CANVASSING COMMITTEE OF CANNERY ASSOCIATION DISTRICT THE TERRITORY

At a meeting of the canvassing committee of the cannery association on Wednesday evening the question of districting the territory was discussed and the committee was enlarged.

It was decided that the work of soliciting subscriptions to the capital stock would continue until the full $15,000 had been pledged, as it was thought to be the better policy to have a reserve if needed than to be pinched for money. By having the stock all subscribed the assessments would also be lower.

As no money will be asked for before September 1, it is felt that there will be enough subscriptions to make progress easy when work is actually begun.

The territory was laid off in districts. Nelson, Towle and Allen were given the Base Line road and everything north of it. Lehman, Sager and Gilbert were assigned to all the territory south of the Powell Valley road, west of Pleasant View avenue.

H. E. Davis will look after the prospects south of the Section Line between Pleasant View avenue and the Gresham schoolhouse.

Sterling and Thorpe will look after the district bounded by the Base Line, the Powell Valley road, Wallula avenue and the crossroad at Middleton's.

Todd and Miller were given the city of Gresham and everything eastward to the Troutdale road in Powell Valley.

President Davis will assign others to the field east of the Troutdale road and for that purpose will visit the grange at Orient tomorrow and confer with others in that district. He will also appoint a solicitor for the Boring territory.

H. J. Stocker volunteered to visit Eagle Creek and all the other places as far as Estacada and the country surrounding. A little later there will be a canvasser appointed for the Kelso district and the settlement east of Beaver Creek; also the Russellville neighborhood and down the Section Line and as far as Lents. No territory, district or neighborhood will be overlooked. It is intended to make the canvass as thorough as possible.

The varieties of berries best adapted for canning purposes was discussed and it was decided in favor of the following: Clark's seedling strawberry, Cuthbert red raspberry, Lawton blackberry, Loganberry and Evergreen blackberry. They come along in the order named and will provide crops from about June 1, until frost comes, about the first of October. Besides they are the best varieties for green shipments and for canning purposes. They all grow to perfection in this section of the country.

Subscription blanks may be had at the Outlook office by anyone who can do good missionary work for the cannery project.

There will also be one of the blanks ready to receive the signatures of those who are disposed to take stock; or if anyone cares to see one of the solicitors or wants information the Outlook force will be pleased to give assistance in any way. The people are invited to make its Outlook their clearing house or medium of assistance in any form, if possible.

There is a real determination to make the venture a success, and the cannery will be in operation next year. There is no doubt at all, now, and the more help the people give the sooner the work will be started. The more interest there is taken the easier it will be. There are enough people in Eastern Multnomah to build it without feeling the expense and they all need it. Those who have nothing to sell may get work and there will be more money in circulation when this section is sending away several hundred carloads of canned fruits and vegetables.

Speaking of vegetables, it serves as a reminder that there is a big demand for such goods. The cannery will handle such stuff as beans, peas, corn, pumpkins and several other kinds of vegetables.

Farmers who can raise such stuff in one season will not have to wait several years for a crop of fruit, although they may begin the cultivation of berries and set out orchards in anticipation. They will find a market right at home for all they can raise within proper bounds. That feature will be regulated as contracts are made at first but in a few years the demand will be unlimited.

One great and coming crop of the future is going to be the Evergreen blackberry. It is probably more prolific than the Loganberry. It is a better fruit for many purposes than any other. As a jelly producer it is unsurpassed; it grows and ripens after all other berries are gone; it hangs on until frost kills it; it's natural home is right here; all over Eastern Multnomah it will outclass any other berry in quantity and with cultivation that is easier than that required by any of the others it is going to be the coming great wealth producer and mortgage lifter that the potato crop was a few years ago.

The Evergreen blackberry is going to become the great standard fruit of Eastern Multnomah. Those who know it will agree with this statement. Those who don't know should investigate and they will be convinced.

TOWNSEND AGAIN PITCHING GOOD BALL

Tom Townsend, the star baseball pitcher of Eastern Multnomah, is in excellent form again and will pitch every game hereafter for the Gresham Athletics. He will have Will Hamlin for catcher, who is known as one of the best men behind the bat.

