

BIG CROWDS WERE ATTRACTED BY GREAT NORTHERN EXHIBIT CAR

One of the Causes of the Present Rush of Home-seekers to Oregon, Which Far Surpasses All Previous Records

"The way to get people into the Northwest is to take the Northwest to them." This is what President Hill of the Great Northern has done for Oregon by completely equipping a car with Oregon products and sending it on a 7,000 mile tour through the western states with traveling representatives in charge who are well versed on western conditions. The interest this car has created everywhere on its tour through Michigan, eastern Ohio and southern Indiana good working field and the interested class seemed to be listed among the best people.

New Albany, Ind.—Nothing so far equals the attendance to the Oregon car such as we had at New Albany. Starting early in the morning we had a steady crowd of visitors for the two days. On the evening of the second day we passed through the car not less than 1,500 people between 7:00 and 9:00 p. m. It was necessary to do this, as we left at 9:30 p. m. I would has been nothing short of wonderful. Oregon is bound to gain from this practical publicity, and the value of it can only be reckoned when the colonial period is over and some idea can be had of the number of new settlers brought into the State.

The following reports of the Traveling Immigration Agents in charge of Oregon's Exhibition Car were furnished by E. C. Leedy, General Immigration Agent of the Great Northern Ry., Greenwood, Ind.—Fifteen hundred visitors, a great many of whom were farmers. A large per cent of interest was for homesteads in Oregon. The hall where the stereopticon lecture was held in the evening was crowded, and some were turned away. The apple display in the car is drawing many favorable comments.

Jeffersonville, Ind.— Tremendous crowd. At least 5,000 people visited the car. The crowd kept up all day long and the lecture hall was crowded in the evening. We estimated the attendance at about 1,400. The interest seems to be mostly in farm lands with a little for fruit culture. This is a estimate the attendance during both days at no less than 9,000 people.

Franklin, Ind.—Enthusiasm and interest shown here set a new mark for the Oregon Car. We had fully 4,000 visitors and the hall in the evening was filled to overflowing. I have never experienced quite such an enthusiastic audience as we encountered at our lecture. After the lecture we were kept busy for some time giving personal interviews. We also opened the car and allowed the people to look the exhibits over until about 11:00 p. m. We secured the names of a large number of prospective homesteaders and tourists for Oregon.

Ansonia, Ohio.—Attendance about 600. At the stereopticon lecture in the evening every seat in the hall was taken. It was a roasting and especially interested crowd and the attendance was large considering the size of the town. Several came to me after the lecture in the evening and stated that they were going west this spring or summer.

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE AT O.A.C.

Farm Accounting and Business Methods for Farmers

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, March 21—The principle of making the college of direct, practical service to every tax payer of the state of Oregon, of carrying its assistance and instruction out to those who are unable to attend the courses at Corvallis, is demonstrated in a striking manner by the Oregon Agricultural College in its new correspondence course in farm accounting and business methods, given by the school of commerce under Dean J. A. Bexwell.

One advantage to the farmers, in addition to the fact that it is free to all, is that it can be taken up at any time, and carried on at the convenience of the student, without restriction as to the number of months it covers. There are already fifty students enrolled in the work, and it has so attracted the attention of the publishers of the bulletin of lesson instructions that they have evolved a plan by which Dean Bexwell's course can be offered by all the different agricultural colleges throughout the country, adapted to each locality and its particular needs.

As fast as the fund and instructional force at the college will allow, other courses will be added to the correspondence work for farmers, including a study of rural law, and agricultural economics. Unfortunately the legislature did not allow the appropriation requested for this work, so it can not at this time receive the attention and development planned for it. It is the policy of the college, however, to extend these advantages to the people of the rural communities of the state as fast as resources will permit.

