FLAG DAY

Tuesday was Flag Day. The lack of flags shows how apathetic we are here in America.

We reprint a recent utterance of the late F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion.

"Flags are like people; they are full of personality, endowed with characteristics, traditions and faults."

"Our flag was born when the nation was an infant. The breeze that first rippled its starry folds brought whisperings of troubled events, violence and bloodshed."

"This flag that ripples in the wind today is worthy of our reverence, because we of this nation have striven and always must strive to keep our ideals lofty."

"Our flag was born when the nation was an infant. The breeze that first rippled its starry folds brought whisperings of troubled events, violence and bloodshed."

The actual construction of the Trunk Highway up through Hood River valley will be in progress within a few weeks.

Forty members of Industrial Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and Order of the Sheikhs, an advanced Workman organization, will spend Saturday here guests of Riverside Lodge of Workmen.

First work, according to plans, will be the 1.5 miles at the edge of the Oregon National Forest, in order to provide a way for transporting in material and equipment for the forestry service's work.

Hood River plans a quiet Fourth of July. Let each family or group of families have a little celebration.

In view of his draft record, we do not see how Americans can work up any keen enthusiasm over prospects of Jack Dempsey in his fight set to with the Frenchman.

Where will we meet you Saturday afternoon? At the Columbia Gorge Hotel.

YOUR VEGETABLE GARDEN

Hood River city dwellers who have planted vacant lot gardens and orchards who are tending truck plots will find a need for all the produce they can grow this season.

Take the best of care of your city garden. You may have a surplus over, and above the needs of your own family. If your product is worthy a place on the public market, we predict that you can sell it at a profit this season.

Admiral Sims apparently deserves the reputation that Secretary of the Navy Denby is administering. Even though Admiral Sims has told the truth, he has expressed himself in an altogether inappropriate fashion, time and place. He seems to us to be rather stubbornly assinine himself.

Get out Monday and give the school-board candidates your support. They must all be elected, but they will feel that you are with them in your support if you will visit the polls and show an interest in school affairs.

If you wish to see a sight comparable to a dream of paradise motor up to the Lost Lake region and glimpse those vast expanses of rhododendrons. The Lost Lake country is now beautiful on a prodigious scale.

Congratulations, Wasco county. You have won your road bond issue. Hood River and Wasco counties are keeping abreast in good roads progress.
