Concerning Afternoon Teas

The afternoon tea is a favorite mode of entertaining. It is the best method of keeping in touch with one's friends, as well as to introduce a visiting friend to one's general acquaintances; and it is also the accepted fashion for the presentation of a daughter. A few special points in regard to this function are given in the March Delineator, touching upon the matter and form of invitations, the duties of hostess, assistants and guests, and minor matters.

BANDON TO HAVE ANOTHER MANUFACTURING BUSINESS

We are reliably informed that a new manufacturing industry is to take the place of the Bandon Woolen Mills, the same building to be utilized which the late mill occupied. The difference between the two being that the new one will employ double the number of people and the pay roll will be larger in proportion to the number of people employed. We are not at liberty to announce at present, the nature of this new industry, but are assured that it will be a great thing for Bandon. Bandon is blessed with business men who can see the necessity of a manufacturing business of some kind, and they are not slow to take time by the forelock. So the new business will be put in operation as soon as the old one is out.

Our reputation is behind every meal we serve, we are always anxious to provide you with the best at a reasonable cost.

Coast to the western slope of the Rocky Mountains is suffering from the coldest weather known in February for years. The snow storm which swept over the Rocky Mountain States has traveled east and south until it covers the whole region as far as New York on the east and the Gulf States on the south.

Beginning in Wyoming and Utah, where extreme cold and deep snow have caused great loss of livestock on the range, the storm extended gradually until Kansas is under a foot of snow and has temperature below zero. Oklahoma has had snow to take the place of rain, and Texas has snow a foot deep. In the far Northwest, near the boundary of North Dakota and Canada, Winton is the coldest place in the United States, with the temperature 42 deg below zero, and the thermometer registers from 20 to 30 below all through the Middle West.

The snow reached New York last night, when four inches had fallen, following close upon a sleet storm which had almost stopped traffic. The Weather Bureau predicts rain, snow and extreme cold for the whole Atlantic Coast. The same conditions prevail all along the lakes.

The South is just escaping from floods due to heavy rain, which extend from Louisville southeast to Georgia, only to fall into the grip of the bitterest storm of the winter. Trains and telegraph lines are deranged all through the West, and in many cities street-cars run only with great difficulty.
