There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

VERY LITTLE LOSS FROM BLIGHT IN LANE COUNTY

Inspector Stewart Returns from Tour of County

That only 17 pear trees and two or three apple trees in Lane county have been lost on account of fire blight this season was the statement of C. E. Stewart, county fruit inspector, yesterday. The inspector has been very busy during the past few weeks serving notices upon owners of infected trees to cut them down and burn them. He has several deputies at work and they are doing their best to prevent the spread of the disease, which is said to be the worst foe to fruit men.

"The actual loss from the blight in this country has been nothing," said the inspector. "We will be able to complete our present work within a week."

The inspector and his deputies have made a complete circuit of the county and have learned one thing about the blight that they did not know before. They have found that in the vicinity of low, swampy places, the blight flourishes, but in high, dry places, it has not gained a foothold. It has been found that the blight exists principally among the wild trees, such as crabapple and Hawthorne, which always grows in low places. Quince trees have also been attacked, but as this crop is not a valuable one the farmers are not complaining when they are directed to cut the trees down.

Inspector Stewart said that if the farmers and fruit growers make no bona fide effort to comply with the notices posted upon their lands to cut down all infected trees, the inspectors will do the work themselves and charge the expenses to the owners.

"This is a thing we cannot overlook, a thing we dare not overlook," said the inspector.

In the fruit districts of Eugene, Creswell, Alvadore and Lorane, Mr. Stewart and his deputies found conditions pretty good and very little disease among the trees, but on farms where the owners do not make a business of raising fruit the worst conditions were found. San Jose scale was found in large quantities and some blight was discovered in such orchards. In Eugene there were a large number of fruit trees that are
