

A CLOSE CALL.

Mrs. J. F. Neat and daughter Mrs. G. W. Wiscaron, accompanied by three children narrowly escaped a frightful and fatal accident Monday morning about 10 o'clock. They had just left this city and were driving home on the wagon road leading to Saginaw. The railroad crossing below town just north of the railroad bridge is at the terminal of a curve around a bluff, and is always a dangerous place. Knowing this the ladies sent a little boy ahead to see if a train might be approaching from the north. The curve being a short one unless a train is seen, and the crossing it cannot be seen, and the little boy came back to the rig with the information that no train was in sight. They drove on to the crossing, and were horrified to see a freight train engine rounding the curve almost upon them. The horse became frightened and stopped on the track. When the engine was within a few feet of the crossing the horse sprang across the track and turned the vehicle down the steep embankment, spilling the occupants out. Mrs. Wiscaron, who was seriously hurt, she sustained a broken arm just above the right wrist. As soon as possible the unfortunate lady was conveyed to this city where Dr. Job reduced the fracture and made her as comfortable as possible. While the situation was a most frightful one still the termination was most fortunate and Mrs. Wiscaron can thank her lucky stars that she escaped with so slight an injury.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED.

A sad tragedy took place on the Willamette river about five miles east of Springfield last Saturday in which Frank Kirkland, a young man of 21 years, lost his life. A crew of six helpers including him had been engaged for two weeks in conducting a drive on shingle bolts for the shingle mill at Springfield down the Willamette river. At the time of the accident Kirkland noticed that a number of the timbers were circling around in an eddy. He waded out to release them but got beyond his depth and was drawn into the whirlpool. His cries were heard by members of the crew who immediately manned a row boat and went to his assistance. He had sunk to the bottom by this time and it required about 10 or 15 minutes time to locate the body and bring it to the surface. When this was finally accomplished heroic measures were employed to restore consciousness but without success. The young man's parents reside at Joseph, Eastern Oregon and a brother at Springfield. He was a member of the W. O. W. and unmarried.

LITTLE GIRL MISSING.

When pretty golden-haired Marie Mattauer bade her parents goodbye and blithely tripped down the farmyard path and out on the country road toward Eugene early Friday morning, intending to pay a devotional visit to the Catholic rectory, Mr. and Mrs. John Mattauer went about their usual vocations feeling confident that no harm could befall their little one. Since then no tidings have been received from the girl and her disappearance is absolute. The authorities have searched high and low for her but to no avail. When the day's afternoon had deepened into twilight and darkness set in bringing with it no absent Marie the parents became alarmed and a search was instituted. Enquiry at the Catholic parish brought forth the startling information that she had not been there. There is absolutely no clue to the whereabouts of the girl at this time and it is feared that harm has befallen her. On her way to town she had to cross the railroad track near her home and the fear that tramp might have waylaid her is entertained by the family and friends.—Eugene Register, Aug. 17th.

NOTICE TO MINERS.

W. F. Morphy, manager of the Oregon & Southeastern Railway Co. is in possession of advice from the New York Commercial, a journal devoted to the publication of authentic data, to furnish that paper from time to time important mining news from Bohemia District. Mr. Morphy has requested the Nugget to state he will appreciate receipt of any news of interest from all sections of the camp, and solicits the correspondence of the miners in camp.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" COMING.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the only play that is identified with American history, which is one of the most beautiful plays in the English language, which always interests all classes of people, will be a welcome visitor in Cottage Grove, Aug. 26, for one night only. It has endured forty years, and every year but serves to add greatly to its wealth of popularity. Warren & Day's great mammoth New York "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company is the biggest, biggest, brightest and best of all the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" companies on the road. Five great acts; twenty-eight realistic scenes, culminating in twelve impressive tableaux and a superb, awe-inspiring transformation scene. A grand and gorgeous street parade will be given at noon on Saturday next. The performance takes place in a huge tent which will be erected at corner of Main and Fourth Sts.

LOST HIS WHEEL.

A certain very popular young man of this city, who rides an Imperial wheel of the latest model, paid his respects to one of Cottage Grove's clever young ladies. When he broke away from the magic spell, and hiked out to the gate to mount his enameled steed, homeward bound with heart beating and pulse pulsating to the measure of the dreams of love, he was knocked into a cocked hat to find that his wheel was gone. After a hasty search, he departed for home, still happy but afoot. The wheel was not recovered until next day noon when it was learned that some close friends to both parties had perpetrated a practical joke by hiding the machine in the woodshed.

LUMBER BUSINESS INCREASES.

The lumber business in both Oregon and Washington never saw such activity. The local demand has been great and prospects are encouraging for the future. Here the water shipments have gone direct to foreign ports, and eastern shipments by rail continue unabated with a steady increase. Oregon lumber, to the extent of fully 200,000,000 has been shipped from the State of Oregon since the first of this year. Of this amount $4,692,201 feet have gone by water and about 150,000,000 feet by rail. Shipments by rail to the far south continues to increase.—Pacific Journal.

A FIRE BUG.

