ALICE E. POST

Alice E. Jones was born in Cresco, Iowa, March 19, 1856. She was married to Fred L. Post in January, 1876. Shortly afterward she moved with her husband to Long Prairie, Minnesota, where Mr. Post entered upon his first pastorate, as a member of the Minnesota conference.

In 1883 they were transferred to the Oregon conference of the M. E. church, and stationed upon the old Hubbard circuit.

Among others they have served pastorates at Woodburn, Molalla, Dayton, Sheridan, Amity and Cornelius, Banks being their last charge in the Willamette valley.

A little over a year ago she was attacked by a pronounced case of Bright's disease and the pastorate was relinquished. While upon an extended visit with her children within the bounds of the Idaho conference her health so far recovered she requested to go into the pastorate again, and she and her husband were sent to Cove, Oregon. A few weeks of most delightful experience with a most kind and sympathetic church, when her dread disease broke out afresh. She was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Behrens, at Baker, where in spite of all physicians and care could accomplish, she died December 12, at 9:30 p. m.

Because of domestic responsibilities Mr. and Mrs. Post spent several years of their life outside the pastorate, living near Dayton, Oregon, and at Chelan, Washington, most of the time. To her death was but going home and the meeting of those gone before.

She leaves her husband and the following children: A. A. Post, of Newberg, Oregon; A. H. Post of Chelan, Wash.; Mrs. D. L. Behrens of Baker, Oregon; and Mrs. John Roberts of Yakima, Wash. Two sons preceded her to the better land: Charles M. Post, who died in his senior year at the O. A. C. at Corvallis, beside whose body hers will rest at Dayton, and Austin Post, who died in his senior year at the high school of Chelan, Wash.

Funeral services were conducted in Newberg by Rev. J. E. Strevey, a former pastor, when Mrs. Post resided at Chelan, Wash.

PACIFIC COLLEGE NOTES

That the freshmen are out for the interclass championship was proven by their 17 to 10 victory over the Fernwood club on Friday evening, December 8. Due to the earliness of the season, both quintets lacked team work and skill in basket shooting. Nevertheless, the freshmen showed that they are going to put up some opposition in the interclass games. The lineup was as follows: Woodward and Pearson, forwards; Wilde, center; Jones and Brown, guards.

Possibly we are not progressing in our debate work as much as we desire, but we are expecting to get to work as soon as the Christmas holidays are over. No word has been received from Linfield as yet, but it is thought that both Albany and Linfield are planning on entering the Triangulars this year. Those who have given their names as desiring to enter the tryouts are: Richard Hawthorn, Flora Campbell, Harriett Hodgkin, Cecil F. Hinshaw, Davis Woodward, Howard Nottage, Helen Hester, Mary Elliott, Fred Yergen, Ben Darling.

There is still time for more to enter. Since the freshman class is the largest in the college surely they should have a larger representation than they now have.

DAIRY HERDSMAN NEEDS TRAINING, EXPERIENCE

Handling dairy cattle right, a big factor in getting the best returns for the money invested, calls for both training and experience. These can be had by a few dairymen who enroll for the dairy herdsman's course at O. A. C., Jan. 2 to June 10.

The students will be taught how to house, feed, water, graze, corral, stable, groom, milk and keep in thriving condition the cows on which profit in dairying depends. Each man takes five cows and a certain number of calves which he must bring through in good shape. He will be told how best to do each bit of the whole job, and spend most of his time doing it under supervision of skilled specialists.

The college aims to give enough experience to every student that at the end of the term it will not be lack of experience if he is unable to do the work required of him by the practical breeder," says P. M. Brandt, head of dairy husbandry.

Up and at work at half past four in the morning, and from then on till 6 or 8 in the evening with alternate herd work, rest and instruction, the herdsmen are at it. This program is daily for 5 and one-half months.

SEAL SALE STARTS STRONG

In view of the fact that money put into the Christmas Seals is spent largely in a health educational program with special reference to raising the health standard of the children of the state, endorsements of the work of the Oregon Tuberculosis association from the various educational leaders of the state, have strong and special significance.

Money spent in interesting children in the formation of health habits, in playing the game of health and in the valuation of health and life itself, is an investment with a high rate of interest. Never has Oregon been challenged to do more along lines of disease prevention and public health than at the present time and with the sympathy and financial support of the citizens of the state, this challenge will be met.

The sale of seals has started off with a bang throughout the state. Never before have such large re-orders been received so early in the campaign. Coos county has ordered an additional $100 worth of seals. Other re-orders include: Salem, $800; Klamath county, $500; Yamhill county, $200; Umatilla, $200; Washington, $300; Columbia county $50. Letters of encouragement and of plans for record sales are reaching the headquarters in Portland, from all sections of the state. The Portland mail sale is the largest in the history of the association.

ORCHARD MANAGEMENT IS BIG FACTOR IN SUCCESS

Some Oregon orchardists make money out of their orchards and some don't. Many factors—soils, location, varieties, markets and others—determine the profits, and management is about the most important of all.

All phases of management from cultivation to disposal of the crop—spraying, picking, thinning, grading, packing—will be considered in short courses at O. A. C. January 2-27.

Vegetable gardening for profit under Oregon conditions, and study of Oregon plants and plant diseases will also be given treatment over the same period.

A few drops of turpentine added to the rinsing water when washing white silk hose, underwear, skirts, etc., prevents them from turning yellow.

I. O. O. F. HAS MEETING

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Intercollegiate Oratorical association of Oregon the committee put itself on record as favoring the formation of a Pacific and Northwestern Oratorical association, including the state associations of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California and Montana. By means of such an organization oratory will be given a more important place in intercollegiate activities and this section of the country can be better represented in national contests.

According to a plan formulated by a group of college and university men of this section, an annual contest would be held at one of the schools holding state honors. The local expenses of the contest would be taken care of by admission charges, the surplus to go to the entertaining college for the advancement of oratorical, and the deficit to be cared for by the association, if necessary. The prize money would be raised by the assessment of a fee to each college in the association.

The committee expects to present also, at the next meeting of the Oregon association, a suggestion for a permanent award to replace the medal, which is not uniform, and which has little appeal to the present day student.—Crescent.
