OFFICERS THWART I. W. W. JAIL BREAK

Marshal Carson and Deputy Frazier thwarted a jail break Friday night by Joseph Signaler and Frank Nevis, self confessed I. W. W., recently arrested for agitations at Cascade Locks, and held here to await action of the federal grand jury.

The officers, from recent remarks and actions of the "socialists," anticipated their action and were on the alert. Shortly before midnight the two officers, pretending that they were going to leave the vicinity of the jail building, stepped from the office to the street. Scarcely had they become silent when the door of the jail was tipped off and the men made a break. They were halted at the point of the officers' revolvers and fled back into the dark building. The men again advanced, one of them threatening with a long iron bar. A shot from Officer Frazier's revolver, which passed between the legs of one of the men, silenced them and they submitted.

Cell lock and the door of the jail had been broken by means of a bar the prisoners had pried from an old home-made cell in the city prison.

H. Peterson, who claims Pasco, Wn., as his home, a third I. W. W., recently arrested by local authorities, has been released for lack of evidence. The man, however, is still under surveillance.

The Hood River Defense Council has made a good beginning, at least on the claims of Nevis. He has been visited frequently by members of the Defense Council. At first defiant, he finally grew apologetic of his affiliations and Sunday he ended by recanting.

Nevis was presented with a purse made up by members of the Defense Council. He declares that he wants to work as other men, and the Defense Council members have found him a job.

Schradler, who still remains defiant, is held in jail. The federal grand jury, it is said, is investigating his recent activities.

MANY KNIGHTS VISIT THE LOCKS

Thirty-five members of Waucoma Lodge Knights of Pythias were guests last Thursday night at a patriotic fraternal meeting at Cascade Locks. The local Pythians conducted the initiation of 11 new members for the Locks lodge. The visiting Pythias were tendered a banquet.

Those making the trip to Cascade Locks were:

W. A. Lemberg, J. K. Carson, F. W. Blagdon, Dr. W. M. Post, Jno. Baker, J. R. Nickelson, C. E. Calkins, S. W. Heppner, Bert Stranahan, A. R. Cruikshank, Clifford Porter, Eldon Bradley, C. C. Coddford, S. M. Atkinson, C. F. Sumner, Arthur Howell, H. L. Fengel, W. B. North, H. O. Ferguson, J. G. Dixon, Jasper Wickham, A. C. Stevens, C. D. Haven, J. B. Hunt, T. F. Johnson, Herman Proggro, Fred Miller, Geo. H. Lyon, E. O. Olinger, Chas. Rathun, Judge Blowers, F. W. Chindland, John Hurley, J. H. Hazlett and William Munroe.

Forest Notes

Nearly 100,000 people visited the Eagle Creek camp and picnic grounds on the Oregon national forest in 1917.

The total amount of timber cut on the national forests in the fiscal year 1917 was 849,612,000 board feet, as against 714,565,000 board feet in 1916.

Studies at the Forest Products Laboratory, at Madison, Wis., have shown that Englemann spruce treated by the sulphite process gives a pulp that compares very favorably in color and strength with that of white spruce.

About 200 board feet of wood is used in the actual construction of the average airplane. To obtain this material it is ordinarily necessary to work over about 1,500 feet of select lumber, which often represents all that can be used of 15,000 board feet of standing timber.

According to one of the German forestry journals, the kaiser in 1908, killed 1,995 pieces of wild game, including 70 stags, elk and roebuck. At that time he had slaughtered a total of 41,730 pieces of game, more than 4,000 of which were stags, and was the leading exterminator of wild life in the world. As a slaughterer of men, women and children, since 1914, however, he has been the foremost exterminator of human life in all history.

Boy Scouts Active

The Boy Scouts began last week to raise a $15 assessment, known as the extension assessment, levied against all Boy Scout organizations for war work. The local boys, under the leadership of D. G. Cruikshank, scoutmaster, have participated successfully in all patriotic enterprises. The members of the organization sold a large percentage of the Liberty Bonds bought by Hood River citizens last fall. Fourteen Scouts won badges for the sale of bonds.

"Our troop will engage in the April Liberty Bond drive," says Mr. Cruikshank. "We expect then to make a better record than on any former occasion."

Frank Gets Fine Rabbits

Thirty-six dollars for three rabbits seems a lot of money, but it is all owing to the rabbits.

Sherman J. Frank, of the Avalon poultry farm, Monday received from the Gilmore, Calif., rabbitry, a trio of registered New Zealand Reds. When the cost of transportation was figured with the purchase price, Mr. Frank found that his rabbits had cost him $36.

