CLUB TO WORK FOR RAILROAD EAST TO CRANE

FORMAL COMPLAINT IS AUTHORIZED

HEARING TO BE ASKED

Campaign Will Be Initiated In Appeal To State Public Service Commission—Methodist Ministers Are Guests At Meeting.

Initiating a campaign having as its aim railroad construction connecting Bend and Crane, the Bend Commercial club, in session at the Pilot Butte Inn yesterday, authorized the filing of a formal complaint and request for hearing before the state public service commission. This, it was explained by T. H. Foley, on whose motion the action was taken, is the first necessary step in bringing the issue before the interstate commerce commission, whose recommendation for construction would be needed before railroad work could be started.

The motion was passed without discussion, with the exception of an amendment by A. Whisnant, who suggested that a committee be named to draft the complaint. His amendment was incorporated in the motion.

Similar action will be favored by the Burns Commercial club, Mr. Foley said. The plan had its inception at the recent Rivers and Harbors congress, when Mr. Foley and Burns delegates, headed by William Hanley, succeeded in passing a resolution favoring rail connection between Bend and Burns.

Twenty-two visiting ministers, who are attending the Methodist conference in progress here, were guests of the club, and at the conclusion of business addresses were given by Bishop W. O. Shepard, District Superintendent H. F. Pemberton and Executive Secretary Howarth. Bishop Shepard praised particularly Bend's indomitable progressive spirit, predicting a great future for the city if this spirit continues to be manifested. Each speaker paid a high tribute to the ability of Rev. J. Edgar Purdy, pastor of the Bend church.

KNIGHTS TO GIVE DANCE ON FRIDAY

Public Invited To Affair In Gymnasium Which Will Be Made Occasion For Bazaar Drawings.

Plans were completed today by the Knights of Columbus of this city for a dancing party to be given Friday night at the gymnasium, to which the public is invited. Music will be by Wilson George's orchestra. The dance will be made the occasion for drawings which were originally to have been held at the St. Francis bazaar last week, but which were postponed because so few of the holders of numbers were present.

MICKIE SAYS:

VEAH, THIS IS THE NEWS PAPER OFFICE—WHA, NOW, DON'T GET SO ROUGH!—IF WE WENT YOU A STATEMENT, IT WUZ GEEZIE YA HAD ONE COMING, AIN'T IT?—WELL, WHAT YA HOLLERIN' ABOUT THEM?—SURE WE KNOW YOU GOT THAT MUCH COIN 'N WILL PROBABLY PAY SOMETIME, BUT THAT DON'T PAY NO BILLS FOR US—SURE! NOW YA GOT THE IDEA! VEAH, A CHECK WILL DO MUCH CHANGE—G'BY!

CROWD BRAVES COLD TO SEE STONE PLACED

MANY USE TROWEL AT SERVICES

BISHOP IS SPEAKER

Building Discharges Debt To Future, He Declares—Hollow In Cornerstone of M. E. Church Laden With Variety of Mementoes.

Ministers present at The Dalles district conference, which closed here last night, were among the crowd of nearly 300 which attended the cornerstone laying services at the site of Bend's new $40,000 Methodist church at the corner of Bond and Kansas yesterday afternoon. Assisted by Rev. J. Edgar Purdy, pastor of the local church, District Superintendent H. F. Pemberton, Lon L. Fox, W. A. Jacobs, C. P. Niswonger, S. O. Watkins, G. F. Hoover and H. Cayler of Bend, Bishop W. O. Shepard of Portland laid the stone, delivering the address of the day preceding the ceremony. Due to the chilly afternoon, the services were somewhat condensed and covered less than an hour instead of the hour and a half which had originally been allotted for the program.

That the construction of the new church is not to be considered primarily as a perpetuation of Methodism, but more properly as a step in Bend's civic and religious development, was the declaration of Bishop Shepard in his address. The building of schools and churches is, in part, a discharge of the debt which the people of today owe to the generations of the future, he emphasized.

Memento Box Filled.

Following musical selections by a male quartet composed of Herbert Sess, Dr. L. W. Gatchell, O. A. Thorson and P. J. Chapman, prayer by Rev. Pemberton, and responsive reading, led by Rev. W. H. H. Forsyth, Bishop Shepard's address was given. E. D. Gilson then placed in the hollow chiseled in the stone an iron box, hermetically sealed, containing mementoes of the present for the generation which will some day open the stone. Waterproofing and asbestos will protect the contents.

