EASTER SUNDAY

Now Suggests Action

We are ready with apparel that reflects in fabric and design the joyful mood of Spring. Garments as distinctive in appearance and distinguished in character as individual taste can crave. Might we suggest your immediate action in order that you may realize no disappointment. Prices are particularly attractive.

Stylish Velour Capes

Dame Fashion's Newest Decree

$19.75

These Capes are the most recent idea of Milady for an outer-garment both stylish and practical for frequent occasions. They fulfill both requirements adequately. In a rich velour of reindeer or oopen, they are charming.

One of the chief features of these Capes are the new deep arm-holes with trimmings of contrasting colors and tassels. Then there are the new collar effects and other features, all of which develop a decidedly pleasing style. The garments are cut exceptionally full, permitting them to hang gracefully from the shoulders. See them and you will be delighted with them.

Coats

for Women and Misses

CHARMING styles in Velours, Bolivia and Poire Cloth, in the wrappy, loose back or semi-fitted effects—the newest ideas in trimmings, sleeves and collars. Many are full silk lined, others half silk lined.

There are all the niceties of finish which the superiority of elegance in Spring wraps call for. All in all, these Coats are a particularly fascinating collection of modish models, truly temptingly priced.

BEND BUILDING IS FAR AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Permits To Date Represent Value of $17,560

STEADY GAIN SEEN

Each Month Show Bigger Total As Season Advances, Doubling Construction Authorized a Year Ago.

Greatly increased activity in building is revealed in the totals of values shown in the building permits taken out during the first three months of the new year. During March permits totalling $9,150, principally in small houses, garages or additions to present buildings, were taken out. During February only three permits were granted, totalling $6,350; and in January there were but two permits, amounting to $2,060. This brings the total of permits issued so far in 1922, to $17,560.

For the first three months of last year, the aggregate value of building authorized was $8,390, represented in 22 construction items.

Frame Predominates

Permits taken out in March and the first few days of April include: E. O. Stadter, addition to garage, $250.

Frank Le May, dwelling, 24x24, stone foundation, frame construction, lot 12, block 4, Park addition, $1,500.

W. R. Riley, extension to rear of battery shop on Greenwood avenue, 50x35, stone foundation, brick construction, $1,000.

Albert Pederson, dwelling, 24x36, frame construction, W. H. Loh Kamp, contractor, lot 4, block 5, Boulevard addition, Highland boulevard, $2,800.

J. J. Massart, dwelling, concrete foundation, frame construction, lot 12, block 4, Park addition, State street, Davis & Kramer, contractors, $1,500.

Axel Lindstrom, garage, 16x16, frame construction, 423 Riverfront, $50.

C. A. Roos, dwelling, 22x20, stone foundation, frame construction, 1316 Albany, Highland addition; $600.

David O'Neil, dwelling, 19x12, frame construction, 283 Jefferson, $100.

Mrs. M. B. White, garage to be used as a dwelling for the present; 24x12, rock foundation, frame construction, J. M. White, contractor; lot 6, block 1, Kenwood addition, $500.

R. W. Lieke, frame house and woodshed, 12x20, $300.

SAFE CRACKED TO RESCUE KEY

Officer Almost Makes Arrest, But Postmaster Explains Purpose of Work

To rescue a mail pouch key which has been locked in one of the safes at the Bend postoffice, work was under way last Thursday opening the inner compartment of the big steel box which almost resulted in a burglar alarm being turned in during the night.

T. J. Barrett, expert welder at the Bend Iron Works, was given the job of opening the compartment which had been locked eight months ago before its combination had been adjusted. Using an oxyacetylene torch, Barrett began the difficult task of cutting out a circle of metal impervious to the attacks of ordinary tools. At 1 o'clock in the morning, Night Officer Welch heard the roar of the torch, and glancing over the curtains screening the front office from the street, saw Barrett at work.

He at once notified Postmaster Hudson by phone, but was assured that Barrett's efforts were entirely within the law.

The job was finished, the key removed, the combination set, and the metal which had been cut out welded back into place before noon.

Bend were visitors at the Debing home in Deschutes Sunday.

Walter Lowe was a caller in the Grange hall district Sunday.

L. A. Brandenberg of Deschutes was a Bend caller Friday.

Hal Cooke is pulling trees this week on his ranch in Deschutes.

Mr. Bullard and daughter Ada of Tumalo were in Redmond Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Debing of Deschutes were business callers in Bend Monday.

Put it in The Bulletin.

DEATH REPORT ONLY A JOKE

Story Started At Fort Rock By Sheepman—"Dead" Man Returns.

That a report of the death of Mike Angland and the serious injury of Tom Cronin was started in Fort Rock as a joke by a sheepman visiting in that town is the information received here from P. D. Reeder, of Silver Lake, who was wired by The Bulletin for confirmation or denial of the story. The report was entirely false, Reeder states.

To secure authentic information on the report The Bulletin wired to Reeder by way of Portland and Klamath Falls, and shortly after the query was sent, was able for the first time in two days to complete telephone communication with Fort Rock. There it was stated that the Fort Rock postmistress had been told by Con O'Keefe that Angland was killed, Dan Hourigan dying, and that Cronin had sustained two leg fractures. O'Keefe, following his arrival in Bend, stated that there was "nothing to" the report.

Shortly afternoon it was learned that Angland had returned to his home in the Alfalfa section.

TAX COMMISSIONER GETS REALTY DATA

To secure data on realty conveyances as one of the bases on which to figure county ratios for next fall, State Tax Commissioner F. J. Lovell was in the city from state headquarters in Salem. He has already secured similar information in no less than 16 counties.