The New Zealand rabbit, which matures more quickly than either the Belgian or the Flemish Giant, is coming to be a general favorite.

Howe Gets Sheik Badge

Henry L. Howe has just been presented by A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge of Oregon with a veteran Sheik badge. The Sheiks are to the A. O. U. W. lodge what the Shriner are to the Masonic Lodge. Sheik badges are awarded for special service. Mr. Howe has been a member of the fraternal organization for 27 years.

Worst Winter in Years

Snow, wind and extreme cold caused more colds this winter than in past years. Foley's Honey and Tar proved its worth in thousands of homes. Men, women and children checked colds and coughs and prevented serious consequences from exposure. It clears the passages, heals raw inflamed membranes, banishes irritation and tickling throat. Mrs. Edward Strey, R. 37, Clinton, O., says: "I think Foley's Honey and Tar the only medicine for coughs and colds and recommend it highly." Sold everywhere.

RED CROSS SPELLING BEE MARCH 16

Saturday evening, March 16, has been chosen by the Red Cross Chapter as the date for an old-fashioned spelling bee, to be given at the high school auditorium. An effort will be made to have all business places of the city close promptly at six o'clock on the evening of the entertainment, the proceeds of which will be used in the purchase of supplies for sewing and knitting classes of the Chapter.

The proposed spelling bee, tentative plans for which were announced several weeks ago, has created a greater interest, perhaps, than any form of entertainment ever suggested here. Preparations are already being made for large delegations from all valley communities. The Mount Hood Co. will operate special rail autos for the accommodation of residents along its line. It is expected that a number of the people of The Dalles will be present. Circuit Judge Wilson, of that city, has accepted an invitation to pronounce the words.

Spellers and spectators will assemble as soon as possible after six o'clock. All women are asked to prepare a basket supper for two. These baskets will be auctioned off. As soon as supper is over two captains will be elected, and when these have chosen their sides, Judge Wilson will call for order and the fun will begin. After the spelling bee is ended the floor will be cleared and an informal dance held.

NORTHWEST IS WELL ADVERTISED

The Northwest is being extensively advertised by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, the activities of which are financed by appropriations made last year by legislative bodies of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Handsome booklets, illustrative of golfing, fishing, mountaineering, motoring, yachting and general outing opportunities, have been made ready for a wide distribution.

A letter from Emery Olmstead, vice president of the Northwest National Bank in Portland, and one of the vice presidents of the organization, is in part as follows:

"At the present time Frank Branch Riley, attorney of Portland, with whom is associated Frank I. Jones, of Portland, a prominent business man, is now touring the east in the interests of the whole Pacific Northwest. Mr. Riley, in his lectures, illustrated by a wonderful set of views, is taking the Pacific Northwest to the east and is not only bringing forcibly, in his own inimitable manner, our attractions as a tourist section, to the attention of the highest type of citizens in the United States, but our wealth of natural resources in timber, in mines, in fish and in agriculture, and is particularly dwelling upon the fact that in this great Pacific Northwest we have all the materials for aeroplanes and for shipbuilding, and those other agencies we need for winning the war.

"The Pacific Northwest has been put on the map more thoroughly in this short time, especially amongst those who control passenger tourist traffic, than by all the efforts of the past and as completely as any other section."

It Pays to Advertise

The receipt of a postcard by the Northwestern Fruit Exchange from an "apple lover" who lives at "I Hashicho, Wakayama, Japan," is another reminder of the power of advertising. The Honorable S. Shimidzu had seen, so he writes, the Skookum advertising in Good Housekeeping Magazine, and "Please send me your cook book."

Now Wakayama is not one of the biggest cities of Japan, though it has its railroad, and all the ocean liners that sail up to the great port of Higo-Kobe pass close to Wakayama, which rests snugly on the coast line of Japan's largest island, Nippon, 50 miles from Kobe. Needless to say the cook book was sent to Mr. Shimidzu, and by this time it has no doubt passed the censor and safely arrived in the library at No. 1 Hashicho. Nor will the arrival be in vain. For Mr. Shimidzu, by the determined lines of his postcard, will insist on Skookum and will show their fine color at least to his friends.

As to advertising, there are not many people who know that Seattle engaged the first known Chinese advertising expert, and that Seattle has sent out publications in eight languages. Who of the general public knows that the messages of commercial America have been printed in Seattle in the characters of Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian. All these have appeared in Seattle's pages of commercial journalism. Advertising is the transportation that takes the manufacturer's message into the far corners.