Their work last Sunday was an indication of what they can do when playing together. Tom's record at that time was 14 fanned out and no walks to first. There were no errors on the part of any of the Athletic players, the support being perfect. The score of 10 to 3 in favor of the Athletics against the Lang & Co. team, which is considered the fastest of the bush league, shows that there are some good players here and that the fans may hereafter expect good games.

Next Sunday's game will be with the Portland Maccabees on the home grounds. M. M. Squire and Harold Kern will be umpires.

MAIL SERVICE BY TROLLEY CAR

The postoffice department at Washington has notified Representative Lafferty and Hawley that an electric car service will be given the Pleasant Home postoffice direct from Portland and the other postoffices along the line of the Mount Hood railway. It is not known just how soon the service will begin.

At present the mail for Pleasant Home is being taken from Gresham in a locked pouch by the rural delivery carrier, and gets there no sooner than the patrons get their mail from the Gresham route. With direct car service the office at Pleasant Home will be served several hours sooner than at present.

With the early arrival of mail at Pleasant Home the matter of establishing a rural route from that place will be taken up. The route has been laid off and approved but its operation has been awaiting for the service which has just been promised by the department.

Don't Fail to Hear
Miss Edna Bertsch give Harold Bell Wright's "Shepherd of the Hills" at Grange hall, Orient, Oregon, Friday evening, May 29, at 8 o'clock sharp. Tickets 25 cents. For sale at the stores, A. B. Elliott & Co., Nelson & Johanson and W. E. Markell. 25

There will be Christian Science services in their hall in the I. O. O. F. building Sunday at 11 o'clock. Subject, Soul and Body. The public is cordially invited to attend the church services.

COUNTY FAIR SCORE CARD FOR THE GRANGE EXHIBITS AT THE APPROACHING FAIR

The following is taken from page 22 of the new Multnomah County Fair premium list. The Grange contest is probably one of the most interesting features of the fair as it appeals to more people than any other division. The division and sub-division of the score card will be more equitable than ever before, as will the appointment of five judges for this division. The announcement for best farm displays are also given:

Exhibit of farm and household products by membership of a Grange, or assembled by a Grange from their community. Exhibit to consist of not less than 100 articles, to be shown as a collection. Prizes, $250, $225, $200, $175, $150, $125. All others $100.

Vegetables	20	Points
Fruit	20	"
Grain and Grasses	20	"
Neatness and Arrangement	20	"
Fancy Work and Household Skill	20	"
Total	100	Points

The scoring for Fancy Work and Household skill has been divided into four divisions as follows:

Canned Fruit and Jellies	5	Points
Fancy Work and Embroidery	5	"
Sewing, Knitting, etc.	5	"
Cooking, Baking, Confectionery, Dairy	5	"
Total	20	Points

The Exhibits must score at least 85 per cent to be entitled to first prize; 80 per cent for second prize, and 75 per cent for third prize, and 70 per cent for fourth prize. All others must score 65 per cent. No quilts, comforts or paintings will be allowed.

There will be five judges and in case of ties the money will be divided equally.

Entry fee 10 per cent of first premium.

BEST FARM DISPLAY.

Vegetables	25	Points
Fruit	25	"
Grains and Grasses	20	"
Arrangement of Display	15	"
Other Products	15	"

Exhibit to win first prize must score 85 per cent, for second prize 80 per cent and for third prize 75 per cent.

Best farm display comprising all things grown or produced on a farm such as vegetables, fruits, grains, and grasses. Prizes, $75, $50. All others $30.

Entry fee of 10 per cent of first prize.

PREMIUM LIST JUST ISSUED

The first complete copy of the premium list for the 1914 Multnomah County Fair was turned out by the Outlook's job printing department yesterday afternoon, and by tomorrow there will be a thousand of them ready for distribution.

The book contains 96 pages, printed on light pink paper of a superior quality. It has a six-page cover, forming a flap that is to be used for address, thus avoiding the necessity for an envelop. Altogether it is complete and contains much valuable information concerning other fairs as well as our own. More than fifty business houses have announcements in it and there are several illustrations of scenes in the pavilion and dairy herds, champion horses and other features of a like nature.

