POSTOFFICE

IS DEFILED

Tuesday night some youngsters of town caused considerable trouble for Postmaster Merwin. It is not likely that they knew how serious might be the result if the postmaster were to do his duty and punish the youngsters who did the mischief. Among other things they emptied the ink wells out in the letter drop, and when the office was opened Wednesday morning Miss Jones was not able to discern the addresses on the letters when she came to make up the mail. Mr. Merwin desires that the guilty parties take warning as such conduct will not bear repeating without being followed up and reported to the postoffice authorities. Because of the big heart of the postmaster these boys will not be punished. That they could be found out there is no question.

Mrs. James Passes Away.

Mrs. Lena James, wife of John T. James, of Suver, died at her home Saturday night, September 26th, after a lingering illness extending over several years. The funeral occurred on Monday, and the remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery of that place. She was fifty-three years of age and leaves six children, besides her husband, to mourn her demise.

NEWS FROM MONMOUTH

Mrs. M. M. Long of Corvallis, visited with her mother, Mrs. Burkhead, recently, while on her way home from Forest Grove, where she visited Mrs. Bellinger and other friends.

Quite a little excitement was caused Saturday on Railroad street, by a runaway team driven by Paul Mumma. No damage done excepting a badly smashed vehicle.
