

The Coast Mail.

Published every Thursday morning. By JOHN CHURCH, Editor and Proprietor.

Thursday, December 11, 1884. R. R. No. 1884 - G. O. P.

[Dedicated, without permission, to Rev. Mr. Barclay, D. D.] Congratulating Jerry James G. G. on his marriage. Confounding call a woman's curving talk. Making much mischief for the man from Maine.

The Science of Hair-Cutting.

There is nothing which affects the appearance of man or boy more than the style in which his hair is cut. In the cities the men usually have their hair trimmed at least as often as once a month, but in the country it is often impossible to have this matter attended to regularly, and unless there be some home talent which can be pressed into service, the men and boys go about in a shabby state, which is enough to spoil the appearance of an Apollo.

Black Polled Cattle.

These are fulfilling my predictions, made in 1872, when I wrote repeated articles for the agricultural papers and used my best exertions privately to prevail on western ranchmen to introduce them among their herds, which was soon done.

being without horns. The benefit of this absence of the horns to the detriment of the stock is not to be overlooked. The horns of the polled Texas cow are also much superior to those of the horned cow for they mature a year or two earlier, turn out a finer quality of beef and are reared and fattened and transported to market more economically.

The Food of Birds.

It is proposed in a few articles, to determine so far as possible, the economic status of some of our commonest birds, as indicated by the elaborate investigations of the food of adult birds made by Professor S. A. Forbes, of Illinois, and of the food of the nestlings, which the writer made during the past season.