The Spring of '79 and '80

Dan Chandler, in speaking of the very pleasant weather we are now having, stated to an Examiner representative that it reminded him of the winter of '79 and '80, although he hoped it would not turn out as that long to be remembered spring did. The weather during March was almost identical with the present, but April a storm started and continued for three weeks, the weather being cold and much snow falling. As a consequence the loss of stock was very heavy, and the hills about town where the stock had been driven to browse were covered with dead horses, cattle and sheep. Out in the valley the snow seems to be melting very slowly, as none of the creeks show any appreciable increase in flow. Here in town, however, most of the streets are dry and in some instances dusty.

A Great Record

Figures compiled by the railroads show that during 1910 not a single passenger was killed on the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific or Southern Railway lines in Mexico, a total of 17,800 miles.

During that period there was carried on these lines an aggregate of 49,491,000 passengers, or, in other words, 3,000,000,000 passengers were carried one mile.

This is the result of the electric block signals and other safety devices, and is believed to have no parallel in the railroad world.

Primi Facie Evidence

Klamath Herald: A man working for the Southern Pacific at Klamath Falls has complained to the Post Office Department about the loss of a "mince pie" from a package mailed in London, England.

The clerks in the Klamath Falls Postoffice maintain that the Postmaster has been sick for a long time which is prima facie evidence of what became of the pie.

Her Set

It is related of the Rev. Matthew Clark that in the audience was once a young British military officer whose scarlet uniform far outshone any rival habiliments and so fixed the gaze of the young damsels present that the wearer, enjoying the impression he was making, not only stood through the prayer with the rest, but remained standing after all others had sat down until the pastor had proceeded for some time with his sermon, and at length, noticing a divided attention and its cause, the minister stopped, laid aside his sermon and, addressing his new hearer, said:

"Ye're a braw (brave) lad. Ye ha'e a braw suit of clothes, and we ha'e a' seen them. Ye may sit down."

RICH QUARTZ FIND MADE NEAR DOYLE

Big Rush From Reno to Scene of Latest Strike

The Reno papers have been excited greatly over a reported rich strike at Fort Sage mountain some 40 miles north of that town. From what can be learned, it is fairly evident that the find is not a phenomenal nugget bearer, as was first wildly reported, but is a large free milling ledge which runs freely.

The first man in Reno from the scene were Reas Davis, of San Francisco, and N. K. Fitzpatrick of Fallon, both real estate men. They spent six or seven hours on the ground, were shown the location by the original discoverer and also located sixteen claims, as well as took a township of 360 acres.

Some samples were brought to Reno by them, but none of it was shown. They said they simply brought enough for a test and it was given to a local assayer this morning.

Mr. Davis said to a Gazette representative Tuesday morning:

"The new find is about sixteen miles from Doyle by road, but only five miles in an air line. It is in a gulch in the foothills on the east side of the Sage mountain. There is very little snow at the scene of the strike, but the mountains are deeply covered.

"When we reached camp there were only six or seven men there, but before we left there were about seventy and we met sixteen on our way out. Some of the newcomers brought tents and a little camp quickly sprang up. It is an ideal place for a camp, as there is plenty of water, while there is considerable growth of cedar and juniper.

"The ledge is from fifteen to eighteen feet in width and crosses the gulch. It has a dip of about forty-five degrees. The ore is brown porphyritic quartz, heavy with iron and has a porphyry hanging wall and granite footwall.

"I would not call it high grade, but I think it is a fine milling proposition. Occasionally a piece of quartz can be broken off that shows free gold, while I am informed that panning can be obtained clear across the ledge. The metals are in proportion of fifteen parts gold to one in silver in value.

"Although I do not vouch for their accuracy, I saw assays as high as $100. As to the $6000 nugget, I would not say that it does not exist, but I did not see it, nor see any one who saw it.

"There is still too much snow to prospect any distance from the original strike, but cowboys in the vicinity say that there are other ledges of similar character in the district.

"The camp seems to be well within the confines of Nevada.