In addition to copies of local and Portland newspapers, the box contains a Bible, the Methodist Discipline, a copy of the Bend Methodist, the annual church budgets of 1919 and 1920, the Shevlin Equalizer, the story of the Pilot Butte Inn, coins running in value from 1 cent to $2.50, the 1917 High School Pilot, photographs of Bend buildings and Central Oregon farm and mountain scenery, a copy of the Bend city charter, financial statements by the local banks and copies of the cornerstone laying program.

Bishop Uses Trowel.

Bishop Shepard first applied the mortar to cement the stone in place, the trowel passing from his hands successively to Rev. Pemberton, Rev. Purdy, Rev. Forsyth, Rev. H. L. Howarth, Mr. Fox, Mr. Jacobs, Mr. Niswonger, Mr. Watkins, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Cayler.

The stone, cut from rock quarried near Bend, is a rich brown and bears the simple inscription, "First Methodist Episcopal Church, 1920." It is set into the brick wall, facing on Bond.

WAR INSURANCE MAN TO VISIT REDMOND

That Cliff Wood, representative of the bureau of war risk insurance, will spend at least one day at the Redmond Potato show, to take the claims of ex-service men, and to aid in the reinstatement of war risk insurance, was announced this morning.

The home service department, Mrs. Forbes states, will have a demonstration of its work at the Redmond show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

PETITION NOW READY TO FILE

CANDIDACY SUBJECT OF McCANN'S WIRE

"Inadvisable," He Says, But Friends Do Not Take Message As Definite

Refusal—Five Are Endorsed By the Central Labor Council.

A telegram received Wednesday from T. A. McCann, relating to the petition naming him as a candidate for mayor of Bend, states that he considers it inadvisable that he should run. His friend, who have been circulating the petition, do not take this as a definite refusal of the nomination, however, and hope that on his return to Bend he will be willing to accept. Although the petitions were only started Tuesday, more than enough signatures to place Mr. McCann's name on the ballot were readily secured before evening.

Endorsement of the greater part of the ticket headed by E. D. Gilson, launched last week, was given at the meeting of the Central Labor council on Tuesday evening, it was learned. Candidates for the city council who will be Mr. Gilson's running mates are: N. H. Gilbert, J. A. Stevens, G. H. Baker and J. S. Innes. Three other aspirants for positions on the council are Hugh O'Kane, Lon L. Fox and Ralph Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett's petition is signed and ready for filing and was, in reality, started more than a week ago, although its existence was not generally known until today.

HARDING HOLDING STRAW VOTE LEAD

Cox Majority Shown Only In South—Men and Women Favor Republicans In All Other Sections.

Latest returns on the straw vote being conducted by 8000 drug stores throughout the United States, of which the Horton Drug Co. of Bend is one, give Harding 353 electoral votes and Cox 178. A total of 266 is required to elect. These figures include the results of two weeks of balloting.

Cox continues the favorite in the South, with 76,784 against Harding's 49,411 votes, but in the remainder of the states the republican candidate is well ahead, with 285,239 against his opponent's 137,593. In Oregon, 2976 men and 1231 women have voted for Harding and 1627 men and 562 women for Cox.

The grand total for the entire vote shows 249,144 men and 85,506 women voting for Harding and 165,433 men and 48,944 women favoring the democratic candidate.

CENT-ORE. MOTOR CO. OPENING NEW SHOP

Purchase of Complete Equipment Makes Possible Resumption of Service By Local Dealers.

After three months without a shop as the result of the disastrous Bond street fire, the Cent-Ore Motor Co. has purchased new shop equipment valued at $5000 in order to offer first-class service to Ford owners. Machinery has been installed, competent mechanics retained, and the new shop opened for business today.

Installation followed the completion of the rebuilding of the interior of the stone Cent-Ore Co. block on Bond, which was gutted by fire last summer.

BEND MERCHANTS IN FAVOR OF EXPANSION

A policy of enlargement, to be carried out at once through a membership drive, has been decided on by the Bend Merchants' association at its regular meeting. The association is reorganizing on even more progressive and constructive lines than in the past, it was announced following the meeting.

The merchants decided on a new plan of giving Booster day publicity. A special section in the daily and weekly Bulletin will be devoted once a month to Booster announcements.