As an instance of the ability of the Outlook office to do such work it may be stated that the first typesetting was begun on May 5th. In the nineteen days that elapsed before the first completed book was turned out the Outlook was issued regularly twice a week, the Multnomah Booster was turned out to 6000 Woodmen subscribers, and all the other commercial jobs that came along were printed as required. There was never any let-up during working hours and once again the Outlook's slogan "The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins" was justified. Excepting the large display lines the entire book was set by the linotype operator in less than one-fifth of the time that it could have been done by hand.

Next week the secretary of the fair association will begin the distribution of the book where it will do the most good. Those who want a copy should send name and address or call at the Outlook office for one. They are for free distribution and will all be distributed.

A REMINDER.

Our business is attending to your wants in the grocery line.

You have something to learn, if you have not yet found out that you can get from us high class goods at a price that is no more than you have been paying for the ordinary. We do not recommend that you buy anything from us that you can get cheaper elsewhere. Our argument is "buy where you can buy cheapest, providing you get the best." And we have it. Don't take our word for it; come and see. We know that your purchase will be repeated.

Tuesday evening the Junior class of Gresham high gave a star light picnic. With the use of Wm. Stanley's team and hayrack they took in Terry and Rockwood, where at the latter place they stopped to have lunch and play games. Everything a crowd of young people would care to eat on a picnic of this kind was taken along, consisting of weiner-wurst, buns, oranges, soda water, crackers, candy and plenty of marshmallows to be toasted over a fire which was built.

The crowd left Gresham about 9:30 and returned near midnight, all reporting the best time this season. Those who were invited from out of the junior class being especially well entertained. Those present were, Maude Michel, Besie Osburn, Eckford Cameron, Evelyn Metzger, Hester Thorpe, Viola Dinger, Gertrude Eastman, Gladys Michel, Laura Shipley, Pearl Ruegg, Margurite Burke, Eva Dodd, Mabel Shipley, Ray Frohman, Emerson Brown, Wilbur Stanley, Harry Stanley, Joe Choido and Ralph Stanley.

TARR'S AUCTION SALE WAS GREAT SUCCESS

O. W. Tarr's dispersal sale of high grade and registered dairy stock yesterday was a complete success, showing that such cows as he had up at auction are in demand. The highest price for registered cow was $255; the highest grade price received was $200.

Wm. Boshalm, of Sandy, bought five cows including the two highest priced ones. Other outside buyers were J. B. Hyde of Portland, J. C. Rasmussen and Ross Peterson of Fairview. Local buyers were Ellis Davidson, H. V. Whitney, John Gantenbein and C. G. Fancher.

The three horses were sold to Robert Kerslake, H. A. Poulson and A. H. Burns. The dairy machinery was also sold.

Mr. Tarr expressed himself as being well pleased with the result.

CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED IN PORTLAND BY NORWEGIAN CHURCH

PORTLAND, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—In honor of the centennial anniversary of the establishment of religious and civil liberty in Norway through the adoption of a constitution, May 17, 100 years ago, a celebration of that event was held Sunday, May 17, in the Norwegian church, East 10th and East Grant streets, together with the United Norwegian Lutheran church. At the morning services Rev. George Henriksen, pastor, delivered the address on the establishment of liberty in Norway through the adoption of a constitution. He pointed out that Norway took her place among the free nations of the world May 17, 1814, where every citizen was guaranteed religious liberty. While Norway has a king, he said, that king is elected by the people and his functions are the same as those of the president of the United States. Rev. Henriksen reviewed the events that led to the adoption of this constitution, and said that while Norwegians are loyal citizens of their adopted country in American they still retain the love and pride in their country, their fatherland, and rejoice in the progress it has made in free institutions.

At noon a dinner was served in the basement of the church to all in the congregation who remained, and many did. This meal was served by the Ladies' Aid society. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a joint celebration was held in which the Norwegian Lutheran church and the United Norwegian Lutheran church united in an appropriate celebration. Rev. G. A. Larson, assistant field secretary of the United Lutheran Norwegian church, and Rev. Mr. Henriksen, were the speakers. They told of the progress of Norway since it adopted its free constitution which guaranteed every citizen full liberty and protection, the same as the United States guaranteed every citizen. Norway and the United States were compared by the speakers as examples of progress and true civilization.

