

Lake Keechelus—in the heart of the Cascades, Washington

Through the heart of the Cascades

RED CROWN GASOLINE

The Gasoline of Quality

ON the motor road from Seattle to Tacoma and the East, the motorist passes through many points of unusual scenic interest. Lake Keechelus is one of these. It is over six miles in length, having the appearance of a great river, and is situated at an elevation of 3,000 feet in the very heart of the Cascade range. Motorists will find this region a most enchanting country dotted with beautiful lakes and mountains and huge fir, spruce and cedar trees measuring in some instances six to eight feet in diameter. And all along the route the motorist can get Red Crown Gasoline—the all-refinery motor fuel that insures quick starting, rapid acceleration and more power. Look for the Red Crown sign.

LOST CHILDREN CAUSE EXCITEMENT

George, or "Mike" as he is better known to those of Cascade avenue residence section, 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Franz, produced several exciting hours Wednesday night of last week when he was reported missing and officers and citizens engaged in wide and diligent search for him. The child was finally located near the Columbia Gorge Hotel, a mile and a half from the city. Mr. Franz and his wife were in Portland for the day. Their small son has been left with a family several blocks away in the Heights section. About 5 o'clock "Mike" grew homesick, but on his arrival at the family residence and finding no one he disappeared. On his safe return to his mother he reported that he had started to Portland to find her. The little fellow, en route to Portland, had stopped to play in Phelps creek near the new hotel. He apparently had fallen in the stream. A family residing by the Highway found him about dark and provided dry clothing. He was a happy boy when he arrived home in a borrowed cap and coat, both near man's size and far too large. But his happiness was meagre as compared with that of his mother, who had just arrived home and heard of his disappearance. The night before, residents of the Heights section and police officers searched for two hours before locating the 2-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abbott, recent arrivals from Prineville. The kiddie had wandered to an opposite part of the city and was found calmly strolling a dark street.

CANNERY BERRIES IN VERY SMALL DEMAND

The remarkably high quality of the local strawberry crop has been a boon to growers this season, as the canning demand for cull fruit has been negligible. The Hood River Canning Co. is operating on a limited scale, employing only about 20 girls and women. The first lot of canning stock was shipped last week by the Apple Growers Association to Portland canners at a price of six cents per pound. The high quality of fruit has enabled growers to pack practically all of their harvest in commercial shipments. The cool weather prevailing over the mid-Columbia has been of great benefit to growers, as it prevents the softening of berries. Warm weather would have resulted in a high percentage of over-ripened and a glut of the limited cannery market.

North Bank Road Progress Steadily

Hard rock men and a steam shovel crew are making steady progress on the North Bank Highway between the recently constructed steel bridge over the White Salmon river, which divides Skamania and Klickitat counties, and the Washington landing of the Hood River-White Salmon ferry system. The link of the road proceeds at the foot of the Columbia canyon parallel to the S. P. & N. P. railway line. The construction work is difficult, corresponding to much of the Columbia River Highway in this county. Blasts fired by the road crews in removing rock points remind oldtime residents of the heavy cannoning character of the construction of the North Bank line.

No Box Shortage Here

While some Northwestern fruit districts are alarmed over a box shortage, Hood River growers, according to shippers, are well taken care of. The Apple Growers Association announces that it has already received nearly sufficient shooks to care for its affiliated members. Warehouses are loaded with boxes and growers are being urged to remove them to their ranches. Forwarded growers have already begun the manufacture of their boxes for the fall harvest.

THE WEARY WAY

Daily Becoming Less Wearisome to Many in Hood River

With a back that aches all day, with rest disturbed at night, with annoying urinary disorders, "This is a weary way, indeed," says Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney trouble. Ask your neighbor. Are endorsed by Hood River citizens. Mrs. W. C. Wheeler, 1216 Eugene St., Hood River, says: "I am glad to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills. I know one can depend on them. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache. If I overworked or took cold, I felt dull and languid and had no energy. My work was often neglected. Dizzy nervous headaches were frequent and my kidneys did not act right. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They soon gave me relief from these ailments and benefited me in every way." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wheeler had. EVERYBODY SEES A CHANGE IN FATHER

Grateful Son Says His Father Looks Like Different Man Since Taking Taniae

"My father has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars for medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well known Cobb county farmer, living a short distance out of Atlanta, Ga. "We tried nearly everything to cure him and he went off to the Springs, thinking maybe the water might help him, but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting and lived on liquid food until he almost starved, but even that failed to do him any good and he just kept going from bad to worse. "I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his, and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic he was one of them and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Taniae. "The first we heard of this medicine was when my father saw an advertisement in the paper from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his, and he knew what they said about it was the truth so he got it right away and began taking it. Well, sir, it acted like magic—everybody notices the change in father. Why, he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farm hand. Only yesterday he ate pork and turnips for his dinner and ate so much we were actually afraid he was going to overdo the thing, but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time. "Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think people ought to know about it and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Taniae for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."—Adv.