Petitions Name T. A. McCann for Office of Mayor

City politics here showed a new development on Tuesday, when petitions appeared asking that the name of T. A. McCann be placed on the November ballot as a candidate for the office of mayor. The petitions are meeting with favor everywhere, their circulators report.

MAY FIND USE FOR LODGEPOLE

PROCESS FOR MANUFACTURE OF PAPER PULP BASIS OF MOVEMENT TO OBTAIN NEW INDUSTRY FOR BEND.

Plans for the utilization of the vast jack pine and lodgepole forests of Central Oregon are being made, it was learned here following the departure of Dr. U. C. Coe, who, on a recent visit to this city, showed samples of paper of various weights and strength, manufactured from the lowly jack pine. Dr. Coe, pioneer physician of Central Oregon, who is now practicing in Portland, and John Steidl, for many years a resident of Bend, have been associated in proving the importance of the smaller conifers as a source of raw material for the manufacture of wood pulp.

The process by which the samples of paper shown here were manufactured is said to overcome the chief obstacle in the way of paper makers experimenting with pine woods, removing pitch and turpentine from the fiber. Tests are now being carried on, it is stated, having in view the conversion of mill waste, which now goes through the burner, into marketable pulp.

In addition to Dr. Coe and Mr. Steidl, prominent local men are interesting themselves in the matter of securing capital to make possible the construction of a pulp mill involving the addition of from 400 to 500 men to Bend's pay roll.

PAWPAW RECALLS EARLY MEMORIES

Odd Fruit Looks Like Weather-beaten Cucumber, But Makes Big Hit With J. B. Miner, of Bend.

They looked like under-sized cucumbers, rather the worse for wear, but J. B. Miner fairly whooped with delight when he opened a box bearing an Indiana postmark. They were pawpaws, he explained to a friend, who witnessed the arrival of the shipment, and who a moment later shared with Mr. Miner the joy of biting into the strange fruit, half seeds and half of an almost custard-like consistency.

Twenty years ago, Mr. Miner left Missouri for the West, and, with Missouri, he left his favorite fruit, the pawpaw. A few months ago, he showed a man from Indiana some land in this section. The pawpaws which the Hoosier sent out after his return to his home state were the first Mr. Miner had eaten in nearly a quarter of a century.

Now he's going to plant some of the seeds on his ranch near Bend.

BEND MAN CALLED STRIKES FOR MAILS

Victorious Indian Moundsman Didn't Look So Good Then, Is Comment of B. F. Burch.

"I used to umpire behind Walter Mails in bush league ball, seven or eight years ago, at Dayton, Wash.," remarked B. F. Burch of this city, special representative for the Bend Merchants' association, on learning of Mails' performance in Monday's world series game. "I never thought at that time that he would make good in the big leagues," he added.

Mails tried out unsuccessfully with Brooklyn a few years ago. He was bought by the Indians last summer from the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league.

TECHNICALITY DELAYING CITY IMPROVEMENT

COUNCIL'S WORK ALL TO BE REPEATED

DISTRICTS ARE DIVIDED

Construction of Hard Surface Streets Cannot Be Started Until November—2,000 Lots To Be Assessed For the Newport Bridge Job.

Because the bond attorneys in Portland who have been passing on city council proceedings relative to Bend city paving believe that more improvement districts should be listed, all of the work hitherto accomplished by the council with the idea of rushing paving goes for nothing. Monday afternoon, on advice from the bond attorneys, the council, in special session, passed eight reports on estimated costs, to take the place of the three formerly passed, and also eight resolutions of intentions supplanting the three formerly published. With the utmost haste in putting through the necessary legal preliminaries, the delay on the part of the attorneys puts off construction work until November.

Of the new improvement districts, seven will pay for their paving on the direct assessment plan, while the Newport avenue bridge improvement is to be paid for by an enlarged district. This will mean, it was brought out in the discussion Monday afternoon, that a cost of approximately $3000 will be spread over the entire West Side and the business district of the East Side—some 2000 lots in all.

BIG BAG IS MADE BY DUCK HUNTERS

One of the remarkable hunting records of the season was made this week by H. J. Power, J. O. Gibson and Louis Bennett, when they brought down 40 ducks in eight shots on the Jim Lane ranch in the Silver Lake country. As the ducks rose, Mr. Gibson pulled both triggers of his double barreled shotgun and Mr. Power and Mr. Bennett got in three shots each with their pump guns. G. S. Lampson was with the party, and the four bagged 80 ducks in all, while Mr. Bennett killed a 200 pound buck only 10 miles from Silver Lake.