"If the assays we get this afternoon justify our returning, we will hurry back to the camp and take a civil engineer with us to survey the townsite. It will probably be called Wallace. I understand that Ole Elliott has also gone into the townsite business.

"Since returning to Reno last evening, I heard that a number of people are coming to the strike from Sacramento and San Francisco. No work has yet been done on the find except for trenching."

Helped The Thief

"A simple, honest Scotch farmer had taken a sack of meal to dispose of in Aberdeen castle market," says Mrs. Mayo in her "Recollections of Fifty Years." "It was in the days when people were hanged for any petty theft, and an execution was in progress, the culprit being a sheep stealer. The worthy countryman stood against when a stranger bustled up with the question:

"What's a do?"

"A haunch," said the other, awed, "for stealing a sheep."

"Th, what won't folks risk for gear?" cried the stranger. "Will ye just give me a hand up with this sack?"

"The farmer promptly complied. It was only afterward that he discovered he had helped a thief to make off with the sack of meal he had brought to sell."

RED FLAG SIGN OF BROTHERHOOD, SAYS MAYOR GAYNOR

New York: In a message to the board of aldermen yesterday Mayor Gaynor delivered himself of some thoughts regarding police interference with Socialist propaganda, and the arrest of strikers. Said Gaynor in part:

"I have particularly made the police authorities understand that those who entertain views of government, or of an economic or social order different from ours, are not to be interfered with, or denied the right of freedom of speech and of assembly on that account.

"Intellectual Propaganda

"A propaganda by intellectual persuasion and peaceable means for change in form of government or in the economic or social order is lawful and not to be meddled with, much less oppressed, by the police. The Socialists do not believe in individualism but in collectivism. In place of having the present condition of individual ownership of property, they would mass all land and chief products and the principle means, tools, and machinery of production under the control and operation of the state, in order, as they claim, to bring about distributive justice, namely, a just division of the total product of industry among all those who contributed to produce it by their physical or mental work, after first providing for the non-productive aged and infirm. That it clearly appears to the rest of us that this scheme would be doing away with incentives to individual exertion, greatly reduce production, and thereby increase poverty and distress, is no reason for denying to those who advocate it, rights secured to every one by our system of government. And that their flag is red instead of blue or yellow or green does not annoy or alarm intelligent people.

Flag of Brotherhood

"They chose the color of red for their emblem, not to signify that they favor violence or the shedding of blood, as the unintelligent suppose, and as actions of those in official authority often made people to believe, but for the purpose of typifying the common brotherhood of all men of all nations through the same red blood which flows through the veins of all, and to the end that all war and violence shall cease. Let the fundamental rights of all on which free government rests be decided to no one. Those who want to work changes peacefully through the ballot box have the right to try to do so they may let light in on them. As John Stuart Mill says, that which seems the height of adroitness to one generation often becomes the height of wisdom to the next."

Is Probably Mistaken

Bidwell Nugget: J. O. Kufader has again startled his many friends with a new invention in the form of a self operating pump. Many were the expressions of disbelief among the wisecracks when he announced his intention of perfecting a motor that would not only furnish its own power but throw off a surplus for other uses. He has made his word good and the machine is a marvel of workmanship as well as being perfect in operation. He has a working model complete and has patterns perfected ready to send to the foundry.

A Light on Mothers

The late William James, Harvard's famous psychologist, would often illuminate a misty subject with an appropriate anecdote. Discussing motherhood in a lecture on psychology, Professor James once said:

"A teacher asked a boy this question in fractions:

"Suppose that your mother baked an apple pie and there were seven of you—the parents and five children. What part of the pie would you get for your portion?"

"A sixth, ma'am," the boy answered.

"But there are seven of you," said the teacher. "Don't you know anything about fractions?"

"Yes, ma'am," said the boy. "I know all about fractions, but I know all about mother too. Mother'd say she didn't want no pie."

A FIERCE NIGHT ALARM

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., R. R. No. 2, for their four children were greatly subject to croup. Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you.
