THURSDAY, Sept. 18, - - - 1913

TO THE LADIES.

Dear Beloved:—The Spirit moveth us mightily to inquire if you are making due preparation to contribute your full portion to the success of the Morrow County Fair? Men may furnish the live stock, the horses, the pigs, chickens, etc., also the garden and "garden sass," all in the main, but when it comes to the finished product, that is where you shine and the cost of the "bull business," you know, depends upon you. So get busy and bring your canned and preserved fruits, jellies, cakes, pies, bread, cut flowers, needlework, paintings, and any other product of your handiwork that will swell the volume of the exhibits. Anything you have worth looking at is just what is wanted. N. B.—Don't forget the children.

Wasco county has just completed a $10,000 court house at The Dalles.

The 1913 lodge convention of the Knights of Pythias may be held in Portland if plans to be considered at the next session of the grand lodge of Oregon in Portland, October 14, develop satisfactorily.

G. W. Leffler, representative in congress from the 2nd Oregon district has returned to the republican party after a two years switch to the progressive. He says he will seek reelection from the republican party.

Some states are going into good times as an advertisement. This is very well, but it is better to go into them as an investment. It is not everybody that wants to sell out. Make a road to keep, not to sell, and you are more likely to make it right.

By an order from the State library every school district in the state will receive books. This order pertains to the use of school libraries exclusively. The order amounts to 30,481 books. They will include fiction, biographies, travels and all sorts of books of general interest.

Walter B. Manning, a fireman in Portland concocted a fake rescue story in order that he might gain promotion in his department. According to Manning, he rescued a man from drowning by diving from Broadway bridge, but in reality he was at the home of a woman friend of his helping her can reaches at the time he said he performed the rescue act.

The largest cargo of lumber ever shipped in the world was that of the Pacific Mail Steamship Alcoa which left Portland, September 7th. Mrs. Evimer, she having aboard more than 6,000,000 feet of lumber. The cargo is 1,000,000 feet in excess of any other leaving the Willamette or Columbia Rivers or any port on the Pacific Coast. The value of this cargo is estimated at approximately $100,000.

The proposition of building 125 miles of hard surfaced county roads at a total expense of $1,000,000 is being seriously considered in Walla Walla county. The idea of a hard surfaced highway from the Columbia river to Walla Walla, then via Prescott to the Flat, and from Prescott up the Touchet river to Waiilatup, is in itself a most attractive idea, though the cost seems almost prohibitive. It is figured by some residents of the territory that it would require an interest investment of four cents per acre per year, and as the road would not require the annual maintenance expense now devoted to roads, the tax distributed over a long period of years would not amount to very much while the saving in transportation charges for twenty years would be many times the original cost of the road.—Municipal News.

That the plain common potato can be turned into a money paying industry by manufacturing the surplus into alcohol, starch, glucose and condensed potato, is the announcement made by C. C. Moore, assistant chemist in the United States Bureau of Chemistry who was a visitor at the Portland Commercial Club last week. Mr. Moore is on a tour investigating the potato production of Oregon with a view of securing information as to what is being done with the surplus tuber. Approximately 600,000 tons of glucose is consumed in the United States a year and 10,000 tons or more is the demand of the Pacific Coast states. Practically there is no starch or glucose factory on the Coast. Mr. Moore explained, and the department is desirous of encouraging the industry. That this is a manufacturing enterprise of considerable dividend paying is plainly shown by Mr. Moore's figures, that between $500,000 to $750,000 is sent annually into the corn belt for this product.

With the opening of college in 10 days, a movement to raise $20,000 for a Y. M. C. A. building at the University of Oregon will be inaugurated among the college men. It is proposed to erect within two years a brick building on property already owned by the Y. M. C. A. for permanent headquarters. The Y. W. C. A., composed of college women, has just completed a $2500 bungalow for women's headquarters, which is completely paid for through the efforts of the co-eds.

When the flocks and herds of people come crowding into town to attend the Fair it will be necessary to have some regularly organized body to look after them. They will want to know where to go for entertainment or to find a suitable place in which to spread their tents and camp. It is too much to expect of the Committee on Arrangements to look after such details, and other provisions must be made. If no definite program has been outlined and this special phase of the service provided for, would it not be well for the business men of the town to take up the matter at once and see that suitable committees are appointed to take charge of it.

The city park board of Denver has established a "Neighborhood House" in connection with a suburban municipal playground where young lovers may till and soo to their heart's content, under municipal regulations. The house is known as the "Municipal Spoo. etc." a very appropriate title.

Have Had Prosperous Year

Last Sunday closed the first year's pastorate of Rev. H. A. Van Winkle with the Christian church at Heppner and he has been called to serve the church for another year. The year just closed has been a prosperous one for the church, 44 new members having been received into the fold, and all financial obligations have been met. The pastorate of Rev. Van Winkle has been very satisfactory and we are glad to announce his retention for another year. Arrangement have been completed for a revival to begin at this church on Dec. 9, with the two evangelists, Jesse Kellems and Harold Humbert in charge. These two young men are very successful in their work, and Heppner can look forward to one of the biggest revivals in its history under the leadership of these workers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson and Mrs. C. E. Woodson of Heppner, who had been attending the M. E. conference at Walla Walla, came down on the local passenger and left on No. 1 west bound for their home. Mr. Notson is the county school superintendent of Morrow county, and could not stop over for the Round-Up on account of so many of the public schools opening up.—Live Wire Pendleton.

H. V. Gates, president of Heppner Light and Water Co., has been in Heppner during the week looking after the affairs of the company in their reconstruction work. Two car loads of new machinery will arrive in a few days and the work of enlarging the power plant will be started at once. The lot just south of the present plant has been purchased and the new buildings will be constructed there.

Walter E. Donnelly, manager of the Morrow County Fair went down to Portland Saturday. He attended to some business pertaining to the fair and returned to this city Monday evening.
