THE
NEW YORK WORLD

THREE-A-WEEK EDITION

Read wherever the English Language is Spoken

The Thrice-a-Week World was a brilliant success in the beginning and has been steadily growing ever since. Time is the test of all things, and has set its seal of approval on the Thrice-a-Week World, which is widely circulated in every State and Territory of the Union, and wherever there are people who can read our mother tongue.

This paper for the coming winter and the year 1903, will make its news service, if possible, more extensive than ever. All events of importance, no matter where they happen, are reported accurately and promptly.

The subscriber, for only one dollar a year, gets three papers every week and more news and general reading than most great dailies can furnish at five or six times the price.

The Thrice-a-Week World is absolutely fair in its political news. Partisan bias is never allowed to affect its news columns, and Democrat and Republican alike can obtain in its pages truthful accounts of all the great political campaigns.

In addition to all the news, the Thrice-a-Week-World furnishes the best serial fiction, elaborate market reports and other features of interest.

The Thrice-a-Week-World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 100 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Weekly COAST MAIL together one year for $2.00.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

The late Millionaire Stratton would probably not have found so much pleasure in making his fortune if he had known a few of the things that were going to happen to it after he was gone.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Rusty Mike's Diary Nov. 19, 1902—
An advertisement where many kinds of type are used looks worse than a small boy on the 4th of July.

T. J. Powers, who has been visiting in Douglas county and looking over that section, returned yesterday very much impressed with the superiority of Coos.

High Water

The heavy rain is causing quite a rise in the streams, and a high freshet is reported on the Coquille. In conversation over the phone yesterday with a gentleman in Proctor, J. W. Bennett was told that the river was higher than his informant had ever seen it in a residence there of about ten years.

No More Eggs.

No more Salmon eggs will be taken this season at the Coos river hatchery, as the high water has washed out the racks and traps. Under the energetic management of Superintendent Frank Smith, however, an immense number of eggs have already, about been secured, about all that could be handled in any case.

Who Wouldn't be a Printer?

This office had another pleasant surprise last evening. A party of ladies and gentlemen from the Degree of Honor with hearts as big as the baskets they carried trooped in about 10 o'clock. To see the fighting editor hustle the can out of sight was a caution, while the other one loaded up a doughnut on each finger and a sandwich between each two. That's the sort of people we like.

Handicapped by a Name

Puget Sound Lumberman

Slowly but surely Western hemlock will come out from under the odium, which attaches to the Eastern variety. Between the two there is no similarity, only in name. Because John Smith in Wisconsin is a rascal, that is no sign John Smith, of Washington is one.

Recently the department of Forestry has issued a bulletin, which will be helpful in spreading the value of Coast hemlock.

The conclusion from the publication areas follows:

The wood of the Western hemlock is far superior to that of the Eastern tree. It is suitable for use in all ordinary building work, it furnishes good paper pulp; it is sufficiently light and strong to make excellent woodenware stock and it is particularly valuable for indoor finishing. Its bark is half again as rich in tannin as that of the Eastern tree.

Under favorable condition the Western hemlock reproduces abundantly and grows very rapidly. Since the conditions are usually disadvantageous to red fir, hemlock may often be counted upon to re-forest cut-over lands when red fir would probably fail to establish itself.

The Western hemlock has now to contend mainly with a prejudice which is based upon a knowledge of the Eastern tree alone. The importance of bringing it into the market on a large scale as a substitute for spruce and white pine is growing rapidly. Its qualities entitle it to rank among the valuable timber woods of this continent.

This bulletin, No. 33, is one of great interest to the lumbermen of this Coast. It was carefully prepared by Edward T. Allen, one of the most intelligent young men in the field.

J. L. Durrand, of the Bay City mill is laid up with a sore hand.

The Alliance is scheduled to leave San Francisco at 5 p.m. Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Masters, who have been visiting relatives at Boise, Idaho, arrived Tuesday by way of the Drain route.

Wes Newland of North slough, has gone to the valley to spend the Holidays with relatives.

Lineman Ed Cole has gone down the coast to fix up the phone lines. Fine weather for a trip of that kind.

Emil Erickson, of North Bend was up to town yesterday to see a doctor about a finger on his right hand, which has laid him up for several days, the result of running a rusty nail into it.

Mrs. Kruse arrived yesterday by way of Drain, from her home in Cal. Her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Matson, whose illness caused Mrs. Kruse to be summoned, is reported getting better.

Dean & Co's mill was closed down for the day at 2:30 p.m. Monday and at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, on account of the high tide coming into the fire-room. This is the first time this has occurred in about four years.

H. Seng-tacken has a raspberry bush in his yard which is about 8 feet high and on which blossoms and fruit in various stages of ripeness were hanging yesterday.

The Coos Bay Creamery, has raised the price of Butter from 45 to 50 cents a square. Butter has advanced in San Francisco and the farmers are happy.

The Areata had not shown up last evening. If she doesn't get in today, you are liable not to get very much of a DAILY COAST MAIL tomorrow morning.

The South Marshfield boys have caught the fever, and they were organizing a football team last evening. The team will be called The Bluebills and the training quarters will be C. H. Merchant's barn.

The Bear-Marklevitch case is being threshed out before Referee Francis McCloud, in J.W. Bennett's office daily. The taking of testimony was commenced last week and the end is not yet in sight.

Coming This Way

(Portland Telegram)

A party of six Spokane men passed through Portland Friday night on the way to Coos Bay. These men are going to look after land and timber investments, opportunities for engaging in the mercantile business at Marshfield and Bangor, the new townsites of the Great Central Railway Company. A large number of Spokane people are becoming interested in the developing country adjacent to Coos Bay.

BRILLIANT WEDDING

IN THE PHILIPPINES

This office is in receipt of a copy of the Manila Cabilene of Oct. 9th.

It contains an elaborate account of the marriage of Daniel R. Williams, secretary of the civil Commission in the Philippines, and Miss Josephine M. Dow, a sister of F. F. Dow of this city.

The marriage ceremony was performed by The Right Reverend Bishop Brent, of the Episcopal church and the wedding was a brilliant society affair and was attended by Governor Taft and nearly all the palace officials.

Of the high contracting parties, the Cabilene has this to say:

Mr. Williams, the well-known secretary of the Civil Commission, came to the Philippines with the Commission in 1900, and has remained here since. Some time ago he was admitted to the practise of law before the Philippine Courts. He is recognized as one of the future men of affairs in the Philippines, where he has decided to cast his lot.

Mrs. Williams is a native of San Diego California, where, because of her beauty, intelligence, and charm of manner, she was extremely popular. She came to the Philippines in 1900 as one of the first eight teachers to engage in educational work here. She was highly recommended by the President of the University of California, of which institute she is a graduate. Lately she has been assistant principal of the Manila Normal School.
