Two is Company.

After saying his prayers at night the 7-year-old son of parents in Bryn Mawr announced that he was so tired of the kind of life he was compelled to lead that he believed there was nothing for it but for him to run away. The father considered the matter thoughtfully, and then said:

"George, if that is the way you feel, there is money in my purse here, you may take it all."

The boy backed up his grip, got to the front door, came back on the ground of having forgotten his toothbrush, and went downstairs again. The parents were much disturbed to know what he would do. He opened the front door, went out on the veranda, and all was silence. The father and mother looked at each other, but thought the course they had adopted the best, and hence did not make a move.

After 15 minutes of intense anxiety the door opened and a boy's voice called out: "Say, dad, if I'm going away alone I'd better take mother along, don't you think?"—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A Girl's Proposal.

"And I have tried to make it clear to you in every way I know. I've asked you to this house, times without number. I've played tennis with you, and walked and talked with you, and ridden your rounds with you in your bumpy old milk wagon. I've simply thrown myself at your head, day after day. But you—you wouldn't understand. You wouldn't look at me. Nor listen. You moomed about, and moped your ridiculous heart out. Because you thought I was such a blind, silly fool, I couldn't look past your poverty and your ill-luck, and see how splendid you really are. Because you thought I was such a stuck-up simpleton I'd not want to marry you, because you were a milkman, when I'd chase the cows for you, if you wanted me to."—Woman's Home Companion.

Safety First Selfishness.

"If your children are to be sure of escaping this particular germ," said the scientist, "you'll have to take them into the country."

"Won't you please keep that a secret for a few hours longer?"

"Why?"

"So that I can move out before the country people hear about it and refuse to take any children to board."—Washington Star.

For hot grease burns apply Hanford's Balsam lightly until the fire is extracted. Adv.

Deserving the Fair.

"Colonel," asked the beautiful wife, "when was the most trying moment of your life?"

"It was when I went to my wife's father for the purpose of asking him to let me have her. He was very deaf and I had to explain the matter before 20 clerks."—London Saturday Journal.

Feminine Perceptions.

"What shall I do at the meeting when I want to make a speech and some others try to head me off?"

"Why, get the chairman to recognize you."

"Oh, that is easy enough. I was introduced to her last week at Mrs. Pinkie's tea."—Baltimore American.

From One Who Knew.

Too Much to Ask.

A party of engineers were tracing a township line across some farm lands in Illinois. As chance would have it, the line passed directly through a large barn, having double doors on each side of it, and they found they could continue their measurements through the barn by opening the doors and thus avoiding the dreaded detour. The owner watched their progress with considerable interest, but made no comment until they had reached the farther side of the barn, when he asked:

"That a railroad ye-all surveyin' for?"

"Certainly," replied the chief, with a humorous twinkle in his eye.

The farmer meditated a bit as he closed the barn doors behind them, when he remarked somewhat aggressively:

"I hain't got no objections ter havin' er railroad on my farm, but I'll be darned ef I'm goin' ter git up at all hours of the night ter open and shet them doors ter yer train ter go through."—Youth's Companion.

The Softest Thing.

"Father," cried the little boy, putting his 50th question to his long-suffering father, who was trying desperately to slide into his afternoon nap.

"What is so soft that even a soft-boiled egg without the shell can break it?"

"Oh, run away for goodness sake," groaned poor father.

"Will you give it up?" pursued the youngster.

"With pleasure," sighed the father.

"Your morning fast!" triumphantly yelled the kiddie as he darted out of the room.—London Ideas.

Regularity Personified.

The doctor had listened to his patient's heart, taken his blood pressure, in short, made a thorough examination of his physical condition. Then he announced his verdict.

"What you want is to get more exercise, walk more regularly."

"Well, doctor, I don't see how I can do that," answered the man. "I'm a postman."—Chicago Herald.

An Abnormal Complexion.

On his crossed heart young Patrick had denied old Patrick's accusation of wrongdoing. Old Patrick was unconvinced.

"Don't I know ye?" he said. "Ye look innocent enough, ye young scallywag, but looks is deceivin'. Ye're that brazen that ye could stand there an' lie till ye was black in the face without ever changin' color!"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Phonetic Spelling.

Teacher—Tommy, can you spell fur?

Thomas—Yes sir, F-U-R.

Teacher—That's right. Now can you tell me whc: fur is?

Thomas—Yes, sir. Fur is an awful long way.—Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Naturally.

"Don't the poor fishermen ever lose money in this seine fishing?"

Gallant Address.

"I see where women have become conductors of street cars in Europe since the war. I wonder how the passengers address them?"

"Probably they call them fare ladies."—Baltimore American.

Why "Anuric" is an INSURANCE Against Sudden Death.

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; chancels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for sample package of his new discovery, "Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless it is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood-vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric" put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.
