A Welcome Pay Envelope

HONEST, old man, I don't know what we would have done without that AETNA ACCUMULATIVE ACCIDENT POLICY.

When a fellow lives on the "no-work-no-pay basis" and has nothing to fall back on, a cracked head and a broken arm don't get him anything. All he can do is sit around and wonder how the wife can scrape together enough to keep the family going. He just naturally worries himself twice as sick.

But this Aetna Accident Policy takes the place of the pay envelope. Gives you $50 a week as long as you're totally disabled by your injuries and $25 a week even though you are only partially disabled by them. Pays the bill for a surgical operation, too.

All you do is sit back and tell your broken head and arm: "All right, boys, take your time about healing. I'm provided for until you're fit again."

AETNA-IZE

Safeguard YOUR income against accident. Protect YOUR home from want. Let us explain how easy it is—how cheap. Write or telephone.

The games will serve as a try-out to select a team to represent the Pacific Northwestern Association in the far western track and field championships at San Francisco. Entries are being received from all athletic clubs of the Northwest, including those of Vancouver and Victoria B. C.

From the Coos Bay Times

C. R. Wright, in charge of the government jetty work at Bandon, came up Saturday afternoon to see the records in the U. S. Engineering office here, returning home this morning.

W. E. Craine of logging business at Bandon came up yesterday on the Speedwell from San Francisco and this morning returned to his home after an absence of several weeks.

E. L. Robinson, of Marshfield, has been engaged by Warren Reed, of Reedsport, to lay out a summer townsite on Winchester Bay dividing a 50 acre tract adjoining the bay on the South into building lots, thus providing for a summer resort on that spot which has for years brought many visitors from outside during the warm months.

It is claimed that 2000 people last year visited Winchester bay.

"Wake Up Riley" to Wake from Slumber

Curry County Iron Mine to be Relocated and Worked, According to Following From the Gold Beach Globe

Howard Smith and Clarence Harmon of Myrtle Point are in the city and will be here for several days. They are going to Wake Up Riley, (the ledge of Wake Up Riley is a ledge of iron ore located for many years and lying west and south of Agness about five miles) and if they find the old Rip Van Winkle mine intact and merely slumbering there will be something doing in these "diggins".

The quality of the iron in the ledges in and around the sleeping giant has been tested and shows great richness, some of the assays disclosing seventy-six per cent of iron.

The present activities in and around Wake up Riley's is to prospect and determine the extent of the ore bodies of a large number of claims. If they are sufficiently large to justify the capital is at hand to develop and place the mine on a business basis.

It is not definitely known who is back of this movement but suspicion points to the Amalgamated Steel works of America. The prospecting will be done with a diamond drills. The machinery was expected on the Rustler last week but for some cause was delayed to such an extent that the Rustler will not be able to bring it at this time.

The Superintendent is expected about the 1st of May, and when he arrives, the sound of the hammer, the ax and the saw will be heard in the land, and soon about forty prospectors will get busy and be busy at least a year and a half and if the predictions of engineers and mining men are verified and bodies of ore of sufficient size are located, ten a large force of men will be put on and the reduction of the ore to pig iron begun. That will not only Wake-up Riley, but the entire Rogue River Valley, and instead of waiting for Uncle Sam to get around with the forest reserve, the wide-awake people of the Rogue River will build their own road, and probably not only build an automobile road but build an electric line which will take the output of a great smelter, which will be built to the ocean.

With an outlet of that sort, railroads will see it to their financial interest to build into the Rogue River Valley as far as the smelter, at least and between the two we are pretty sure to get rapid and cheap transportation, by electricity and steam from the ocean to the Southern Pacific through line from Portland. Probable the smelter will build their own electric line to the ocean, which will compel reasonable rates to meet water competition.

Everything is on the qui vive in Curry County just waiting until something breaks loose, and you will see things move in a way that will not only Wake-up-Riley and the Rogue River Valley, but the entire County of Curry and our neighboring counties as well. That would probably make Agness the head of navigation for the present and Gold Beach and Wedderburn the base of supplies.