Waterfowl are unusually abundant in northern Lake county, Mr. Power stated on his return. The sloughs where the ducks had settled to feed were fairly black with birds, and after the few shots had been fired which resulted in the big bag, it seemed as if fully 100 had fallen, he said. The party had no dogs and were forced to do their own retrieving.

CARMODY RETAIL BUSINESS BOUGHT

F. S. Simpson, for some time with D. T. Carmody at the Carmody Bros. cigar store and pool room on Bond street, has purchased the retail tobacco interests, pool and billiard tables and soft drink counters from Mr. Carmody and will conduct the business under the firm name of F. S. Simpson & Co. The establishment will be rechristened The Waldorf.

Mr. Carmody will continue to operate his wholesale tobacco business and is moving this week into the Myers building father north on Bond.

SHUEY GROCERY IS SOLD TO GOBLE MEN

R. E. Brown and D. Link of Goble, Ore., have purchased the Bert Shuey grocery store in the Wright hotel building. They will start immediately to make many improvements in arrangement of the store, increasing the stock and putting in more up-to-date furnishings. A change in policy will also be introduced by the new owners.

"We like Bend," Mr. Brown declared, as he announced the purchase of the Shuey property, "and we are here to stay."

HONOR IS PAID TO MEMORY OF BEND MILL MAN

HUNDREDS GATHER AT SERVICES

MUTE TRIBUTE GIVEN

Floral Offerings Many—Sterling Qualities Recalled By Minister at J. P. Keyes Funeral—Council And Club Pass Resolutions.

Hundreds of residents of Bend, who Sunday afternoon attended the graveside services at Pilot Butte cemetery at the funeral of J. P. Keyes, gave by their presence a sincere testimonial of the esteem in which Mr. Keyes was held by the community. At the home on Louisiana avenue, where the main services were conducted, his friends crowded the rooms, and many others waited outside. Beautiful floral offerings were massed about the casket and filled an auto truck and a touring car when they were taken to Pilot Butte cemetery. Among the floral pieces were those given by the school board, the Bend teachers, the Boy Scouts, the Red Cross and the Elks' lodge.

Rev. J. Edgar Purdy of the Methodist church delivered the funeral sermon, sketching the life of Bend's pioneer mill man, emphasizing the simplicity of his character, his hatred of sham, his services rendered to the community and his high ideals in the home and as a citizen. Vocal selections by a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. C. V. Silvis, Dr. L. W. Gatchell, Mrs. Ashley Forrest and Herbert Hess, were given, and at the close of the service, nearly 300 employees of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co. plant here, which Mr. Keyes had headed, filed silently past the casket in mute tribute to the memory of their friend and employer.

S. A. Blakeley, J. A. Eastes, E. P. Mahaffey, J. D. Donovan, H. A. Miller and T. H. Foley were the pall bearers.

Council Mourns Loss. Realization of the loss suffered by the community in the death of Mr. Keyes was expressed in the following resolutions passed by the Bend city council:

Whereas, The citizens of Bend were profoundly shocked by the news of the death of J. P. Keyes, which occurred on Friday, October 8, 1920, and

Whereas, Owing to the prominence of Mr. Keyes in the commercial, civic and public life in this community, it is deemed just and fitting that the city of Bend, as a municipality, take official notice of his death; therefore, be it

Resolved by the common council of the city of Bend, That this community deplores the untimely death of Mr. Keyes and recognizes and appreciates the leading position occupied by him in the business, civic and public activities of the city of Bend and only in a less degree in the various activities of Central Oregon and the industrial life of the Pacific Northwest; that it recognizes and acknowledges the fact that, throughout the eight years during which Mr. Keyes resided in Bend, he cheerfully gave of his time and talents to various public positions and activities which brought him nothing but work and responsibility, although at the same time his energies were fully taxed in the conduct of the large business interests which he represented; that in his willingness to devote his time and talents, gratis, to the service of the public, J. P. Keyes showed himself a model citizen and one who might well be taken as a pattern in that respect; that this community extends its sincere sympathy to the family of the deceased in its loss of a husband and father.

Be it further resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the common council of the city of Bend and that a copy thereof be sent to the widow and children of the deceased.

Unanimously adopted by the common council of the city of Bend.

Attest: J. A. EASTES, Mayor
NELL MARKELL, Recorder.
