CATLOW LEAVES FOR LEGION CONVENTION

Only One Bend Man, So Far As Is Known, Making Trip—State Officers Leaving Tomorrow.

C. J. Catlow is, so far as known, the only Bend man making the trip to Kansas City for the American Legion convention. Catlow left Tuesday morning.

Word from Oregon officers of the Legion is to the effect that they would leave Portland Tuesday and that most of the Oregon delegation would leave the day following. The convention opens on the morning of Monday, October 31.

Ash Best Material for Bats.

In making baseball bats no substitute for wood has been found, says the American Forestry Magazine. Ash has won the leading place. Several qualities must be considered in selecting wood for bats, but the most essential are weight and strength. The shock and strain are severe at the moment of impact when the well-aimed blow meets the flying ball in midair and almost instantly stops it and sends it in the opposite direction. If the wood is not excellent the blow shatters it.

One Good Thing About Movies.

Jud Tankins says he likes motion pictures because the girls can talk about them without getting into arguments about whether to say "dramma" or "drawma."

NEW GOODS at NEW PRICES

Our Tenth Anniversary Sale!

Starts October 29th and Continues Until November 5th

For ten years this store has been serving, to their best ability, the merchandising requirements of the people of Bend. Next Saturday marks the opening of our Tenth Anniversary Sale, and we are making it an occasion of unusual interest to every housewife by offering hundreds of items at substantially reduced prices during the term of this sale. We hope that this event will aid in binding us more closely to the many old and true customers who have favored us with their continuous patronage—and serve as an invitation to those others who have not yet made this establishment their department store home.

STIRRED HER TO INDIGNATION

Mother Simply Could Not Stand for Repetition of Odious Word by Her Small Boy.

She was apparently a lady of refinement. She had all the hall-marks of the elect. Her clothing was faultless and there was a look of keen intellectuality in her face. With her, says the New York Mail, was a beautiful little boy—not exactly a Little Lord Fauntleroy, but a little chap with big eyes and a wealth of tousled hair.

I noticed them, the lady for her dignified bearing and the boy for his bright face, as I sat down just in front of them on the suburban train. Pretty soon I heard the little boy say, evidently referring to me:

"Ain't that a funny hat that man has got on? Ain't it an old hat, mom?"

No reply.

"Ain't he a funny looking man, mom? Ain't he?"

No reply.

"Ain't it funny when a man has got a boll on the back of his neck, mom? Ain't it?" (We happened to have one that morning.)

No reply.

"Ain't there nothing to do about bolls on the back of the neck, mom, ain't there?"

"Shut up!" came the voice of the lady. "If you use that word 'ain't' again, I am going to soak you on the bugle, now take it from me. How often have I got to tell you not to use that word 'ain't'?"

CLUB COMPOSED OF MODEST MEN

ASKED TO TELL WHAT THEY HAVE DONE FOR COMMERCIAL BODY, MEMBERS ARE DUMB—VISITORS ONLY SPEAK.

Bend's Commercial club went on record Wednesday as an organization of modest men and women. At the regular luncheon, President Hamilton called on each person present to tell what he or she had done for the club during the past year. The only persons who did not "pass the buck" were the visitors, and they merely complimented the club on being a live organization and Bend on being a live town.

Many of the members stated that all they had done was to pay dues. This was characterized by the president as a very important work. H. E. Pierce of New Bedford, Mass., and Frank Percival of Milliean were the visitors from out of town who spoke.

Attendance of club members at "Bend day" at the Fremont-Wastina community club was urged.

HAVE APPRECIATION OF LIGHT

Citizens of Colorado Town Realize What It Means to Secure the Needed Power.

You who live in cities where the electricity is a thing to be taken for granted, requiring only the pressing of a button, would appreciate it more if you could see what has to be done in Green Mountain Falls, Colo., before we have any light.

In the first place, we don't have any electric light at all until 6 or 6:30 o'clock in the evening. And the only reason that we have that, is because the men who manage the power plant, which is situated almost at the very top of a mountain, start their long and far-from-easy climb every night about 5:30 and turn on the lights for us.

It may sound very simple and all that, but if you could see the speck that is the power house, way, way up there against the side of an exceedingly steep and rocky mountain, you would change your mind about it. They say the climb is about a mile. And sometimes in the midst of a severe thunder storm, when the rain is hurling itself down the mountain, and the falls are roaring in stentorian tones, and the trees are straining and moaning in the wind, you wonder that the men ever reach the top at all, and are more than thankful when the lights finally go on. For that is our only way of knowing that the men have reached there safely.—Kansas City Star.

TO START DRILLING FOR NEW WELL SOON

E. R. Walker To Have Charge of Operations in Sinking Second Hole in Fort Rock Valley.

To take over drilling operations in the Fort Rock valley where an apparently inexhaustible supply of artesian water was tapped by John M. Perry on the Ernst ranch, E. R. Walker arrived in Bend from Pa-co, Friday and expected his rig to be here the following day. Because of the time necessary for transportation, it is expected that drilling can hardly be started short of two weeks.

The site of the next well to be put down through the use of state funds will probably be on the Cramp ranch, about three miles north of the town of Fort Rock.

NIGHT SCHOOL IS NEARING CAPACITY

Any who are still planning to enter night school should do so before it becomes necessary to limit enrollment, announces Superintendent Moore. About 40 are enrolled now. Night school meets at the high school building on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock.