Sixteen of the most picturesque Indians of the Blackfoot tribe, who make their home in Glacier National park, in Northwestern Montana, will come to Portland for the Rose Festival as the guests of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway. Mr. Hill has sent the Glacier Park Indians on many trips over the United States the last two years to call attention to the new national play ground, and other scenic wonders of Montana, Oregon and Washington with a view to attracting tourist travel to the Pacific Northwest.

His efforts have been most successful and last year more than 30,000 people visited Glacier National Park. Many were prevailed upon to continue their journey to include Seattle, Spokane, Portland and Tacoma, and the many interesting side trips from these cities. Mr. Hill believed that the presence of these handsome Red men, with their women folks and children all in war paint and feathers would serve to make people in walks of life ask questions. It did with the result that thousands of tourists who have been in Oregon and Washington the last two years were attracted to the Northwest by the unique publicity methods of Mr. Hill in his work of exploiting Glacier National Park.

PORT ORFORD REPORTS

(From Port Orford Tribune.)

C. H. Pearse came in from his home on Middle Elk yesterday to superintendent the building of the new wharf, work on which will commence immediately. Weather permitting, the wharf will be completed inside of six weeks.

Shearing has already commenced among some of the smaller bands of sheep. Wool growers are now being offered about 27c, although many are declining to sell at this price in hopes that 30c per lb. can be had before the summer is over.

A span of the old wharf, some fifty yards in length and left standing when that structure went down in a storm over year ago, fell with its own weight in a calm sea last week. It had been standing for over 23 years.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Sherrard of Bandon made a trip to Wedderburn Wednesday in their Dodge auto, returning Saturday. They made the run over the rough roads south of here without the least difficulty, and Mr. Sherrard is more enthusiastic than ever, if that is possible, over the merits of the Dodge car. He says it is the greatest hill climber he ever drove. In company with George Laird, Mr. Sherrard drove down from Bandon again Monday.

The Garoutte Bros. of Bandon have put their auto on a regular run between their town and Port Orford.

Geo. W. Curry was in town from his Elk river farm one day last week and gave the Tribune family a two pound sample of the butter he is now making. Mr. Curry has only recently gone into the dairying business and will milk 12 cows this season. These are selected in northern Curry. By selling to the local people at the same price that he would get for his butter after deducting all the expense of shipping Mr. Curry hopes to dispose of all of his out put in the home market. If all of Mr. Curry's make is equal to the sample left at this office he is sure to have many satisfied customers.

W. R. Hurst brought an egg to the Tribune office yesterday, laid by one of his pure blood Leghorn hens, that measures 6 inches in circumference one way and 8 inches the other, and weighs 3 1/2 ounces. If anyone can produce an egg from a leghorn chicken that will beat this we would like to hear from him. And bring your eggs in fresh; we will preserve the shell and see that the stuffing doesn't spoil!

J. J. Dubs, a mining man from Los Angeles, arrived in Port Orford the first of the week and expects to make this place his headquarters during the summer while he investigates the mineral resources of the section, and also demonstrates a gold mining machine that he has with him. The machine has been proven an success and Mr. Dubs is anxious to find some black sand deposit to work.

Sheriff Bailey has reason to believe that he was born under a lucky star, as he escaped by the narrowest margin from being a victim of the Randolph tragedy. And it is not often that a dentist plays the role of a life saver, but in this instance our worthy sheriff owes his well being at this time to the visit of Dr. L. P. Sorenson to Port Orford. Mr. Bailey was having trouble with his teeth and was on the verge of boarding the Randolph for Bandon when he learned the dentist was at this place and accordingly changed plans and took the stage for Port Orford instead of the Randolph for Bandon.

Marshfield is to have a new life saving station according to Captain O. F. Britt of the Coast Guards. It will be located at the turn from the Charleston spit. There will be a boat house 100x200, a keeper's house and the engine and a crew's quarters.
