

Lake County Examiner

LAKEVIEW, OREGON, SEPT. 27, 1900

NOTES TAKEN ALONG THE LINE.

Canvas and leather leggings, in all lengths and sizes, at The Monogram.

Bernard & Son have some facts in this issue that we invite Examiner readers to consider.

Whorton & Fitzpatrick have received a handsome new bar and back-bar from San Francisco.

W. A. Sherlock this week moved into the residence he recently purchased from A. McCallen.

The big windmill is being placed on the tower, 50 feet high, at Bernard's this week. This mill is to be utilized for power for grinding grain.

George Lynch and wife came in from Crooked Creek last Saturday, and Mrs. Lynch remained here to procure medical attendance for their youngest child, who is ill.

Frank P. Lane and wife and Mrs. E. A. Miller and little Vinton Miller returned to Lakeview last Tuesday, the two former from Portland and the latter from Albany.

A trade, not yet consummated, is on between Will T. Boyd and D. R. Jones for the former's residence property on Water street, just south of C. U. Snider's store. The price is $900.

The coal strikers in Pennsylvania are already sorry, after a week of the strike, and are anxious to go back to work. The sentiment of resuming work is confined to the English-speaking workmen.

There is a thing in the rumor that Richard Kingsley died suddenly last Saturday evening, on the West Side. Dick was in town yesterday and says the report of his death was very much exaggerated.

George Jammerthal has opened out in his new Retreat and is fixed up elegantly. He has one of the neatest saloons in Southeastern Oregon. He invites his friends to call and see him in his new quarters.

It is reported that Prof. Wood, the blind musician, who recently gave a concert in Lakeview, died a short time ago in Fresno, Cal., of heart disease. Prof. Wood was the oldest continual traveling musician on the Pacific Coast.

John Venator expects to leave this week for Harney county. After a brief stay there he will go on to Ann Arbor, Michigan, to enter the law school for another year's course. After graduating he intends to locate some place in the East.

John Briles was up from Davis Creek last Tuesday with another load of those fine pears. Mr. Briles reports a serious epidemic of scarlet fever at Davis Creek. It is understood that the houses, where in the disease prevails, have been put under strict quarantine by the health officer of Modoc county.

F. E. Russill and Miss Anna Kingsley were married in Lakeview last Saturday evening, Sept. 20th, Rev. Holloman of the Baptist Church, officiating. The groom is the rustling young mill man from Cottonwood, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kingsley of the West Side. The Examiner extends best wishes to the young couple for a happy wedded life.

School books and school supplies at The Monogram.

Frank Houston and family started for their Warner valley ranch yesterday.

Charlie Lohrengel was in from Warner Monday. Charlie has turned pop—"I don't think."

Charles A. Bunting, the Klamath county cattle man, was in town this week on business.

Mrs. Mary Brown, who recently started a boarding-house in the Boyd residence, has given up the business.

The many friends of Mrs. W. S. Morley will be pleased to learn that she and her little son are both on the road to recovery.

Jack Partin, the wide-awake cattle man from Summer Lake, was here this week on business. Mr. Partin has sold his beef at a good figure.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Downs and daughter, Miss Annie, started for Ashland last Monday. Mr. Downs also took Mrs. J. W. Warfield and son to the railroad.

George H. Penland arrived from Cedarville last Monday evening to attend the funeral of his son-in-law, W. S. Morley. Mr. Penland has been in poor health for several months.

J. W. Loftus was in from Crane Lake yesterday. He and his brother, Columbus, will start for Red Bluff in about ten days with another band of horses to be sold at that market.

George H. Bogue was down from Paisley last Monday, having recently returned from Ashland. Mr. Bogue has purchased Green Hampton's beef cattle, and will mix them with his own beef, and drive to Altamont where he will deliver the stock to an Ashland butcher, who has already bargained for them. No prices given.

Frank Bunting has become owner of the building and lot known as the Methodist parsonage. Upon being vacated by Rev. Warfield and family, Mr. Bunting rented the place to Frank D. Smith, who will soon take possession. Sheriff H. R. Dunlap and family will soon occupy the house known as the Ross residence, which Mr. Dunlap recently purchased, and which Mr. Smith will vacate.

Charlie Graves, proprietor of the Red Shoe Store, has moved into his new quarters in the Jammerthal building, and is putting in a fine stock of all kinds of foot wear, from the rugged mountain boot to the fancy dress shoe for gents. Graves also has a shoe that he guarantees to be absolutely water proof. He is branching out from a little cobbler shop to a fine boot and shoe establishment. Graves' is the only exclusive shoe house in Lake county and he is doing a lucrative business.

William Linville, who engaged in a duel with Dr. Gibson on the streets of Alturas one day last week, received four buckshot in his body, one of which entered his side. The New Era says that at one time it was thought Linville's wound might prove fatal, but the injured man is now improving, and it is thought he will soon be able to be around again, provided nothing unforeseen takes place. Warrants, charging both men with attempt to commit murder, were issued, but the one calling for Linville's arrest was not served, pending a change in his condition. Gibson was released on $1,000 bonds. It is understood that ninety witnesses will be subpoenaed in the examination of Gibson.

Ladies' gloves and shoes at The Monogram.

The American Government's reply to Germany's note to "make the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders a condition precedent to negotiations with China," is a polite, but firm declination to accede to any such proposal.

M. T. Walters and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Walters returned from California last week. Mr. Walters sold his young racer, Della Connor, to a racing stable at Sacramento. Della would work as fast as a "crackjack," but when she got in a bunch, sent from the post, she wouldn't show her metal. Joe Walters brought back with him a very fine Irish setter.

William McCormack and son, W. K., were here from Paisley yesterday. They inform The Examiner that the Che-waucan town is improving wonderfully. Work on V. Conn's new residence is progressing rapidly, and the W. O. W. hall, 26x40, two-story, was started Monday. The lodge hall will be up-stairs and the first floor will be arranged for a store.

At New Pine Creek.

The New Pine Creek amateurs will reproduce the drama, "Above the Clouds" at New Pine Creek to-morrow (Friday) evening. They will come to Lakeview to play Saturday evening. The proceeds of the performance here will go to the M. E. Church of Lakeview. The kindness of our friends from the south should be appreciated by the people of Lakeview generally, and their efforts to assist the local church ought to be an incentive to give them a hearty welcome. The Examiner hopes to see the opera house crowded Saturday evening.

Teachers' Institute.

The County Teachers' Institute of Lake county will convene in Lakeview, beginning October 17th, and continuing three days. State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman has been written to and may be in attendance. The Examiner job department will print the program for the Institute next week. There are quite a number of new teachers in Lake county at present, and they will all attend the Institute. It should be a lively and interesting convention this year.

Magic Lantern Entertainment.

There will be a Magic Lantern Entertainment at the Opera House Friday evening, September 28th, and a free dance after the entertainment. Everybody invited, and we guarantee you a good time. L. S. McNEILL.

Reserve Your Seats.

Reserved seat and general admission tickets for the drama, "Above the Clouds", are on sale at the store of Geo. H. Ayres & Co. Go there and reserve your seats early, and avoid the "line up rush." Everybody should attend this splendid performance.