More Cars Last Week

After a week of waiting Harry Farrell, superintendent of warehouses and storage plants of the Association, reported last week that the agency was being furnished with a portion of its needs for refrigerator cars. An average of five cars daily was furnished the Association.

"While we need a far greater number of cars," says Mr. Farrell, "we are loading all we get to full capacity, and are moving out our stocks as quickly as possible."

With cars loaded to capacity it will take more than 250 freezers to handle stocks of apples remaining in storage here.

Tractor Record is Made

A. V. Fraley, a rancher of the Du-fur district, according to a letter received last week from Mr. Fraley by J. W. Anderson, local dealer made a Sunday record Monday, when he drove his 12-20 Cleveland tractor, just bought from Mr. Anderson, from The Dalles to his home in eight hours. The distance was 27 miles.

"The roads were snowcovered and very muddy," Mr. Fraley wrote, "and I did not try to go fast, but took a steady gait; I used but one gallon of water on my trip."

When You Have a Cold

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five year old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

THE EDISON RECORD

His German supply of chemicals cut off, Mr. Edison bent his matchless mind to the problem of making all his own chemicals, so now everything in the make-up of this famous record comes from his own plant. We are his Hood River agents, carrying a fine line of his Machines and Records for your inspection. Come and see.

PEACH TREES NEED SPRAYING

By Leroy Childs.

There are two serious peach diseases present in the Hood River Valley. These are California peach blight and peach leaf curl. Many peach trees in this community are dead and dying due to the presence of these diseases, both of which are readily controlled. If sprays are applied at the proper time, the blight attacks all parts of the trees, causing cankers on the older wood and killing outright much of the younger fruiting wood. In the peach wood infested areas appear reddish brown and the bark is killed through to the wood. The disease also attacks fruit and leaf buds, preventing their development. The disease causes a white, waxy exudation from the fruit, often destroying its marketability.

The attack of the leaf curl disease is confined to the foliage. In severe cases the tree is entirely defoliated, resulting in severe injury to the tree's vigor. If this disease is permitted to progress unchecked during several seasons the trees become so weak that they fail to produce good fruit.

Both diseases are readily controlled. Use Bordeaux mixture 6-6-50, or the prepared Bordeaux "paste" 8-100 before the trees leave the dormant stage. This will have to be done at once or spraying will be useless. In case scale is present on the trees use lime-sulphur 1-1-9. To make the blight control entirely effective spray again after the petals fall with another sulphur 6-100 and again after the fruit is harvested with Bordeaux 6-6-50. This mixture is an active grower during wet weather, regardless of the season of the year, so that it is necessary to keep the trees fairly well coated during Fall and Spring. Do not use lime-sulphur on peach trees in foliage, as it will defoliate them.

GROWERS PROPOSE TRACTOR CLUBS

Cooperative community organizations of orchardists will probably be extended to cultivation of the coming season. Growers in several localities are now talking "tractor clubs." Labor is very scarce and owners of five and 10 acre tracts propose to organize cooperative companies for the purchase of tractors and plows.

The cooperative scheme has been successfully tried out in harvesting and packing of apples, and representative growers express the opinion that tractor clubs may be organized on as profitable a basis.

Washington Apples Reach Tampico
Dr. Jesse Edgington Monday received a letter from his daughter, Mrs. Alfred W. Beckley, whose husband is an oil and stock man at Tampico, Mex., stating that Yakima Winesap apples had just been placed on sale at Tampico. "We have to pay $5. gold, per box, however," says Mrs. Beckley in her letter, "although the fruit is not first class."

Fir Lumber Co. Ready
The Fir Lumber Co., the plant of which was recently constructed on the range of hills to the east of the valley, will begin operation this week. C. W. Bouck, superintendent of the company, owned by H. M. Sidney, states that he has been logging throughout the winter and that he will be able to produce 12,000 feet of lumber daily throughout the spring, summer and fall seasons.

Storm Damage Was Heavy
The damage of last week's snow storm to the Oregon-Washington Telephone Co. was greater than at first estimated. The repair of broken lines and poles, resulting from the burden of snow that weighted down the cables, has cost the corporation more than $500. The greatest loss was suffered when an electric power cable was borne down across a string of telephone wires, causing more than 50 West Side telephones to burn out.

T. & L. Co. Buys Federal
While in Portland at the Automobile show A. C. Loftis, of the Transfer & Livery Co., purchased a large, used Federal truck that was practically new. After having the machine overhauled it has been added to the transportation fleet of the T. & L. Co.
