

BEND SCHOOLS EACH PLAN TO ADOPT ORPHAN

Grade Children to Aid in Near East Relief

SAWMILL MEN LIBERAL

Harry Henderson, Brooks-Scanlon Sawyer, Makes Biggest Donation—Employs Give $6000 in Fund Campaign

Each of the Bend schools will adopt a near-east orphan. This was the decision unanimously reached following addresses Friday by J. J. Handaker, relief director for Oregon, and Rev. D. E. Norcross. The decision of the children will mean that each of the city schools will contribute $60 in the course of the year, as $5 per month is the sum found necessary for the support of one orphan, states Rev. Norcross.

Film Approved
City Superintendent G. W. Ager, after seeing the movie yesterday, expressed his approval of the production and declared that he was well pleased that the boys and girls of Bend had had an opportunity to see the film. "Not only does it acquaint them with actual conditions in the near east," he said, "but I believe it will mean a growth of greater patriotism through realization of the advantages enjoyed in free America."

Henderson Gives $100
Harry Henderson, sawyer at the Brooks-Scanlon mill, is credited with the largest contribution to the near east relief yet made in Bend, having given $100.

Brooks-Scanlon employees have given to date close to $400. The campaign speakers made their first appearance at the Shevlin-Hixon plant Saturday, their meeting occupying 10 minutes of the men's noon period and 10 minutes of the company's time.

BAD ROAD REPORTS DEEMED OVERDRAWN

Recent trips made by A. E. Ault across the McKenzie pass and back, lead him to believe that travelers who have turned in reports of virtually impassable roads have exaggerated actual conditions. There are several steep pitches, it is true, says Ault, but if a driver is willing to take his time in going over the rough spots, there need be no difficulty, he considers.

MUST HAVE BOXES BY FIRST OF YEAR

Carrier Mail Service Will Be Suspended for Those Who Fail to Observe Regulation

Carrier service in Bend will be suspended by the postoffice after January 1 for residents whose homes are not provided with proper mail boxes, according to a general order received this morning from the post-office department in Washington, D. C.

Few in Bend could possibly be affected, as only seven or eight homes in the entire city have not already complied with these regulations, says Acting Postmaster S. C. Seeds. He believes that the local office may be able to win the honorable mention which will be given in the Postal Bulletin for the city in which 100 per cent compliance with the rule is first secured.

Miss Hollis Swingle was elected president of the freshman class at the Bend high school, at a meeting Friday. The freshman class, of which Franklin Forrester is advisor, has 75 members.

SERVICES ARE HELD FOR JAMES BREEN

Bend Pioneer Dies of Organic Heart Trouble at Hospital in Salem Makes Oral Will

Requiem mass for James Breen, local pioneer who died Wednesday at Salem of organic heart trouble, was intoned by Father Gabriel Harrington at the St. Francis church Friday morning. Members of the Knights of Columbus were pall bearers. Interment was in the Pilot Butte cemetery.

Breen died at the Deaconess hospital at Salem, Wednesday at 1 o'clock. It was reported today by Fred Wilson, who was with Breen on his trip to the state fair. Breen was taken ill, complaining of dizziness, at the fair grounds on Tuesday. Wilson was able to get him to a taxi and take him to the home of G. Ed Ross, Salem accountant, well known in Bend, with whom they were staying. Here he made an oral will, in the presence of Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Ross, leaving all his property to his widowed sister, Mrs. Matthew Quinn of Port Sanitar, Mich., and to her son and daughter.

His condition becoming worse, Breen was removed on Wednesday to the hospital, where he died shortly after noon.

In addition to Mrs. Quinn, Breen leaves two brothers, one living in Detroit and the other in Manitoba; and two other sisters.

CHILDREN ATTENDING DANCES, SAYS CHIEF

Because boys and girls under 18 years of age are frequenting public dances in violation of the dance ordinance, Chief of Police Willard Houston has informed dance managers that responsibility rests upon them, and that if they do not see that the provisions of the law are carried out, revocation of their permits will be the result.

Only when accompanied by father, mother, or legal guardian, may a child under 18 years attend a public dance, according to the ordinance, but the law has been flagrantly violated on a number of occasions recently, girls as young as 14 years attending without even a chaperon, much less a guardian. Spooling in cars which leave the dances is a frequent occurrence, Houston says.

BASEBALL SERIES AT SCHOOLS SOON

"Indoor" Championships for Both Boys and Girls to Be Decided in Near Future

All games will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

On Monday the winning girls' team will play the Central school girls for the championship, and on Tuesday the winning boys' team will play the Central boys. Indoor baseball is being played as a part of the work in physical training, for all pupils who are old enough.

FRESHMEN WIN FROM SOPHOMORES IN TUG

Underclassmen Heavy—Losers Put Football Field in Shape—Crowd Sees Contest

With several pounds advantage in average weight, the Bend high school freshman tug of war team had no difficulty in winning from the sophomores in a contest at the rear of the high school building, witnessed by the entire student body as well as a few visitors. After a moment of wavering, the knot at the center of the rope began moving toward the freshmen's side, and its progress was never halted until the "anchor" man reached the building.

As a result of losing the tug of war, the sophomore boys spent the remainder of the afternoon clearing weeds from the football field, which today bears a neat appearance as a result.

BEND HIGH HAS STRONG SQUAD

Best in History of Local School in Number of Good Candidates

As a result of the enthusiasm at the Bend high school for football this fall, Coach Cosman has the strongest squad which has ever turned out here in that the second team is practically as good as the first. This became apparent this week with the commencement of regular scrimmage work, both line and backfield men of the two teams showing up almost equally strong.

With Norcott and McNeely unable to turn out Monday night, there were still good men for two fast backfields, and although team work was far from perfect, good work was done in running with the ball and blocking. On the line also, a number of the men lining up on the "scrub" side proved themselves able to fill a big hole on defense. Among them were Kribs, Hicks and Hall, the latter a new man here this year, who has played on the Multnomah club juniors in Portland.

Backfield men who distinguished themselves, outside of those who played last year, are Moody, Cottingham and Thatcher, who is a new arrival from Idaho.

FIREMEN TO GIVE DANCE SATURDAY

The first dance given by the Bend volunteer fire department since the Fourth of July will be held at the Hippodrome on Saturday night. The firemen are planning a series of dances for the winter season.

DECISION ON BONDS IS EXPECTED SOON

Expecting a supreme court decision within the next two weeks in the Central Oregon Irrigation district bond validation case, H. H. De Armond, attorney for the district, returned to Bend last week from Salem, where he argued the case. The action which is to settle the question of the C. O. I. company's right to collect maintenance fees, is yet to be argued.

Mentioning No Names, Of Course. The trouble with a lot of people is that they don't know the extent of their ignorance and resent every effort to enable them to find out.
