MARRIED TWO MONTHS

And Then Iley Winn Deserts His Young Wife.

WESTON LEADER.

Miss Winnie Hastings is reported quite ill, threatened with pneumonia.

P. T. Harbor and wife lately married at Freewater, have made their home in Weston.

Mrs. H. O. Worthington was over from Athena the first of the week visiting relatives.

Mrs. Olney Funk came down from Spokane and is visiting her parents in Weston.

Miss Bertha Willaby from Athena was in town the first of the week visiting friends.

Ed Liansell of Lexington, Morrow county, is up on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Liansell of this place.

The nine-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lewis was badly burned on the face and neck by falling against a red hot stove last Saturday.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harp, of Janiper, and great grand son of Thos. Farrell of this city, was buried in Weston cemetery Tuesday.

Flora, the little daughter of Ed Simpson had her tonsils removed by Dr. Best Monday, and is said to be as chipper as ever since the operation.

John Reed, Frank Saling, Angus McDonald and Barney Prine are making preparations to go to Alaska in the spring. Frank Saling and Barney Prine will go overland with horses.

J. E. Barnes was arrested on a warrant sworn out in the Weston justice court Wednesday. Later in the day he was taken to Pendleton by Constable Logan to be examined as to his sanity by Judge Martin.

There are various opinions in reference to the condition of Mr. Barnes' mind and whether it is safe for him to be at large; but Weston people are unanimously of the opinion that he is a monomaniac on the subject of his own ego, and happiest when he is attracting the most attention to himself. This he does by loud talk and noisy demonstrations to such an extent that either the good people of Weston will be forced to abdicate or Barnes will have to be put in a place where he can no further annoy or disturb the peace.

MILTON SAGLE

The Hercules Dramatic Co. will probably give another entertainment some time during February.

President Royal, of the Weston normal school, was a visitor to the city Sunday, a guest of M. A. Kees.

James Kirkland's condition is reported as being somewhat improved and his friends confidently hope for his early recovery.

The water main was as dry as a bone for a couple of days this week. Mrs. Marshall Campbell was engaged in making necessary repairs.

Born, near this city, on Monday, January 10, 1898, to the wife of Eugene Labadie, a son. Dr. C. W. Thomas was the attending physician.

An order confirming sale has been issued in the matter of the estate of Nancy Rhinway, deceased, by the county court.

Alfred Coffey and Mianio Swanson, of Milton, were married in the county auditor's office at Walla Walla, Wednesday, January 12, by Rev. Wallace Hulbert.

H. Dent, aged almost 71 years, died Friday evening, January 7, 1898, at his home near this city of paralysis, after but a few days illness. Funeral services were held at Valley Chapel on Sunday by Elder C. F. Goode, of the Christian church.

The A. O. U. W. lodge will give a social and supper to the families of members and invited guests on Tuesday evening, January 27th. Members of the order will please take notice and be on hand for the occasion.

A pleasant social party was held at the residence of County Commissioner H. L. Frazier in South Milton, Monday evening, the occasion being in the nature of a surprise and in honor of Miss Anna Stevenson who departed Wednesday, for Perry, Union county, where she has accepted a position in the public school of that place.

A man by the name of F. Stanley, who came to town last week in the capacity of a repairer of sewing machines and organs, left Weston without settling a board bill. The account was placed in the hands of Marshall Campbell, who in a more forcible than polite manner compelled the fellow to pay over the money due. He was allowed to go on his way without further molestation.

Prof. Duffield's throat is still in a very serious condition and fears are entertained that he may yet be compelled to relinquish his duties in the school room and take the rest which alone will probably be the means of restoring him to health.

An editor's duty is to speak of his town as the loveliest place beneath the arch of heaven. Spoons of the deceased citizen as "fallen oak" when he dies of the jim jams. Call a man a prominent, influential citizen when he knows he is the best poker player in town. Speak of a street arab as a bright eyed youth on the road to fame; and a big-nosed, newly-married woman as a beautiful and accomplished bride.

Milton should have more manufacturing industries. There is power here in abundance, and transportation facilities are of the best. We need a paper mill, a woolen mill, somebody with a business head and a little "push" to conduct our machine shops and laundry and any number of flouring mills. No town in the Northwest has the natural advantages of Milton as a place for manufacturing industries. Those in search of a location should make a note of this.

Milton, or more properly speaking, Freewater, which are very much the same as there is no defined distinction where one leaves off and the other begins is to have a new flouring mill. The site has been purchased and work will begin on the new structure as soon as the weather will permit. The new mill will be built on the site below the O. R. & N. Railroad track, which was partly developed some years ago by J. B. Mahans, of single track railroad fame, and upon which at that time he purposed to build a paper mill.

