Read of His Own Death. Mr. Fred Hertz will make final proof on his homestead at The Dalles land office next month. Mr. Hertz about three years ago had an experience that not often happens. He read of his own death and was mourned by his friends as having crossed the dark river. The circumstances of his reported death were as follows: He had met with an accident in a saw mill and received injuries to his head which caused loss of memory, and he sometimes was unable o recognize acquaintances. Realizing that something was wrong with him, without saying anything to his friends Monday evening at Dr. and Mrs. Watt's he decided to go to Portland and conresidence. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Mrs. Allard read the essay.