Report reaches this city that there is a life size fire bug in the vicinity of Anlauf, at one of the S. P. Co.'s wood stations south of Cottage Grove. One day last week 250 cords of two-foot railroad wood which had been deposited on the right of way and was loaded with wood, burned, while another car loaded with four-foot wood was set on fire, but was extinguished by railroad employees before much damage was done. It is said that certain parties are strongly suspected and probably arrests will be made before long.

TO COMMENCE GRADING.

Manager W. F. Morphy, of the Oregon & Southeastern Railway Co. announces that he is now ready to engage teams for the grading which will be commenced next week. Everything is working smoothly and the work of grading and construction will go rapidly on. The surveying gang under Engineer Wood is in the field already, setting grade stakes and his party will be followed up immediately by the clearance gang under Foreman Masterson.

HAULING ORE.

Manager Morphy in conversation with a Nugget man states that applications are coming in for hauling ore from the hills to the extension of the railroad, but still there is room for more and applications will be received with pleasure. The more the merrier. It is a good paying job and no doubt as harvest is about over many teams will be pressed into service.

RIGHT OF WAY GANG.

The right of way gang on the O. & S. E. Ry. Co. route to Bohemia, under the foremanship of W. W. Masterson of this city, commences work Monday morning. It is understood that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and the clearing gang will be followed immediately by the construction forces.

The contestants allege that the land is more valuable for its timber and stone than for agricultural purposes. The homesteaders will fight for their rights to the bitter end and there is every indication of a hot time ahead for those who are trying to jump their land.—Marshfield Sun.

FROM ABSENT ONES.

A Review of the Trip of Mademoiselle Eby and Howard Eastward Bound.

The following letter will, no doubt, be read with interest by the friends of the ladies, who are now visiting friends and relatives, Mrs. Howard in Michigan and Mrs. Eby in Iowa:

To the Nugget, Cottage Grove, Ore.: Thinking you would like to hear from us we will write you a few lines that we trust will prove of some interest to you. We arrived in Portland Friday morning, spent a very pleasant day. Although our hearts are aching for the ones we have left behind. We are aboard the O. R. & N. train on our journey, hoping to reach our friends in safety. We are tired so will bid you good night and write more in the morning.

This is Saturday morning. We're going through some beautiful country. Was somewhat startled this morning when the train came to a standstill and one of the porters leaped off the train and killed some jack rabbits, as he came through the train he asked us how we would have ours cooked, "boiled or roasted." We told him we would have our part roasted.

July 25, 1902.

Friday evening just after leaving Portland near Troutdale and passing through Bridal Veil the scenery is something beautiful. Rocky points on the river looked like great pyramids they were so high.

Saturday morning after a good night's sleep we feel quite refreshed. We are at a standstill and the porter has just killed a fine jack rabbit. A few minutes later the porter directed our attention out at the window and there was a wolf snarling up the hill. We were passing through the Palouse country and were told that often they were to be seen in bands.

This is Sunday morning and we are just leaving Ely Spokane over the Great Northern Ry. for St. Paul, Minn. Our train was several hours late, so we failed to make connections there as we expected to and had to lay there over night. We stopped at the Pedicore hotel. The accommodations were very good. It is very pretty through this country. Pine forests with here and there a farm and streams that would delight the fishermen. Have noticed several with strings of fish. We did not see as much of Spokane as we wanted to, owing to limited time, but we did go as far as the falls, and in visiting Spokane one should not miss seeing them. It is a beautiful sight. We are just going by a stream that is covered with water lilies. It is so pretty through here. The road makes three curves within a short distance, where you can see the engine each time. The scenery is something fine—equal to any it has been our pleasure to see. The accommodations have been all that we could ask for. The road is very smooth. The country looks fine through here, very much as it does around Cottage Grove. It is heavily timbered, and we have just passed a large sawmill. We are enjoying our trip so much. It was warm yesterday but is cool and pleasant traveling today. Monday morning we find ourselves in Montana, going through the famous Milk River valley, passing miles and miles of prairie land and lots of stock in sight farther on. It is a magnificent sight. Large farms with green fields of grain, the furrows and fences are lined with wild sand ovals. It is very pretty through here and reminds one so much of Oregon.

Six miles from Spokane on the Kootenai river we are passing through beautiful scenery, huge mountains, high, rocky banks covered with trees that looked as if they grew out of solid rock. We are in sight of the Kootenai falls, and a beautiful sight it is. We whirl by broad acres of grazing land, and low hills covered with stock.

Monday evening, we are just going into North Dakota. It seems to be all grazing land—not a tree in sight. Once through Dakota, now racing along in Minnesota, and the scenery is perfectly beautiful. One lake after another, while the ground looks as though it had been laid out in parks; but they are nature's own parks. We will soon be in St. Paul. There our troubles will begin for we must separate, each to go a different route. Perhaps we won't get lost, strayed or stolen. If we do you will probably hear about it.

We reached St Paul Tuesday afternoon and here we bid each other good-bye, one going to Michigan the other to Iowa.

Trusting that the above may be of some interest to the readers of the Nugget, we bid you good-bye.

Mrs. C. J. HOWARD.
Mrs. F. G. EBY.

A YOUNG LADIE'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by Lyons & Applegate, Drain, Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove.