TWO MONTHS MARRIED

And Then Iley Winn, a Young Weston Farmer, Deserts His Wife

The report came from Weston, says a Pendleton paper, that some little comment has been occasioned there by the disappearance of a young farmer named Iley Winn.

About two months ago Winn was united in marriage with Miss Alice James. It seems that the young couple did not get along very well with Winn's mother, with whom they lived on a ranch near Dry creek so he took his wife to a private family to board. The story continues that some two weeks ago Winn left Weston and had not returned. He was last seen in Walla Walla, but his whereabouts is now unknown. His young wife was left with an unpaid board bill and absolutely no money for her support.

Before leaving, it is reported, Winn induced his wife to sign a deed to his mother for some land which he owned adjoining her property, saying that as they could not get along with her it would be better to take the money and buy an independent place of his own. Instead he is accused of decamping with the proceeds and deserting his wife, to whom he afterward sent a third party, suggesting that a divorce should be arranged.

Lawyers were consulted by friends of the deserted wife, and if possible legal relief will be obtained in her behalf. The validity of the sale made by Winn to his mother is questioned.

TAKEN TO TASK

Chairman Pierce's Letter to the Pendleton Tribune:

The report given by the Pendleton Tribune of the recent meeting of the populist central committee, does not seem to set well with the members of that party. It appears from the following letter to the Tribune, that the paper in its report, somewhat exaggerated and added color:

Editor Tribune: In your recent report of the transactions of the county central committee of the people's party, which assembled in Pendleton January 8, you make us, in your daily edition of January 9, of such expressions as the following:

"They were in a heated discussion from 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon."

"It is said that the populists will not support any silver democrat nor body of silver democrats that are led by J. H. Raley."

"James H. Raley to be knifed."

"A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, is to get no support whatever from the Umatilla county pops."

"W. B. Wren, of Milwaukie, was not liked for his conduct at the legislature," etc.

The undersigned chairman of the central committee above referred to was present, presided at the meeting which you appear to report and desire to submit the following corrections for publication in the Tribune:

First, There was no "heated discussion" at any period during the session of the committee.

Second, The whole session of the committee was a most pleasant and harmonious one.

Third, The name of James H. Raley was not mentioned at said meeting and no sentiments were expressed there which could possibly be taken as an intimation that Mr. Raley or anyone else was to be "knifed."

Fourth, The names of A. S. Bennett and W. B. Wren were not, to the best of my recollection, mentioned at said meeting, nor can I remember any allusion to them being made.

Fifth, As the official chairman presiding at said meeting, and vested with the authority to speak for the people's party of this county, and desiring a co-operation of all reform forces in our next election, I will say that it may be taken for granted, without argument, that the candidates formally advanced by the people of the democratic and silver republican parties for such offices as may be agreed upon, in conference, will be supported by the people's party organization with the same firmness which has characterized this party in the past.

Finally, We wish to say that all of your published statements in your edition of January 9 and 12, except the resolutions adopted by our own committee, are wholly discordant with the facts which actually took place at said meeting.

Ch. People's Party Co. Gen. Com. Milton, Or., January 12, 1898.

DOWN AT PENDLETON.

Special Correspondence on Different Topics.

Pendleton, Jan. 19.—The last three days of the circuit court have been devoted to the case of the Weston Bank vs. Frank Saling, I. E. Saling and P. A. Worthington. This is the third suit of the kind. The first was won by the bank, the second had a hung jury and the third is in progress. Between forty and fifty witnesses are in attendance, and nearly all come from Weston. The amount involved is about $5,000, and the contest is to prove that I. E. Saling was a member of the firm known as I. E. Saling & Co., of Weston, at the time the bank acquired the indebtedness. The case will probably go to jury Thursday.

Pendleton was thoroughly startled Wednesday morning by the report that a cloudburst out at Halix had washed that hamlet away with some loss of life, and one of the local papers wasted a column of sensational matter over the occurrence. An investigation of the affair proved it to be a hoax, gotten up by some practical joker.

The attempt made to organize a society of the Sons of the American Revolution Monday night has not met with any marked success, owing mainly to an objectionable speech made by Colonel Anderson, of Vancouver. His remarks dealt mainly with the principles of the republican party, and included a sweeping condemnation of all holding different views. Of the aims of the society he said nothing but his arguments favoring a gold standard and a protective tariff filled nearly an hour of time, and were offensive to the many patriots present.

