banquet was all that could be wished or hoped for. After the inner man had been bounteously provided for anecdote and song held sway until long after midnight. The spirit of fraternal feeling that found expression and was exemplified on this occasion will go a long way toward building up and maintaining this now flourishing lodge upon firmer and broader ground. The members of this lodge are a unit in enthusiasm of their order and an occasional gathering of this character is one of the most potent factors in drawing to themselves that element which, through fraternal deeds, makes possible the happiness and comfort of all wherein this bond of fellowship is felt. May an abundant success crown the efforts of Juventus Lodge K. of P.

BROKE DOWN.—

Some two weeks ago the camm shaft of the north battery at the Helena Mill broke and a new one was immediately ordered, which is daily expected to arrive. On Sunday night last the shaft of the south battery gave way, necessitating a temporary shut down of the mill. As soon as the new shafts are received and put in place the mill will start up and be kept going.

On last Sunday afternoon Mr. Rose talked to the children on the subject of "Christ and the Children." By means of simple but pleasing illustrations he was able to hold the undivided attention of the children throughout the hour. Mr. Rose is close and logical in his reasoning and aided by means of his charts rivets the attention of every one present to the subject in hand. A number of additions have already been made and indications are very favorable for many more.