"The Norwegian people," said Rev. Henriksen, who have adopted the United States, are among the best and most loyal citizens. The percentage of crime and corruption among the Norwegians is less than found among any other citizens who have adopted the United States as their home."

The speakers also spoke of the movement to unite the Norwegian Lutheran church, of the Norwegian Synod, and the United Norwegian Lutheran church in one body, an event soon to be consummated.

The exercises of the day and especially at the afternoon meeting were enlivened by the Norwegian Singing society, which rendered Norwegian songs, the united choirs of all the church and the band of the Norwegian church. It was a general reunion of the Norwegian citizens of the city.

Rev. B. J. Hoadly, one of the founders of the Epworth League, which was organized at Cleveland, Ohio, 25 years ago, was the central figure at the services held last night at Centenary Methodist church, which was the conclusion of the 24th annual convention of the Portland District Epworth League. All the services of the day at Centenary partook of the nature of a celebration of the silver jubilee of the founding of the Epworth League. The greetings of the convention were conveyed to Dr. Hoadly, now a resident of University Park, and he was specially invited to attend the concluding services in the evening. Rev. L. F. Loveland, of the First church, delivered the main sermon. Dr. Hoadly gave a brief history of the origin of the Epworth League and its spread and influence among the young people of the Methodist church.

At the morning services in Centenary church Sunday the delegates to the convention attended and listened to an address by Rev. D. H. Trimble, the pastor, on the topic, "Pull for a Purposeful Life," which was appropriate to the occasion. At 3 p. m. Rev. J. W. McDougall conducted a consecration service at which the sacrament was conferred on the convention delegates. He was assisted in this service by other Methodist ministers.

An anniversary league devotional service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McDougall at 3 p. m. in honor of the 25th anniversary of the Epworth League. This was followed by the installation of the newly elected officers and cabinet for the ensuing year: president, J. W. Veters, Woodlawn; first vice-president, C. C. Calahan, First church; second vice-president, Miss Jennie Smith, Woodstock church; third vice-president, Miss Annie Worrell, Sunnyside church; fourth vice-president, Richard E. Randall, Centenary church; corresponding secretary, R. Speelman, Epworth League church; recording secretary, W. J. Chillson, Patton church; treasurer, W. C. Little, St. Johns church; Junior League superintendent, Miss Jessie M. Gasser. Dr. McDougall briefly spoke of the responsibilities each officer assumed. L. H. WELLS.

FOREST FIRES DOING DAMAGE

Several forest fires have been seen devouring the timber of elevated localities during the past two days. Fanned by the east wind they spread rapidly over a large area, but the damage done is unknown, as the scenes of devastation are too far away.

On Larch mountain, about twenty miles to the east the heavy clouds of smoke indicate that a large territory is on fire. Across the Columbia the fires seem to be heavier, than on this side of the river. At night a great district has been illuminated, making a beautiful reflection on the sky. A good shower would soon quench the fires and save great possible damage.

Death of Hugh Drake.

Hugh Drake died Wednesday, May 20, at the home of his sister Mrs. Geo. F. Honey where he had been cared for during a long and hopeless illness. Mr. Drake was a native of Ohio and 55 years old. He was the son of a Presbyterian minister. Three brothers and three sisters survive him.

Ed. Drake, of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Robinson of Portland, brother and sister of the deceased, came to attend the funeral which was held Thursday afternoon at the Honey home. Brief services were in charge of Rev. Melville T. Wire. R. R. Carlson conducted the funeral. The interment was in River View cemetery.

The Man of the Hour.

Commencing Sunday, May 24, the Rex players, under the management of Steve Barton will open an engagement at the Scenograph Theater, Gresham, appearing in the popular up to the minute plays, "The Man of the Hour," Sunday; "The Parish Priest," Monday and "The Third Degree," Tuesday.

This is the third time the Rex Players have visited this town, and each time they have a better show. The last time there were only seven in the company, this time there are ten. They have added two first-class comedians to the company to do specialty work. If you care to see a first-class, up-to-date entertainment, you should visit the Scenograph on one or all of these nights. Watch the hand bills for particulars.