The address of Mr. Williams was eloquent and patriotic, and did much toward counteracting the bad effects of Anderson's. Still it is doubtful if a branch of the society can be organized here, because it is now generally regarded as a political and not a patriotic organization.

Poor and Weak

Catarrh and Bronchial Trouble—Had no Appetite—Now Better in Every Way—A Delicate Child.

"Some time since I took a sudden cold and could not get rid of it. Being subject to catarrh and bronchial trouble I coughed terribly. I lost my appetite and grew poor and weak and I did not feel like work. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time the cough disappeared, I slept well, had a good appetite and I was better in every way. Last spring I was not feeling well, I had no appetite and no strength. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon felt more like work. My little nephew was a delicate child and had a humor which troubled him so he could not rest at night. He has taken a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he has a good appetite and is able to sleep." MISS ABRIE J. FREEMAN, South Duxbury, Mass.

dicils. A large number have already left for the frozen north by steamer from Portland, and several parties are outfitting for an overland trip from Spokane.

About thirty persons here already stated their intentions of starting in the spring, going either on foot and shipping supplies ahead, or taking a pack train. The route most approved is from Spokane almost straight north—a distance of about 2000 miles—over the old Hudson Bay Company's trail. This route has two marked advantages. The first is that supplies can be sent ahead to the navigable part of the McKenzie river, thereby eliminating the necessity of packers for the first 1000 miles, and the second is that all along the route from Edinburg to Dawson are British forts, trading stations and mounted police encampments, thus furnishing an opportunity to replenish supplies in case of "over consumption." This also brings them direct to Dawson and Yukon navigation, considerably reducing the expense and shortening the time necessary to make the trip.

Politics here are badly mixed and it requires a shrewd man to know just what party or end of party he belongs to. We have Mitchell republicans and Corbett republicans, silver democrats and gold democrats, fusion populists and anti-fusion populists. Rumors are rife. Considerable talk is heard of a combine between Mitchell republicans and a portion of the free silver democracy, and it is believed that this tale is the basis of the objection many populists have to Raley as a leader in the republican party, and others claim the talk against Raley was instigated by certain democrats who want to oust him from the leadership. The matter will undoubtedly be patched up before the conventions meet, but the republican party there is war and the breaking of bonds. Both factions claim the supremacy and both will attempt to control the convention. That means trouble, but the Mitchell republicans refer to the fate of the opposition two years ago, when the gold men had to sneak into the convention on proxies—and claim that the same thing will happen this year. On the other hand the gold republicans talk of putting a complete ticket in the field and take their chances.

AGE OF SUPERSTITION.

A Great Difference Between Three Centuries Ago and Now.

(Pendleton Republican)

A few centuries ago those who practiced the art of healing and performed even the most common surgical operations were looked upon with a certain degree of suspicion, as magicians, perhaps, they obtained their powers in that line from some supernatural source. Much of that mysticism still clings to the medical profession. Doctors and surgeons generally seem to have a reticence against making their abilities known in other than the ordinary manner. But a great change has been going on recently, more particularly in the last quarter of a century.

In this age of free thought, free speech and free action, a diploma from some second or third rate medical college is not enough to give a patient confidence in the ability of a young doctor of medicine. Nothing short of practical experience will do that. The successful physician and surgeon will establish his reputation by curing his patients, and will not be afraid to advertise his ability to cure, for he has confidence in his power, knows what he can do, and imparts his confidence to those who call to take advantage of knowledge and experience. The old time physicians and surgeons are slow to realize why the up-to-date physicians, who advertise, are meeting with such success, but it is plain to the general public. Advertising brings the patients and the practice thereby obtained gives an experience which can be obtained in no other manner.

The case of Dr. Darrin, who is now at Hotel Pendleton, where he will remain until March 1, is strictly in point. He advertises extensively, with the result that he has hundreds of cases where other have none. Dr. Darrin has a reputation established by years of practice, during the course of which time he has performed many cures, some of which seem almost marvelous and not to be believed, except by those who have consulted Dr. Darrin during the past quarter of a century and are today living examples of the cures he has been able to effect. Column after column of testimonials have appeared, but the tenth part has been told. One remarkable cure he performed for a gentleman now a resident of Pendleton established his reputation, and he has been adding to that reputation ever since. The particulars of that case are not allowed to be published, but it is sufficient to state that the cure was almost miraculous in character.

The afflicted should call upon Dr. Darrin. If the case is hopeless, he will so inform the patient. If he takes the case it is large odds that the patient will be permanently cured or at least relieved.

Remember, Dr. Darrin will be at Hotel Pendleton until March 1.

Catarrh in the Head, that troublesome and disgusting disease, may be entirely cured by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.
