Juel Bestul Home—
 Sergeant Juel Bestul arrived in Grants Pass this morning from Camp D. Russell, Wyo., where he received his discharge. Sergeant Bestul, who was in the service two and a half years and across the ocean for nine months, arrived in France just before the armistice was signed last November. For the past four months he has been connected with the Red Cross in Berlin and has been issuing clothing to Russian prisoners in the camps there. Most of these prisoners, he says, have been sent home. Bestul arrived in the states on August 3rd, going first to Newport News.

Entertain Mr. and Mrs. Johnson—

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. L. Hobart and Miss Edith Russell entertained a group of friends at the Hobart home on West B street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Johnson of Portland. Mrs. Johnson, formerly Miss Grace Hays, spent her girlhood in Grants Pass and later was a teacher at the Riverside school, and many old-time school experiences were recalled by the friends. Besides the hostesses, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Misses Katherine Ryan and Grace Green and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Cramer.

Oregon Caves Signs—
David John and W. C. Fixley during the past few days have spent considerable time making and posting signs marking the route to the Oregon Caves. Today Mr. John placed signs at all corners and cross roads between Williams and Grants Pass and Mr. Fixley made a trip to Medford posting signs at all points of vantage. They suggest that a sign in the Ashland park or near the park advising tourists to visit the caves would be of value.

Please Return Bottles—
Will the milk customers please put out the milk bottles. Anna M. Lewis. 53

Pennsylvanians Enjoy Caves—
The Oregon Caves are attracting many tourists this season and especially people from the East. Mr. and Mrs. M. Selfert of Pittsburgh, Pa., have just returned from a trip through the underground wonder and are delighted with the trip and their experiences in the caves. Mrs. Selfert is especially enthusiastic about the horseback ride over the government trail, through the big timber, and says that if there were no other attraction at the end of the trail the time would be well spent.

Librarian Resigns—
Miss Maude F. Barnes, who has been the librarian in the Grants Pass public library since its establishment in 1914, has accepted a position in the Oregon State library at an increase in salary and will go to Salem as soon as her place here can be filled. Miss Barnes will be missed by a host of friends and by the patrons of the library. She has worked untiringly to build up the library here and to interest the people of Grants Pass and of the county in the use of books and magazines.

Joy Theater

LAST TIME TONIGHT

STARTING
Wednesday
2:30 P. M.

To Mr. and Mrs. Public.

Listen, People—Happy? I'll say we are. Wednesday is opening day in our new Joy Theatre and of course we can hardly wait. We are now busy with the mop and pail and the Joy will be as bright and clean as a spring morning.

As befitting this eventful occasion we have chosen "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," starring Marguerite Clark as our re-opening attraction. There may have been a more famous novel than "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," but we don't know of it. There may have been a more lovable screen character than Marguerite Clark as "Lovely Mary" but we haven't heard of her. A Mack Sennett comedy—"A Battle Royal"—concludes the program.

And most important of all, a colored balloon will be given to every child who attends the opening matinee. Think of it! "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" with Marguerite Clark, a Mack Sennett comedy and a balloon, all for 10 cents Wednesday afternoon. Are you coming?
