Death of Bernard Warren.

Bernard Warren, a pioneer of Hood River and one of our most estimable citizens, died at his home in Portland, December 15, 1903, aged 55 years. He had been in failing health for several years, and his death was not unexpected. Two years ago, on account of his poor health, he sold his fine fruit farm at Frankton and moved to town. In September last he moved to Portland to be near his only daughter, Mrs. D. P. Ramsey.

Bernard Warren was born in Northern Ireland in 1848. He spent most of his boyhood in Scotland, coming to the United States when 21 years of age. With several sisters and brothers he lived some years in Ohio. During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad he came West and settled in Southern California, where he lived nine years, and where he met and was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Lloyd, a native of Barrie, Canada, who survives him. In 1877 he came with his wife to Hood River and located at Frankton, where he resided until two years ago, where his children were born, and where he improved his land and made a delightful home as well as a productive farm. He is survived by a widow and two children—William Warren and Mrs. D. P. Ramsey—two children having died in infancy; two sisters living in Ohio and one sister in

MINNIE SCHUNGEL, Principal.

Ireland. Mr. Warren was a man of noble character, a kind husband and affectionate father. He was a consistent Christian and a member of the M. E. church.

Funeral will take place today (Thursday) from the M. E. church in Hood River, at 12:30 o'clock. Burial will be made in Irving cemetery at Frankton.

Mrs. Emma Frances Allison.

Mrs. Emma Frances Allison, who died in San Francisco, December 8, 1903, from the shock following an operation, was born in Bethel, Polk county, Or., January 15, 1859. She was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McQuire of this city. It is said to state that Mrs. Allison was the first child to be called away from a family of 11 children. Her father was the first death to enter this large family three years ago. Mrs. Allison leaves a husband, son, mother, three sisters and several brothers to mourn her sudden death. It was the first time so many of the children ever got together as they did on this sad occasion, there being only two of the children absent.

The family wish to extend thanks to the kind friends who helped them so much during their bereavement.

Unitarian Bazaar a Grand Success.

The annual bazaar of the Unitarian alliance, held last week in the K. of P. hall, was in every way a complete success. There was a fine display of fancy work and artistic Christmas gifts as well as a large number of useful garments. The home-made canes were much appreciated by the numerous visitors at the bazaar, and the popcorn booth was extensively patronized by the juveniles. The "Sunshiners" had a Christmas tree laden with holiday presents where their wares were handsomely displayed, but nothing could rival in attractiveness the sweet faces of these earnest young girls. The "country fair" was a jolly place, where E. A. Franz waited upon customers with cheerful alacrity, and now and then was seen in serious converse with some newcomer who stood in admiration before one of the handsomest exhibits of apples and apple packing ever seen in Hood River.

Meals were served on both days at noon and at night, and the great amount of work this entailed upon the alliance could never have been performed but for the volunteer help of their friends, and the ladies remember with gratitude how Mr. Dallas prepared the coffee for the first day. The booths were prettily decorated, and the hall with its patriotic colors, filled with a throng of cheerful people, was a goodly sight to see. A novel feature of the bazaar was the entertainment on each night. On the first evening some excellent classical music was given, and Miss Carter, late of Willamette University, recited. Miss Carter was enthusiastically received. Mr. Dunbar gave a solo and charmed, as he always does, everybody. Saturday afternoon, 10 babies were entered for the prizes offered to the two handsomest babies. All of the babies had special admirers, but there were only two perfectly satisfied mothers.

Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her." Guaranteed by Chas. N. Clarke, Druggist. Price 50c, and $1. Trial bottles free.

Ripe Strawberries in December.

Ripe strawberries in December! That's as good as California, isn't it? Go to the office of the Frather Investment company if you wish to see them. The berries came from the Seaman Cox place on the East Side, formerly the J. J. Turner ranch. They are not little scrawny make believe berries, but large and red. In packing they would go four to the row or 64 to the box.
