Undefeated Tigers run away from TigerScots

Stanfield stays unbeaten in early league play

By ERIC SINGER

ATHENA — With a deep bench that allows coach Jason Sperr to rotate players sometimes five at a time, the Stanfield boys basketball team has been able to stay fresh for the second half.

It's a strategy that's paid a lot of dividends already for the No. 4 Tigers, and led to another win Saturday on the road against Weston-McEwen when they pulled away in the second half for an 85-60 victory.

Stanfield senior Jose Garcia said he could notice a drop-off by the TigerScots in the second half.

"The first half (Weston-McEwen) was right there with us but the second half we took off because our legs weren't tired and we could tell they were," he said. "It was the same thing with the Hesperian game last week and a few before that, the first half they're with us and the second half we take off."

Senior Enoel Angel admits, however, that it took some time for the Tigers (12-1, 3-0 CBC) to come around to liking the mass substitutions.

"The five-in, five-out rotations we didn't really like it or trust it at first," he said. "But like (NBA player) Joel Embiid says, 'Gotta trust the process,' and we did."

Twelve players saw game action on Saturday night for Stanfield and nine players scored in the game, led by Dylan Grogan with 20, Garcia with 17, and Brody Woods with 16.

WESTON-MCEWEN 57, STANFIELD 32 — Weston-McEwen outscored Stanfield by 18 points in the first quarter Saturday on their way to victory in a Columbia River Conference game.

"I think the girls really wanted, almost like a do-over." Weston-McEwen coach Eric Jensen said after a loss the night before to Pilot Rock. "I think they just wanted to regroup, reset and just go and I could tell when I walked into the gym today there was just a different air. The girls played really well tonight doing things better on offense and defense that they're certainly capable of doing."

Junior point guard Chelsea Quaepts scored a game-high 25 points for Weston-McEwen (10-5, 2-1 CBC), with 19 of those points coming in the first quarter.

Stanfield (3-11, 1-3) was able to weather the storm a bit through the middle parts of the game, outscoring Weston-McEwen 22-18 over the second and third quarters. It left the TigerScots with a 45-27 lead and the Tigers holding momentum.

Stanfield's offense was led by Natalia Esquivel with 13 points and Kendra Hart had 11 points. Also reaching double-digits for Weston-McEwen was Katie Vescio with 12 points.

Stanfield will next host Pilot Rock on Friday.
